NOT ANTAGONISTIC

The reciprocity agreement and the British preference are not hostile each to the other. They may even become close working partners. It was a far-sighted view to which Sir Richard Cartwright gave expression fourteen years ago when, on the introduction of the British preference, he said:

"It may well be that the States after a while, after second, soberer thought, will consent to treat with us and maybe with England on better terms than they have heretofore treated. Sir I do say that it is a great step if our proposition is responded to toward making the British Empire a reality as well as a name. I say that it is a great step toward the federation of all the countries that owe allegiance to the British Crown, and I repeat, even at the risk of some misconception, that I am not without hope that in its ultimate issue it may lead to a practical alliance between all the members of the English race."

The frank acceptance by the United States of the Canadian policy of preference to the Motherland and the making of a reciprocity agreement that does not interfere with the British preference are events of the utmost importance in world-politics, and do much to justify the prophecy of Sir Richard.—Toronto Globe.

MILITARISM DENOUNCED.

That the representatives of more than a million organized workers voted unanimously at Leicester, England, recently, for a resolution denouncing militarism and war and declaring for the arbitration of all international disputes is heartening news. It was at a special conference for disarmament prior to the annual conference of the Labor party that this action was taken, and Keir Hardie's resolution, in favor of the universal strike as a means of preventing war, was defeated by only six votes.

A clause of the resolution adopted calls upon the workers of Great Britain to take organized action with their fellow-workers in Germany and elsewhere to bring about disarmament and the reduction of militaristic burdens. There is a significant warning in this to statesmen of all nations, for this means that English working men have taken precisely the same position as the followers of Bebel in Germany, that is if the politicians cannot stop the frightful waste of preparation for war, the people will. There could be no more gratifying evidence of the advance of the working classes, so long the helpless and hapless "Kanonenhutter" of those in high places. For them war means only misery and death without glory or real reward, and the piling up of burdens for future generations.—St. John Standard.

JOSEPH McMASTER

The sudden death occurred at the home of James Sullivan, Kouchibouguac, on the 4th inst., of Joseph McMaster, one of the oldest residents of that village. Mr. McMaster retired on Friday evening in his usual health, but when Mr. Sullivan entered his room to awaken him in the morning he found him in a dying condition. Mr. Sullivan at once summoned the other members of the family and in a few minutes Mr. McMaster passed away. He is survived by two brothers, Thomas and James, who reside at Black River, Northumberland county. The funeral at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. G. G. Livingstone.

LA GRIPPE RAVAGES

The Trouble Sweeping Over Canada is an Epidemic.

Weakened and Broken Constitutions Left Behind—How to Regain New Health and Strength.

La grippe is one of the most dangerous diseases that annually sweeps over Canada. It starts with a sneeze—a slight cold—and ends with a complication of troubles. It lays the strong man on his back; it tortures him with fevers and chills, with headaches and backaches. Its victims are left low-spirited and depressed, and an easy prey to bronchitis, pneumonia, rheumatism, and often that most dreaded of all diseases—consumption. You can avoid la grippe entirely by keeping the blood rich and red by the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The trouble takes as its victims those whose blood is in a poor condition, and its after effects are more dangerous and more lasting than the trouble itself. For the after-effects of la grippe there is absolutely no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose helps to make rich, red blood that drives disease from the system, and makes weak, dependent men and women bright, cheerful and strong. If you have suffered in any way from the epidemic of la grippe that has been sweeping over Canada, give this great health-restoring medicine a trial, and it will not disappoint you. Here is proof of the wonderful power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills over the after-effects of this disease. Mr. P. E. Paulin, collector of customs at Caraquet, N. B., says: "A few winters ago I had a severe attack of la grippe, which completely broke me down. I had to take to my bed for several weeks, and although during that time I employed a doctor I did not seem to recover from the trouble. I was left terribly weak, did not sleep well, had night sweats and little or no appetite. I was really a physical wreck. On a former occasion I had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for general debility with such great success that I decided to try them again. I sent for a half dozen boxes and began to take the Pills at once. When taking the second box I began to feel quite a change in my condition. I was able to walk about the house and my appetite was improving. From that on I gained strength every day and before the six boxes were done I was able to return to the office and attend to my work. I have since enjoyed the best of health, and think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best medicine for trouble of this kind."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only promptly cure the serious after-effects of la grippe, but they make well and strong all persons suffering from any form of debility or general weakness. These Pills have no laxative or purgative action; their mission is to make new, rich, red blood, and thus fortify and strengthen every organ and every part of the body. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

SHEEP OR DOGS

If Farmers Want to Raise Sheep They Must Look After the Dogs Better.

At the meeting of the Commissioners appointed by the Dominion Government to investigate the Sheep Industry, at Woodstock Thursday, the general opinion was that the only reason why sheep-growing had declined in this country was the number of sheep killed by dogs. Some ten years ago, in one season, 500 sheep were killed in the neighborhood of Woodstock by dogs. Many farmers have since gone out of the sheep business.

NOT ENFORCED.

The local government passed a good law against dogs, but it was in the power of the county councils to allow dogs to be kept, and the law is unworkable to a considerable extent, owing to the permission so given. There is no way to get compensation for losses. Farmers would go into sheep-raising at once if they were free from the depredations of dogs.

W. W. Hubbard said he had never yet been able to get a meeting of farmers to vote for dog tax. The popular sentiment of farmers was against a dog tax. They seem to prefer dogs to sheep. There was at present a tax of $5 on bitches. It is the duty of the county councils to collect the tax on bitches, but he knew of no council that was enforcing it. He felt that if the county councils would enforce the dog tax, sheep growing would materially improve in this country. The commissioners on Saturday held a meeting in Bathurst.
