First Aid to Injured.

A large and representative gathering of ladies and gentlemen met in the Board of Trade rooms last evening to consider the desirability of establishing a Newfoundland centre of the St. John Ambulance Society.

His Excellency the Governor was in the chair, and among those present were Lady Williams and the Chief Justice, Sir William Horwood. His Excellency addressed the meeting and eloquently urged the project on the attention of those present.

The first resolution was moved by Hon. R. Watson, who gave the genesis of the movement and told of the despatch sent some time ago from London which set forth that the British Board of Trade were insisting on the knowledge of First Aid to Injured and the St. John Ambulance Certificate from those who sought Master and Mate Certificates as mariners; that the late Government approved of the imparting of such knowledge, and that Capt. English had written, expressing his strong support of the movement.

Mr. Hendell seconded the motion and said the object was to set forth the light of knowledge in order that Nature might effect her cures without the handicap of ignorant mistakes.

The following is the resolution referred to:—

Whereas a widespread knowledge of the principles of First Aid is a matter of great practical importance in this country, where the population is so scattered, and the vocations of the people are of a hazardous character;

And whereas it is desirable that instruction in rendering First Aid in cases of accidents, of sudden illness and for the transport of the sick and injured may be accessible to members of the Constabulary force, the Fire Department, the Brigade organizations, candidates for mercantile marine examination, members of Societies, Clubs, Factories and Trade Unions, and to all others who desire it;

Be it therefore resolved that a Newfoundland centre of the St. John Ambulance be formed, so that the necessary instruction may be given and the examination in First Aid conducted here.

Dr. Macpherson supported the motion and gave a telling illustration of the value of such knowledge.

Mr. McNelly moved and Mr. E. J. Morris seconded a resolution that the following officers be appointed:—

Patron—His Excellency the Governor.

President—The Chief Justice.

Vice-Presidents—Lt.-Col. Rendell, Church "Lads" Brigade; Lt.-Col. Greene, Catholic Cadet Corps; Lt.-Col. Pitts, Methodist Guards; Lt.-Col. McNeil, Newfoundland Highlanders; the Mayor of St. John's, the President Newfoundland Board of Trade, the Minister Marine and Fisheries, the Inspector General of Constabulary.

Committee—Hon. W. C. Job, Hon. John Harris, Hon. J. C. Crooks, Mr. J. S. Mann, Mr. H. W. O'Meara, Capt. E. English, Hon. John Harris, Hon. R. K. Bishop, Mr. W. B. Grieve, Mr. R. F. Goodridge, Mr. G. C. Pearn, Mr. F. W. Carter, the Medical Practitioners of St. John's and the Superintendents of Education.

Hon. Secretary—Dr. C. Macpherson.

Hon. Treasurer—Mr. John Fenelon.

Hon. Auditor—Mr. H. A. Outerbridge.

Mr. Blackall moved a vote of thanks to His Excellency which was carried by acclamation, and to which the Governor replied.

The Almeriana Here.

The Purpess liner Almeriana, Capt. Wank, reached here at 7.30 last evening after a run of 2½ days from Halifax. Leaving Halifax she had dense fog with a heavy S. E. gale and she made slow time until she sighted Cape Race when the fog lifted after which she made a good run to port. She brought 1,000 tons of cargo, with deals on deck for England. She takes a cargo of fish, oil, etc., and leaves for Liverpool to-morrow.

Notes From Harbor Grace.

The s.s. Euphrates arrived from Bell Island on Saturday night, and after landing a number of workmen here she left again for Carbonear.

Miss F. Dwyer, daughter of Const. Dwyer, went to Bay Roberts on Saturday to spend a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Johnson.

Mr. J. G. Munn and his daughter, Jean, went to Port de Grave on Saturday to spend Sunday with friends.

Mr. Charles Webster, an old resident of Caplin Cove, this town, died on Saturday morning at the advanced age of 91 years. His funeral took place last evening, interment in the Methodist cemetery.

