

Our Children's Corner.

Red-Times.
A CHILD'S EVENING PRIMER.
Before I close my eyes to sleep, Lord, hear my evening prayer, And design a helpless child to keep With thy protecting care.

Though young in years, I have been taught Thy name to love and fear;
Of thee to think with solemn thought, Thy goodness to adore.

That goodness gives each simple flower Its scent and beauty too, And feeds it in night's darkest hour With heaven's refreshing dew.

Nor will thy mercy less delight The infant's God to be,
Who through the darkness of the night For safety trusts to thee.

The little birds, that sing all day In many a leafy wood,
By thee are clothed in plumage gay, By thee supplied with food.

And when at night they cease to sing, By thee protected still,
Their young ones sleep beneath their wing, Secure from every ill.

Thus may'st Thou guard with gracious arm
The couch wherein I lie, And keep a child from every harm By thy all-watchful eye.

For night and day to thee are one,
The helpless are thy care;
And for the sake of Thy dear Son, Thou hear'st an infant's prayer.

The Plain Path.

"Show me a plain path," Nettie Ellis replied again and again, as she sat steadily looking into the bright fire that cold Sabbath evening.

But the fire made never a word of reply, and so turning to her sister Mary, who was just laying aside her book, she asked:

"Mary, if God shows a plain path, ought we not to walk in it?"

"Certainly Nettie,"

"Miss Alice says we shouldn't stop to ask whether the path is rough or smooth, but go right along in it, and trust to God to help us through. But—"

"But what, Nettie?"

"Why, sometimes it is so rough and hard, it seems as if I couldn't walk in it. Yesterday Abby Wallace was vexed because I wouldn't tell in the class, and told Miss Alice a falsehood about me. I could not help feeling angry about it, and so did not speak for her all day."

"Was that the plain path, Nettie?"

"No, and I knew it wasn't all the time. But it seemed very hard to treat her kindly when she had been so unkind to me."

"Did you forget, my sister, how much your Saviour has done for you, a poor sinful child—forgiven you, as you hope, and made you one of his flock, all through his own blood?"

"No," said Nettie, tearfully, "I hope I shall not forget that. I could not but be kind if I did."

"But when he has forgiven so much for you, even before you asked, can you not treat kindly a poor little girl like Abby, who has not had little instruction, even though she has wronged you?"

"I did do very wrong," said Nettie, "and I mean in future to ask God, not only to show me a plain path, but help me to walk in it."

Monday came, and Nettie did not forget to pray for strength to walk in the plain path.

O how cold it was that morning as Nettie lightly trilled to school in her warm clothing and overboots. The snow was nothing to her, said that happy face, peeping out from her blue hood, but defiance to Jack Frost.

But there was another, not quite so happy, going in the same direction. No nice overboots or warm mittens to make her comfortable, only an old worn hat and shawl.

"Why, Abby, how cold you look!" said Nettie, as they met at the school-room door. "Let me warm your hands for you." And, so, throwing down her satchel, she took the chilled hands between her own, and held and rubbed them till they were quite warm again.

"Are you very cold now?" said Nettie, as she saw the tears were still chasing each other down her face.

"No, I am quite warm now," she said, but the tears came faster and faster.

"Can I do anything more for you, dear Abby?"

"O Nettie! how can you be so kind when I told that he about you?" she said, trying to check the tears.

"Never mind about now, Abby, you won't do so again, I'm sure. Here's a kiss of peace, and then good-by, for the bell is ringing."

"Have you found the plain path a hard one to-day?" said Mary, as Nettie came home at night.

"O no, Mary; and the further I go in it the easier it grows."

And then, with beaming face, she told how her difficulties had all vanished with the first kind word.

The Two Gold Dollars.

BY KENA RAY.

which I just bought is all spoiled with the dirty black wax."

"But how did you drop it in there?"

"I didn't drop it. A bad boy came along and knocked it out of my hands, and then he laughed, he did. O, dear! what shall I do?
Now grandma and little Nannie will have to go without their suppers. O, dear!" and the tears flowed a-fresh.

"But can't you buy some more bread?"

"No, I can't get any more, because that was all the money grandma had got; and we'll have nothing to eat to-morrow, neither."

"There, don't cry," and the two gold dollars were slipped into the little red hands. "There is money enough to buy you more bread, and a pair of shoes, too, for your cold, bare feet."

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful cries and grateful words which issued from the pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

And little Joey did not stop to hear the joyful
cries and grateful words which issued from the
pale lips; but he turned hastily away and bent
his steps homeward, with a happy heart, feeling
that it was better to buy bread for the hungry
to eat than to buy toys for his little cousin—Evangelist.

Hats & Hats.

It is a mistake for a pastor to suppose that he can have his people take an interest in the religious movements of the day, without having a religious periodical circulated among them.

It is a mistake for a pastor to suppose that his people can be acquainted with the progress and wants of his own denomination, and contribute liberally to the support of its institutions, unless they are readers of a paper devoted especially to the interests of that branch of the Christian Church.

