Letter from Rev. J. Salmon, M. D., Chairman, Queen's County, N. B.

Among the noteworthy articles contained in the last weekly numbers of The Living Age are the following:

A Fight between the English and the Ashantees.

Intelligence has been received of another movement by the English forces against the Ashantees on the Goceboe plain, and the Ashantees fled to the bush, from which they kept a fire on Colonel Festing's men.

A Famished Woman Faints Exhausted on the Street.

Yesterday afternoon a woman of about 35 years while going up State street fell in a fainting fit, near the house of Mr. C. W. Gise, into which she was taken.

Mr. Jenkins gave Halifax his lecture on the Suffragists first, and they liked it last evening he gave his satire on England, and we fear some of the distinguished church and state dignitaries on the platform squirmed.

Shipping Notes.

Highland Light, Dec. 10.—Several pieces of a vessel's trunk, some timbers, hatchets, etc., and a small clock, came ashore here to-day. The clock had stopped at 10 minutes past 12. It is believed that some small schooner has gone to pieces off here during the night.

Condensed.—The bark Celeste, of this port, was commenced at Montevideo and sold at auction on the 21st ult., for $4,620.

The brig E. C. Mutch, Mutch, master, from Boston for Charlottetown, P. E. I., went ashore at Hillsboro Bay, on the 9th last.

The brigantine Maggie Wood, from Sydney, C. B., for this port with coal, having encountered a gale in which she lost topmast, main and jibbooms, has put into Lunenburg for repairs.

New Yessie.—The fine new bark John Starr, in tow of the tugboat Captain, arrived at this port at 6 o'clock this morning, from Londonderry, N. S. She has been some time on the passage, heavy weather compelling her to remain at Spencer's Island. Captain Leary, formerly of the Scud, had charge of the vessel. She is a handsomely modelled craft, registers 885 tons, and is consigned to Messrs. Melick & Jordan.

Fire in Harris's Foundry.

A fire was discovered this morning about 2 o'clock in the moulding shop attached to Messrs. James Harris & Co's Foundry. The foundry bell was rung and several parties were soon on hand who assisted the watchman in extinguishing the fire. It was put out by the aid of a hose kept on the premises, after a small portion of the roof of the building had been destroyed. The steam engine was on hand in a short time, but the fire was out before its arrival.