Sparks from a passing engine set fire to the dry grass in the Methodist cemetery last week, and the fire quickly spread to trees, &c., on the western side of the graveyard. People living in the neighborhood hurried to the scene and quenched the blaze.

It is pleasing to be able to report that work on the new Government building has commenced. Work was started on Friday morning, some 18 men being employed digging out the foundation. Mr. Geo. H. Badcock has charge of the work. It has been wisely arranged to have the work done in shifts, giving each gang of men three days of this course to let all the men possible have an opportunity of earning a few dollars at this dull season.

Mr. Willis Pike of Bell Island spent Sunday here with his friends and left again by the steamer for the Island. Mr. Pike's numerous friends here are always glad to "welcome him home."

Miss Minnie Fugh, teacher at New Melbourne, is very ill at that place, and on receipt of the news yesterday her father and mother left by carriage to bring her home. We hope this young lady's sickness is not serious.

The Guy Celebration Committee are holding their meetings in the new public building on Bannerman Street.

If after seeing your neighbor and his wife going to church you see what you considered a lot of smoke coming from the chimney, don't run across and frighten his little ones by telling them the house is on fire. Go quietly, and be a neighbor, not a busy-body.

WHOLE FACE DISFIGURED.

Skin sores were allowed to run on and at last the whole face was covered. This could have been prevented by using Dr. Hamilton's Ointment. Its wonderful healing virtue and its antiseptic properties destroy the worst Eczema ever known. Get a 50c. box from your druggist.

Seals at Exploits.

From Constable Dewling who arrived from Little Bay yesterday we learn that old seals have been numerous at Exploits Bay the past two weeks, and about 1,000 have been killed there. Old residents of the place believe that there is a patch of young seals in Green Bay which have not been touched yet. The bay is filled with ice yet and these seals could not take to the water.

HOW CROUP IS DREADED.

If there is any warning use Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine and prevent the terrible struggle of the little one for breath. If you know nothing of it till the struggle comes cause the child to vomit and then use Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine frequently. In small doses to prevent repeated attacks. This great medicine is wonderfully effective in curing croup and bronchitis.

C. L. B. SPORTS.

The annual indoor sports of the C. L. B. will be held at their new armory to-night. There will be a very interesting programme including various kinds of races and general athletic exercises. The band of the brigade will be present and patrons are assured of an enjoyable evening.

CRICKET SEASON.

The cricket season is expected to open under more favourable auspices than usual this season. This year there will be several good teams coming forward.

Shannahan Wants a Square Deal All Round.

Some people are asking where Mrs. Tucker, Tucker, Kelly and Delaney are gone. I am glad that people take an interest in them by asking about them. It is a nice thing to ask about people. It is so easy to do it. A fellow comes up to you and asks how are you getting along how are all home, but he asks you in a different style from when he asks you for a match or looks for a job. When a man asks you for a match or the full of the pipe he looks at you in an earnest manner, but when he asks you how are all home, he generally puts an air to it that sounds very familiar. Anyway, as far as Mrs. Tucker, Tucker, Kelly and Delaney are concerned, I want to say that my old friends the Tuckers are fine, and I enjoy their hospitality as in days of old, but the others, Kelly and Delaney are on the shaggyrauns ever since Delaney arrived in the Viking. It is only another case of making friends of people who are not worth their salt. You will experience it every day you get up. Make much of some people and they'll start in to take a mortgage on your life. Kelly and Delaney were all right when they were in and enjoy our comforts all the winter when they were on the rocks, but as soon as they saw a few shillings with themselves they became excited and went off in higher company. This is the way of the world, and the man who expects better treatment is only a fool. But as the old saying says—"it is a long lane that has no turn, and as sure as you're born Delaney and Kelly will be glad enough to get back to Tucker's before the midnight bells ring out on Christmas Eve. We have learned a lesson and that is make sure of your friends before you trust 'em. There is a lot in that expression, but like the man who puts off the insuring of his house, we wait till we are burnt out and then we go around crying. If we paid a little more attention to selecting our friends and holding on to them when we find them true, we'd have less reason for grumbling about getting left.

