

Children's diseases are numerous, in fact, early childhood is usually nothing but a succession of infantile complaints. These are best checked, cured or prevented entirely, as the case may be, by doses of Dr. Wilson's Herbine Bitters.

Worms lurk in the living bodies of almost every person, young, old, rich and poor. Dr. Wilson's Herbine Bitters will drive them out.

Theory does not enter into the reasons whereon Dr. Wilson's Herbine Bitters bases its claims. It has a wonderful record of many years marvellous success to back it up.

Practice has made perfect the Herbine Bitters of Dr. Wilson. There is in consequence nothing in the medicinal way to be compared with them.

Why let your loved ones languish in sickness with such a tonic as Dr. Wilson's Herbine Bitters within reach?

Why allow that dear child to suffer when all that it needs is a few doses of Dr. Wilson's Herbine Bitters?

Why permit your wife to drag around, scarcely able to place one foot before the other, when her complaint would yield at once to Dr. Wilson's Herbine Bitters.

Why is your husband so sallow, so short of temper, so ungenial. He used not to be so. Recommend, and see that he takes Dr. Wilson's Herbine Bitters. It will make a great change.

Why is your friend uncourteous and uncongenial just now when he used to be all kindness and brotherly affection? There must be a reason for it. You wonder if you have offended. Perhaps you have, but it is more likely you have not. He is sick poor fellow. His bilious and nervous system has become deranged. Why not persuade him to take a few doses of Dr. Wilson's Herbine Bitters? They would most likely make "Richard himself again."

Everyone has a hero, and hero-worship is one of the most common things in human life. Heroes are various, and some think this one great, others that. All unite in praising Dr. Wilson for his famous Herbine Bitters.

Alexander the Great conquered a world, and then sighed because he could not go where other worlds were to be conquered. Dr. Wilson with his Herbine Bitters conquers disease, which is far better.

Julius Caesar, at the height of Imperial success, subjugated Gaul and overran Britain. Dr. Wilson's Herbine Bitters are more powerful than Julius, they subjugate the human system, restoring it to perfect health.

Alfred the Great propounded just laws and was a public benefactor. Dr. Wilson discovered the laws which produced a perfect medicine and in giving the Herbine Bitters to the world became a greater benefactor than Alfred.

William the Norman overran England, and stole the Saxon's birth-right. Dr. Wilson overran the whole of the list of most beneficial remedies, finally stealing from nature the secret of concocting the Herbine Bitters.

Shakespeare was a bard of the highest order, and his name and works will forever remain. His chief trait was creative power. Dr. Wilson also had this trait. He created Herbine Bitters.

George the third is said to have been the greatest monarch that ever lived, because he was the founder of the American Republic. Dr. Wilson was equally great or greater when he gave the people of Canada Herbine Bitters.

George Washington is called the "Father of his Country," although he did not do as much for the healing of the sick as Dr. Wilson when Herbine Bitters were perfected.

Napoleon was a very bilious man. Had he been less so he might have grieved less over his reverses, or, perhaps, never been driven from Moscow or defeated at Waterloo. Herbine Bitters were not known in his day.

Nelson scored grand victories at Copenhagen, the Nile and Trafalgar. He was a man of poor constitution, had but one eye and one arm. Supposing him with his full faculties and his system strengthened by Herbine Bitters, what might he not have accomplished?

Lincoln led the United States safely through her most troublous times to victory and peace. Dr. Wilson leads the troubled, jaded sufferer up from misery to happiness and health. This he accomplishes with Herbine Bitters.

The surest, safest and most perfect remedy is Dr. Wilson's Herbine Bitters. In large bottles, 25 cents each.
