

M'NAMARA OF BOSTON IS HERE

Joe McNamara, formerly of this city, but now of Boston, arrived here yesterday on a short visit and is being welcomed back by his very many friends. Joe was some years ago the pride of St. John as a sprinter, and although older and stouter than he was in former years he still retains that healthy and active appearance which shows that his athletic training and excellent care that he has taken of himself has amounted to much.

Mr. McNamara is still in the game, not as a sprinter, but as an instructor and is rated among the best in the States. He says that the chief topic in the athletic line now at the Hub is the coming world's series which will be played between the Boston Americans and the New York Giants of the National League. Men, women and children in Boston, he said, are looking eagerly forward to the coming games, and there is hardly a person in Boston who won't back the Red Sox for every nickel. He says that Boston has a wonderful team this season and he predicts that they will not have great difficulty in winning the world's championship.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER WAS ST. JOHN MAN

Corpse Picked Out of Water at Mitchell Boom Has Been Identified as That of Peter Connacher.

Fredericton, Sept. 13.—The mystery surrounding the identity of the body of the man found in the water among the logs at the Mitchell boom was solved late this afternoon when Mrs. L. E. Carnell, formerly of St. John, identified the remains as her father, Peter Connacher, of St. John.

The body had been interred as unidentified, and was exhumed this afternoon when Mrs. Carnell identified it as Connacher, by marks on the body. The remains will be taken to St. John tomorrow for interment.

The deceased was a widower, 61 years of age.

MONCTON'S OLDEST RESIDENT DEAD.

Special to The Standard, Moncton, Sept. 13.—Catherine, relict of the late George Steeves, of Hillsboro, died here this afternoon, aged 94. She was the oldest resident of Moncton. Her husband died some 25 years ago.

D. H. Waterbury was in Fredericton yesterday.

Active preparations are being made at Black's alleys, and these will open in a few days. It will be but a short time when the different leagues will be started, and the bowling competition this season promises to be even more keen than last season.

After a few summers' rest the bowling season has again started and the welcome sound of the pin falls is being heard. The Victoria alleys opened again last night and the bowlers turned out in force for the opening.

WINTER REVIEWS SEASON

The Marathon baseball team will be disbanded after this afternoon's game with the Lynns, and when they next appear on the diamond it will be as probable winners of the N. B. and Maine League of 1913. There have been mistakes this year and lessons to be learned for next year, but on the whole the season has been a good one. George Winter, captain of the Lynns, will leave for his home in Burlington, Vt., possibly to night and will have a good rest during the winter. Next year he will probably emerge as coach for one of the American colleges, probably either the University of Vermont or Amherst College. He has not decided whether he will again wear a uniform in the New Brunswick and Maine league or not, although he may be this way after the college season closes.

Speaking last evening of the season just closing, he said, "It has been a good season and the teams have played good ball. Without wishing to detract in the least from the credit of any of the other teams in the league I will say that I believe if the Lynns had played as good ball at the first of the season as they did at the last of it the championship would have come this way. At the present day we have the fastest team in the league, and if at any time during the season we had managed to get to the 500 mark there would have been no stopping it. It was, however, a mistake to bring a team of schoolboys here at the first of the season, and that is the cause of our defeat. The result is also unfortunate that we did not have another good pitcher for the games in Old Home Week. That was a hard week for our team, the most important of the season, and before it was over, our pitching staff was about shot. A pitcher for instance, at a bad time, just when we needed him most, and his departure meant a lot to us."

"There is just one way to have a winning ball team, and that is to have men playing in their own positions all the time. A pitcher for instance cannot do himself justice in the box when he plays in the outfield when not pitching. It was, however, a mistake to bring a team of schoolboys here at the first of the season, and that is the cause of our defeat. The result is also unfortunate that we did not have another good pitcher for the games in Old Home Week. That was a hard week for our team, the most important of the season, and before it was over, our pitching staff was about shot. A pitcher for instance, at a bad time, just when we needed him most, and his departure meant a lot to us."

"I like St. John. It is a corking good ball town, and we have been well treated. Next year the ball should be even faster, and I look to see the Lynns in with a winning team."

Community Worker Coming.

John Bradford will address a meeting for men and women under Y. M. C. auspices in the Congregational church on Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, subject, The Responsibility of the Community Towards Its Coming Citizens.

Mr. Bradford has been doing community work in Amherst for the past year with excellent results as shown by the fact that last summer 35 cases were tried before the juvenile court in one month, while this summer there were no such cases. Community work means a progressive line of action in church and school work such as the formation of Bible classes and other live church work including gymnasiums and addresses to the Sunday school teachers. In the schools medical inspection, parent-teacher associations organized and school nurse employed for the younger grades. In the community Mr. Bradford advocates a thorough study of the recreation situation, public addresses on social and community questions and in fact everything that tends to advance the younger generation.

WEDDINGS

Earle-London.

At the home of the groom's cousin, O. E. Hanselacker, 19 Main street, at eight o'clock last evening, Miss May London, of Moncton, N.