I see they're going to tax our amusements to the tune of seven or eight hundred dollars a year. Now, mind you, the poor people, the workmen and women enjoy the Nickel, and it is a dangerous move to put a tax on them that may drive them out. Mrs. Tucker thinks a hundred or a hundred and fifty dollars a year would be a fair charge; anyway we are watching things, and fouramusement is taken from us there'll be wigs on the green. Tucker don't drink any strong spirits, nevertheless he likes every man to get a square show. If he does he should be shut off from drinking altogether, but then he won't be the only class shut off, for there are others. It is the workman who goes into the bar, fair and square, and calls for his drink. If he goes in at ten o'clock in the day instead of six, I think it will have a bad effect on his families. Trying to make men saints by enacting child laws, like this, is a sure way to desperation. Why we had eight or nine men arrested Saturday night, and according to reports, five of them had bottles. To this gang of men were providing for Monday morning, whereas if they could get a drink at six o'clock they wouldn't bother about the bottles. British fair play is talked rather freely when people are having good, but is it fair play to make one law for the rich and another for the poor. Are our workmen such drunkards that the law must close in order that they be made keep sober enough to go to work?

If they are then it is a pity that prohibition didn't pass last year, it would be more decent for the law as it is now is a slur on our people.

Is the man who goes to work at six o'clock and wants his beer being treated in this matter? If a drink is necessary at all, why doubt if it is, surely it is on a cold morning, and if it isn't necessary then the sooner it is shut out altogether the better.

Anyway, this one law for the workman and another for the rich is not going to be taken with a smile by the workman.

We haven't heard anything about those ladders for the firemen, and the horses to haul them yet; but I suppose they're coming, and good things generally take a long time to get here. Anyway they'll be new when they get here.

I don't hear tell of any of the Union men going to the Festival of the Empire. Some people are always grumbling about the Union men being the cause of driving up prices. You'd swear to hear these people talk that the Union men were making a fortune, but we don't see many of them building summer residences or taking health trips.

Good times; we hear a lot about the prosperity of the country and the Revenue, but we should ask ourselves are the workmen being fleeced to put up that Revenue. They way things are going now people can hardly make two ends meet.

Saturday over on Bowring's wharf there were enough men looking for work to clean up the "Flotzil," to "clean her up" in a hurry. Many came away disappointed, and it's no use bawling out "flakes of work around here," and bringing more people in from the outports when there is not enough work for the crowd that's here.

Keep your eyes open on the Municipal Elections, and get the candidates to outline their policy. I should be sorry to hear from me again on this matter.

I was disappointed with the attendance at the blind man's concert, but we wouldn't mind taking any money that you have no use for.

Some people asked me if I was coming out for the Municipal Elections for they thought I should be when I tried to boost up the blind man's concert the other night in the paper. That's the way with people around here—if you don't turn them put it down that you are throwing a sprat to catch a mackerel, and if you don't do a good turn you're considered no good.

TIM SHANNAHAN.

New Public Building.

Harbor Grace is Getting its Second Government Building in two Years. Mary Thinks one Should be Finished First.

How good the members are to us is what the people say. They have started another building. To give the workmen pay.

They started in last Friday. We have no cause to holler. Since the work is under the charge of a first class Spanish scholar.

I am sure it will be quite a change. From the pen he used so slick. To go to work at six o'clock. And wield a common "pick."

Only eighteen men could get a job. On the morning of the start. But "Aps" thought that was very hard. As the Government he was a part.

He was standing by Murphy's corner. After taking his rounds. Says he, the island men are on. As George likes tongues and sounds.

Poor Billy Gill couldn't get a job. As he was told quite clear. He pasted posters on the wall. For the Liberal folks last year.

Tom's name is down for work next week. But for this he'll get no blame. For while they think his name is Tom. That's but his "maiden" name.

'Twould never do to give his name. To the public over there. As you know they'd never say a word. If Mary's Tom was there.

