A Hungarian journalist, London correspondent of a Budapest newspaper, has received the following letter, dated September 13, from Budapest (via Italy), says the Morning Post. It comes from a friend of his and gives a vivid description of the state of affairs in Hungary and Austria.

"You can imagine that our lite here is by no means the brightest. The fact is that since the war began we have been living a life of terror. Great as the enthusiasm was at the beginning, equally endless is the despair now of all classes, especially as the arrivals of wounded from north and south, Galicia and Servia, seem to be increasing. The trains are overloaded with them. All the trains which carry reinforcements to the front return with immense numbers of wounded soldiers.

With only slight injuries are placed in the hospitals of Vienna and the northerial to the northerial to the northerial to the field of operations, as well as Bukovina and Bohemina."

"Trade and commerce have entirely cased with the exception of those that since the women and children present a pitful sight in Budapest, as well as much proposed. The men left at home and the women and children present a pitful sight in Budapest, as well as much the exception of those that since the war began we have been living a life of terror. ASTONISHING RESULTS

Brantford residents are astonished at the QUICK results from the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka. This remedy acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and is so THOROUGH a bowel cleanser that it is used successfully in appendicitis. ONE SPOON-FUL of Adler-i-ka relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. ONE MINUTE after you take it, the gasses rumble and pass out. M. H. Robertson, Druggist.

But your father took him by the helmet and twisted it until he had it straight upon his head. Then, when he could see once again, he handed him his sword, and prayed him that he would rest himself and then continue, for it was great profit and joy to see any gentleman earry himself so well. So they sat together and rested by the rail of the poop; but even as they raised their hands again your father was struck by a stone from a mangonel and so died."

"Time was, when I was young, when commoners dared not have laid their grimy hands upon such a man. Men of gentle blood and coat-armor made war upon each other, and the cthers, spearmen or archers, could scramble amongst themselves. But now all are of a level, and only here and there one like yourself, fair son, who reminds me of the men who are gone."

Nigel leaned forward and took her hands in his. "What I am you have made me," said he.

"It is true, Nigel. I have indeed watched over you as the gardener watches his most precious blossom, for in you alone are all the hopes of our ancient house, and soon—very soon—you will be alone."

"Nay, dear lady, say not that."

"I am very old, Nigel, and I feel the shadow closing in upon me. My heart yearns to go, for all whom I have known and loved have gone before me. And you—it will be a blessed day for you, since I have held you
