During the past year one life and six ordinary members have joined the Society, our resident membership now includes some 130 names.

As in the past, the Society has been able to render aid to many most deserving cases; in some instances no doubt those relieved may not come under this head, but your committee feel that they are best serving the interests of the Society by disposing of such cases when they assist them to leave the city, and seek more promising points where work is usually more plentiful than here.
