

STEWART

BRITISH COLUMBIA

CITY of the future with all the assets that have made Victoria, Vancouver and Prince Rupert what they are today. If you were not able to avail yourself of the chances offered in the early days of the present sea-port cities of British Columbia there is a splendid field now open in the new distributing and shipping port for the Northern Interior.

Stewart is the entrance and exit for the great Naas Valley, the Ground Hog coal fields, the Omineca mining country and the Peace River wheat.

Make a few dollars in a new terminal city do the work of hundreds in the older centres.

The future of the north is assured, and the public is fast realizing this. DON'T GET LEFT BEHIND. Get full particulars of Stewart and its surroundings, then judge for yourself.
