FIRE CRACKERS

Judge Houston says that in his opinion the sale of fire crackers in Chatham should be stopped the same as has been done in Toronto and Hamilton.
In Chatham it is contrary to law to sell fire crackers, but that makes little difference. It is the sale of crackers that should be stopped. They let them fire off crackers in Toronto till a block was burned and there they stopped the exploding of these Chinese made toys. The fireworks on the Park should be stopped too. After the fireworks in the Park last year celebration Judge Houston said that his front yard was full of rocket sticks, some of which had stuck six inches in the hard ground. Had these missiles struck anyone they might have inflicted fatal injuries.

LATE MRS. WM. LIDDY

See Nathalie L'Hérault.
The grim avenger, Death, steady to his purpose, has once more been dealing a lamentable blow. Sad indeed were many hearts at the announcement that "Nathalie" was no more. A former pupil, gentle, sweet-mannered, lovely of character, of free and disposition, her early demise not only caused sobs of anguish in the little home, she had made so bright, but, likewise, evoked unfeigned regret among all who had retained of her the happiest recollection.
Miss L'Hérault came to us in 1893.
After some years of training she was appointed monitorial teacher, which position she relinquished to enter her lot in life with Mr. Wm. Liddy, whose a graduate of our Institution, whose spirit is well-nigh broken by the in-timely fate which has befallen him.
Four little children are also weeping with him. We know how unavailing are words under such a stroke, yet we beg to assure our good friend, Mr.
Liddy of our sympathy in his sorrow, which we pray a strength above ours may lighten. And you, little ones, console yourselves, whose eyes are closed in eternal sleep, will not cease to watch over you. The arms that warm and cheer and protected you here below will not forget their administrations, but her heart, timing its happy thoughts to the grand movement of Heaven's unrelenting service, shall unfold and attend you in a love that will fructify unto blessed immortality!—The Deaf Mute.

QUIT OR RESIGN

Fraser, "that because Mr. Whitney has not made the taxation of these corporations a special plank in his platform, nothing will come of my proposal if the Liberal-Conservative party are elected and that if I persist I'll have to either quit or resign.
Well, I can tell you I won't quit." Applause. If you send me as your representative to Toronto I shall submit the bill to tax these corporations and I am prepared to stand by it."—Applause.

Mr. Fraser asked that his promises should not be judged by Mr. Pardo's.
Before the last election Mr. Pardo had promised the people of Dover an electric railroad. Had they got it?
Before the last election he had promised to get for the Township of Chatham the $400 and interest owing them by the Government. These things had never come. But in his efforts for the just taxation of corporations Mr. Fraser did not propose to stay his hand.—Prolonged applause.

N. H. Stevens was well received and made an address in support of Mr.
Pardo's candidature. He said Mr.
Pardo had done something during the eight years he had served the people in the Legislature. He had passed many private bills and was a useful man in committee. Mr. Ross said so himself and The Planet printed what he said. Regarding Mr.
Pardo's statement of Mr. Fraser's offer of the Crown Attorneyship, Mr.
Stevens said humorously that some "filled up" Irish Jack and he was afraid Irish Jack had been filling Mr.
Pike up.

A voice—What about the fisheries matter?
Mr. Stevens said he hadn't heard any complaints concerning the fisheries. If a man carefully lived up to his fishing license there would be no trouble. Mr. Stevens closed with a eulogistic review of the Ross regime.
James Clancy, M. P., was tendered an ovation. He spoke briefly in his own clear and definite style, taking up point by point the matters advanced by the Liberal speakers and exploding them amid laughter and applause.

Concluding Mr. Clancy referred to the candidature of Mr. Pardo, he said, he was a most estimable gentleman personally but it was upon his public acts and record that he must be judged.
As farmers would any in the audience engage a man to till their farm who couldn't plough a straight furrow because he was personally an estimable character? If a man who couldn't plough a straight furrow because he had a fine character? Mr.
Pardo's representation of the West had demonstrated what Mr. Fraser had demonstrated of equal high personal character and possessed in addition a vigorous, able and straightforward policy, which he was able and willing to advocate in the House of Parliament in the interests of the people of West Kent.—Applause.

The customary cheers, enthusiastically given, closed the meeting.

DOVER FOR FRASER

One of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings of the campaign in Mr. Fraser's interest was held on Saturday night at Baginell's school house in Dover. Long before eight o'clock the hall was crowded and standing room was at a premium. Proceedings were opened by Geo. G. Martin, who in an eloquent and forcible half hour's speech exposed the injustices and anomalies of the Division Court Act, and the law relating to imprisonment for debt.

