of Hamilton should have been able to see just what this all meant in historical evolution.

For, a long while ago, George the Third lost America. Under George the Fifth the spirit of America, with millions of dollars invested in Canada and in Hamilton, seized upon the old town under the mountain and demonstrated that though one George may have lost the United States, the Canada that the Guelph House kept down to the day of George the Fifth has room in it for a good part of the United States lost by old George Hanover.

This might have been set forth in a pageant or a public performance of some sort. But it wasn't.

Barring that and the amount of "booze" that must have been consumed to keep some parts of the carnival in running order, the Centennial of 1913 was a great and popular success.

English as She is Spoke!

DR. BRIDGES, the new Laureate, has been taking the British people to task because they are getting slack in their pronunciation. In his book on the subject, "A Tract on the Present State of English Pronunciation" (Milford, 3s. 6d. net), he illustrates his point with anecdotes. Among them are the following:

"A hospital patient, on seeing on the board above his bed the Latin words ter die (and mistaking them for Cockney English), whipped out of bed and fled for his life."

"Among the Cowley Fathers a young high-bred novice, having fled from the luxuries of the world, was spending his first night on the straw mattress in his allotted cell. Being awaked at cockerow by a knock at the door, and a mild voice crying, 'Dominus tecum,' he replied, 'Thank you, thank you! Will you kindly set it down outside?'"

In Lighter Vein

Quitting on Time.—"Bill's going to sue the company for damages."

"Why? Wot did they do to 'im?"

"They blew the quittin' whistle when 'e was carryin' a 'eavy piece of iron, and 'e dropped it on 'is foot."

Interested.—Husband (at police-station): "They say you have caught the fellow who robbed our house night before last."

Sergeant: "Yes Do you want to see him?"

Husband: "Yes! I'd like to talk to him. I want to know how he got in without waking my wife? I've been trying to do that for the last twenty years."—London Opinion.

The Indigo Stocking.—A blue stocking is a woman whose ideas are as far ahead of the times as her clothes are behind them.—L. Steward.

Easy on the "Help".—"Lady wanted, to undertake duties of small house. Two in family, treated as one. State age and salary.

Advt. in "Christian World."

One of the two (to the other): "After you with the egg."—Punch.

Feared the Other.—The man of great financial prominence had met with an accident.

"We'll have to probe," said the doctor.

Just at that moment the man recovered consciousness and exclaimed: "If it's a surgical operation go ahead, but if it's another investigation, give me an anesthetic."—Washington Star.

Wind Shifted.—"This man has made a speech contradicting what he said some time ago," said the paste-and-scissors editor.

"All right," said the headline artist. "We'll print it under the caption, 'Atmospheric Change.'"—Washington Star.

Pure Hebrew.—Two boys, one a Jew and the other Irish, both received a dollar bill for Christmas.

They started out the next day together and little Mike spent some of

Are you content to have your land idle seven months a year?

Do you ever wish that you and your family could avoid the long, cold winters?

Then why don't you get a farm in the great San Joaquin Valley, California, where the fertile soil will work for you twelve months in the year, and where you and yours can enjoy life in the most perfect climate on earth?

There you will not be housed in for months at a time, but every day you may engage in some profitable occupation. With the long growing season you can so arrange your planting that the harvest rush will never be necessary. Labor troubles also will be eliminated, for you can do most of the work yourself.

Fruit-growing is profitable, and every well-laid-out farm will have part of the land planted to trees and vines; but the greatest, quickest, surest returns will be from every-day staples. Your alfalfa meadow, your dairy herd, your hogs, poultry and general farm produce are what will bring you the quick, dependable income.

Conditions in California are different from those you now know, but you will not have to meet them alone; the Santa Fe Agricultural Department is ready with specially trained men to help you solve your problems.

Don't wait until this beautiful valley is crowded; get in now before land values go up. Your profit from this source alone will be a handsome one.

Write to-day for new illustrated books, telling all about the country. They are free.
