Sir William Forwood presided at the last monthly meeting of the Executive Committee of the Liverpool Cathedral. A communication was received from Miss Langton asking to have the two windows in the ante-room of the Lady Chapel set apart for the gift of the Girls' Friendly Society. Mr. Frank Tobin offered to present, on behalf of his family, a rose window at the east end of the south aisle of the Cathedral proper. The committee decided to embrace in the present building operations in connection with the Cathedral the four piers of the main towers, so as to include the central space of the cross transepts, which will provide a church 270 ft. long affording accommodation for a congregation of upwards of 2,000 people. In doing this the committee felt that they were not unduly trespassing upon the liberality of the Churchmen of the diocese, and that the £60,000 or £70,000 additional subscriptions which will be necessary to complete this part of the Cathedral will be forthcoming during the next three years.

The Publishers desire to draw special attention to this series. As far as they know there is no other series published with the same peculiar aim, not only to make the Bible story vivid and interesting, but also to save the child from doubt and perplexity in after years by teaching him now what the most thoughtful and reverent scholars agree in thinking about the Bible. Therefore they anticipate a very great sale for it when it becomes fully known.

Suggestions How to Read the Bible

"Would that we could have had such a book put before us as a people half a century ago! But sad to suspect, it might have been condemned and repudiated by the very nearly universal assent of Protestant Christendom. And yet it is packed close and deep with commonsense, true learning, and real religion. It teaches many lessons which scholars have, long ago, been forced to learn, but which they have all too timidly and slowly taught their hearers and readers."—Literary World.

The Rev. G. T. Shettle, of Birkenhead, has been appointed rector of St. Paul's Church, Aberdeen.