Mr. Martin was followed by Ald.
McGill, who spoke in the interest of Mr. Pardo. Mr. McGill spent the half hour in an endeavor to convince the audience that Pardo was the Legislative representative for West Kent for the past eight years. Ald.
McGill was followed by Mr. J. B.
O'Flynn, who in an able, eloquent and convincing address dealt with the financial and agricultural policy of the Liberal Government, the Prohibitory Liquor Act and Ross' referendum, exposing to the satisfaction of the audience the insincerity and deception of the Ross Government regarding these questions.

Mr. J. G. Kerr, President of the local Liberal Association, followed, taking up the question of the Assessment of Corporations. At the outset of his address Mr. Kerr made the point of deliberately misquoting from the pamphlet containing Mr.
Fraser's printed letters to the electorate on this question, the misre-sult that Mr. Kerr was forced to retract and apologize for the misrepresentation.

Mr. Patenaude then addressed the audience in French, dealing generally with the public issues of the campaign.

Mr. Patenaude's manner of address is in striking contrast to that of Mr. Gauthier, who on behalf of the Liberal organization was introduced to stir up a religious and race cry among the electorate of Kent and Essex.

Mr. Fraser's appearance on the platform was greeted with loud, long and enthusiastic applause. With his usual eloquence and his marvellous concentrative ability, Mr. Fraser reviewed the policy of the Ross Government and Ross' predecessor for the past thirty years, exposing their malignant and scathing terms their maladministration and extravagance, the direct connection of the Government with the ballot frauds, and their present attempt to regain power under the cry of "Building up Ontario." Mr. Fraser concluded his address with an exhaustive, lucid and convincing explanation of his position with regard to the assessment of corporations.

The meeting closed with an able and eloquent address by Mr. J. P.
Pike, who dealt with the school book question, the agricultural policy of the Ross Government and other political issues. Mr. Pike's remarks being received with enthusiasm by the audience.

Cheers for Mr. Fraser, the chairman and the speakers closed one of the most enthusiastic Conservative meetings of the campaign.

AT LOUISVILLE

A meeting in the interest of Mr.
Pardo was held at Louisville on Saturday evening. Geo. Stephens, M. P., Dr. Fleming and O. L. Lewis were the speakers. Mr. Wilson, K. C. and Thos.
Scullard were given an hour's time to reply on behalf of Mr. Fraser.
There was a large audience. Mr.
Wilson, who on rising, was greeted with thunderous applause, was particularly effective in his exposition of the working of the act respecting the arrangement of corporations while his assessments of the Government on its general policy and for the election frauds completely captured the meeting. The meeting was closed with cheers for the King and Mr. Fraser.

LIBERAL MEETING

A Liberal meeting was held in Nazzy Hall, Wellington street, Saturday evening. James Richards was in the chair. There was a good crowd present, and the meeting was addressed by Messrs. Eady, G. G. Martin, Arch. McGill, F. F. Quinn, and Wm. Needham. Many subjects of interest were discussed and the meeting broke up with the usual cheers.

PURE POLITICS

Conservatives Bound to Have a Clean Contest—Are Going to Prosecute all Bribers and Corruptionists.

Two of the men who were accused of registering illegally, appeared before Judge Houston this morning. One of the men was committed for trial, the other was dismissed. S. B. Arnold, who was present in court, said that it was the intention of the Conservatives to put down all corruption in politics in this city so far as is in their power. The Liberal-Conservative purpose prosecuting every person against whom evidence can be obtained, a bribe, irrespective of politics. The party in Chatham has decided to purify local politics as far as is in their power. As a proof Mr. Arnold evidenced the prosecution of Millard Smith who, he said, was a Fraser man.

Millard Smith was the first man to answer the charge of perjury. Judge Houston said that, under the special circumstances, considering that he had registered Smith, it would not be right for the man to take his trial before Mr. Houston even with the consent of the prisoner and all parties concerned. Judge Houston said that seeing that he was the Registrar that it was likely he might be called as a witness.

Edwin Bell, Crown Attorney, said that he would consent on his part to Mr. Houston trying the case and agreed not to call the Judge as a witness.

The Judge refused to try the case and the preliminary hearing was proceeded with.
S. B. Arnold testified that he had happened to be present when the prisoner registered. He remembered the case because the man had said he lived in Mrs. Bush's house on Forest St.
Mr. Arnold had seen the man take the oath.