It is a mistake for any one to suppose that he can, by the same expenditure in any other way, bring as much religious information before his family, as by subscribing and paying for a well-conducted religious paper.

It is a mistake for a man to begin to practice economy by stopping his religious paper. To do this, is to deprive himself and family of a great benefit.

It is a mistake for any one to suppose that a paper can be made exactly what every one would like it to be. The general taste and wants must be consulted.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They must often decline contributions after written, because space is demanded for something of more interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

It is a mistake for any one to think that editors can, by any possibility, attend to their columns every article that is sent to them. They
must often decline contributions after written, be-
cause space is demanded for something of more
interest, of which the Church and the world
wish to read.—Christian Treasury.

Nail & Tooth
BRUSHES.

FROM PARIS.
We have just received from Paris, a superior lot of Buffalo Horn and White Handled Nail Brushes, which we will sell from 1s 6d to 6d each. A large assortment of Black Handled and White Handled

TOOTH BRUSHES, also just received—a choice lot of Badger's Shaving Brushes, 2s 6d to 5d each.

COMMON SHAVING BRUSHES, 6d to 2s 6d each.

We have always on hand Nail & Tooth Brushes from the best London makers.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.
Ordnance Square,
January 9.

English and American
SHOE STORE.

15 Duke Street.
ARCHIBALD GOREHAM

WOULD respectfully invite the attention of his friends and the public to his large and splendid stock of Fall Goods, per Nelson, Esq., Eastern State, Halifax, and Boston.

Ladies' Kid top imitation Balmain Boots, Elastic side, milners' and black, Military Heel.

Kid top Elastic Side Boots, do do
Kid top Elastic Side Boots, do do
Kid top Elastic Side Boots, do do

Having a large stock of CLOTH BOOTS, suitable for fall and winter wear, I am enabled to offer them at remarkably low prices from 8s. 6d. to 12s. 6d.

French Marine Elastic Side Boots, very neat 7s 6d I have opened my own supply of Ladies' Kid top Elastic Side Boots, Short Black Boots, Patent Slippers—Patent Slippers very neat 9s 6d—Kid Slippers, Kid and Grain Leather Boots; Boys' and Girls' Elastic Side Boots, High Top Boots, Elastic Side Boots, Bucklers, Brogues; Leather Boots, Lace Boots, &c.

My Stock of Men's Boots and Shoes is very superior—comprising: Heavy Grain Balmain Boots, Elastic Side Boots, double sole; Clump sole Elastic Side Boots, calf and double sole; Double sole Elastic Side Boots, Grain, Leather and double sole; Elastic Side side boots, very neat, Clump sole, very neat grain Elastic Side Boots, Short Black Boots, Heavy Grain Wellington Boots, Cloth top Elastic side Boots; Brogues, double and single sole; Fish erman's Water-proof Boots; Fisherman's Boots, Chamois Slippers, Curly hair, Lapland, and Fish Boots; Rubber Over-shoes and Boots—Wholesale and Retail.

One door below Devereux & Crow, Nov. 14.

REMOVAL.
BROWN, BROTHERS & CO.
HAVE REMOVED
TO THEIR
NEW DRUG STORE,
'PENTAGON BUILDING,'
Ordnance Square,
FOOT OF NORTHUP'S HILL, Where, as they buy altogether for CASH, they can sell

THE BEST ARTICLES AT THE LOWEST PRICES.

December 19.

A Novelty in the Art World Photography upon Porcelain.

Secured by letters patent in the United States, England, France, and Belgium.

The American Photographic Porcelain Company,
No. 781 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, having secured their novel and ingenious invention of Porcelain Photography, are fully prepared to execute all orders for Miniature Likenesses of Persons on Chinaware, presenting all the attractive and advantageous features of ordinary photography, the brilliancy and richness of color, and the permanency and undermined quality of durability, by being rendered as imperfect as the natural properties of the articles upon which they are executed.

As the patented process of the Company enables the reproduction of Photographs, not only on plain surfaces, but upon such as are round or of any degree of irregularity, the best and most results, with perfect accuracy, and delivery of delineation, upon Porcelain wares of any description and dimension used as articles of luxury or of household utility, such as:

Urnas, Vases, Breakfast Pans, Toilet Articles, &c. &c.

and thereby securing faithful portraits and furnishing a unique and exquisite style of ornamentation of articles in domestic use.

In order to furnish facilities for the gratification of the public taste, and to the wants of those patrons of the Fine Arts desirous of having Portraits on Porcelain, the Company have imported from Europe the most superior porcelain ware, manufactured to their own order, which they sell at cost price.

As the American Company are owners of the patent of the process, and consequently the only persons authorized to use the process, they have determined, in order

To afford People in every section of the an opportunity to possess

Portraits on Chinaware to make the following proposition to Residents in the Country, who are unable to visit personally the Atelier and Gallery in New York.

Persons sending a photograph, ambrotype, or daguerotype, of the size of the Company in New York, accompanied by

FIVE DOLLARS, will receive in return by express, free of other charge, A RICH ORNAMENTED BREAK