Oliver Lenover, the next witness, said that he lived four lots outside the corporation on Thames St., and Smith boarded with him. He had boarded there since two weeks before Easter. Smith was a steady, hard-working fellow, especially when the boss was around. He didn't think that Smith knew he lived outside the corporation.

O. L. Lewis asked that the case against Smith be dismissed on the ground that Smith had made a mistake but not intentionally. Smith didn't know he was outside the corporation limits.

Judge Houston said that if, as registrar, he had carried out the law strictly he would have registered about 15 instead of 213. About 200 of those presenting themselves for registration, didn't know where they lived.
This case hinged on the matter of intention and the Judge thought that was for a jury to decide. Crown Attorney Bell held that "you could only tell what a man's intention was by what he had done and he asked that the man be sent up for trial." Mr. Lewis said that if a breach of the law had been made, it was a technical breach didn't constitute perjury.

Judge Houston said that in this case he didn't think the Judge would take the right to withdraw it from the jury so he didn't feel like dismissing it. He, therefore, committed Smith for trial, and released him on $30 bail. Oliver Lenover went to his security.

Andrew Wilson, an agent of the Deering Co., was the second man to answer to a charge of perjury.
Crown Attorney Bell, S. B. Arnold, and O. L. Lewis, after conference decided to take the evidence of Mr. Wilson himself. He said that he came to Chatham on Feb. 3rd, to take the place of another man, as traveller for the Deering Co. in this district. His home had been at Wingham. His family came here on the 13th of May. He had rented the house over six months ago. He had stated these facts to Judge Bell when he registered. Judge Houston said that even if Mr. Wilson hadn't the right to register, there was no possible chance of the charge of perjury being preferred against Mr. Wilson. It would have been just as sensible to have laid a charge of perjury against Longwell, who had registered before Judge Houston. The court of appeal held that Longwell's oath wasn't true, yet nobody would for an instant think of taking proceedings against Longwell.

The Crown Attorney—I think in this case, your worship, that the question of domicile, as opposed to residence arises.
Judge Houston—I am not bothering about that.

Crown Attorney—Of course, I couldn't ask time to consider the case.
Judge Houston—You couldn't for it is already dismissed.
"This was purely a case for the Court of Appeal," continued the Judge. "When the facts were laid before me and a warrant asked for, I was sure that a false oath had been taken, but this case just shows how facts can be dissipated when you hear the other side of the story. The facts were true, too, but I didn't hear all of them, that was all."

The Morals of Animals.
It may be questioned whether animals have any conception of morals as we understand the term, but in a general sense it would certainly seem that they have. In the social sense there is no doubt as to the answer. To take a well known instance, the ant family have evolved a most complicated social system, which apparently works to perfection, and that is more than can be said for any human system. In order, cleanliness, care of offspring, provision for future wants and military discipline no civilized society can compare with theirs. The ants slaughter, it is true, but they treat their slaves with every kindness and consideration, and the warrior ants defend them in time of danger.

Another excellent example is furnished by the beaver. During summer it leads a solitary life, but at the approach of winter communions are formed, building operations commence, saws are laid up as soon as the dwellings are completed, and every individual of the community recognizes clearly that the interests of the family and the colony come first. In their family life, in common with many other animals, offer an example which might well be copied not only by savages, but also by civilized communities.

Beecher's Open Hand.
An old member of Plymouth church who knew Henry Ward Beecher and his family tells a story about the great preacher. "No one even knew what he did with the vast sums of money he earned as a lecturer," he said. "He used to give money away with both hands, and he was as likely to give a street beggar a twenty dollar bill as a dollar; but his salary from Plymouth church went direct to Mrs.
Beecher. He never drew any money from the church until the end of the year. Then he received a check for $20,000, his full year's salary, and handed it to his wife. When he died, he did not leave much of an estate, although he had earned millions of dollars in his life, but Mrs. Beecher was always received her $20,000 a year, and she lived in comfort and even luxury in Brooklyn till she died. He was a great man was Henry Ward Beecher."

How a Sprain Does Hurt But it isn't the pain alone that is dreaded, just think of the loss of time and wages. Sprains without number have been cured by rubbing Polson's Nervine into the pores of the skin surrounding the joint. No matter whether it is a sprained wrist, ankle, knee or back, just try Nervine on it, and see how quickly it will cure.
There is only one ointment that can be depended upon to cure sprains, strains and swellings, and that is Polson's Nervine. Large bottle 25 cents.