A mighty pity 'tis, says Tom. To put the building there. As we must lose our firebreak. And other good sites near.

The beauties of a city. Are big in my Tom's eyes; But to have narrow firebreaks. He says is most unwise.

Uncle Nath was down on Friday. He thinks the day they'll rue; For with that amount of money. They could build factories two.

A factory for soap or nails. Would be better far to give. Than a useless public building. In a place where few can live.

The factories would help to pay. The revenue each year; But to keep these two big buildings. Will take too much I fear.

I'll bother you no more, just now. I afraid you might get weary; But I'm not by any means run-down. You'll hear again from MARY.

Mr. Grace, April 11, 1910.

Almost Died of Malignant Tonsillitis.

Another Case Proving that Catarrhoxone Cures When All Else Fails.

The case of Mr. James E. Barton, the well-known publishing agent, of Stratford, is most remarkable. For seven years he suffered from weak throat, treated with numerous physicians, used a score of remedies, but was not cured. Among the symptoms from which he suffered were: Inducenza, Bronchitis, Nasal Catarrh, Hoarseness, Weak Throat, Croupy Cough, Frontal Headache, Sore Chest.

For years I suffered from a chronic weakness of nose, throat and lungs. My chest was sore, my throat irritable, and I had a harsh, croupy cough that was always worse in the morning. During bad weather I was completely prostrated with Catarrh, bronchial irritation, and all the manifold discomforts of influenza.

When I began using Catarrhoxone a beneficial effect was noticeable at once. My breathing became free and easy, I slept better, my chest was eased, and the thick phlegm, and coughing that made me so sick passed away. Once, when my son was threatened with malignant tonsillitis, Catarrhoxone cured him in two days.

Catarrhoxone is certain to cure because its healing vapor is carried with the breath direct to the seat of the chest, nose or throat trouble. Being composed of the purest balsams and pine essences, it immediately allays irritations, facilitates the ejection of mucus, soothes and stimulates the lungs and bronchial tubes.

To those in fear of changeable weather, those who easily catch cold, those who work among lung-chilling surroundings, or where dust, impure air, fog, or damp can affect them—let them get Catarrhoxone and use it several times daily. Large also, sufficient for two months' use, guaranteed price $1.00; smaller sizes 25c. and 50c. Beware of imitations and substitutes, and insist on getting "Catarrhoxone" only. By mail from "Catarrhoxone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Father Coady Complains of Roads.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Mr. Editor,—Please give space to the following lines in your much esteemed paper:

The spring is now with us and it may do some good to remind the proper authorities of their duty re road-repairing along this shore. The time is at hand when due attention to this road leading from St. John's ought to be given, unless we are compelled to submit to all sorts of worry and hardships as experienced by us all last autumn and the present spring. It is a self-evident fact that proper care has not been shown to road work along this shore. All last autumn, the winter just past and while I write, the road leading from my house up to "Upper Gulfies," etc., was and is barely passable. It has been one long stretch of seething bog. To go over it is simply a wading process. It means loss of time, destruction of horses and carriages, etc., unnecessary exposure to cold, filth cast over one from head to foot, or vice versa. Surely our people are subjected to enough of hardship without the present one being allowed any longer to exist. They go daily over the roads, women as well as men, slowly even when the conditions are better than now, owing to their impoverished mode of conveyance; but all the more slowly, as at last winter when it was painful to see them hunched on the roads covered with mud and slush and frozen even at times to insensibility.

Moreover, this is an all-important tourist resort, a fact which in itself should be sufficient reason to have conditions more satisfactory. The influx of people here during the summer is very great, and driving is one of their favorite pleasures.

One reason why the roads here have been and are disgraceful is the repairing or rather the undoing goes on at the wrong time. The autumn season is not the time when the enjoyment is over and the rains and disagreeable elements permeate, wash away and upheave the materials. Another reason lies in the fact that mud and clay and the sediment of drains are employed, making the "last state worse than the first." And last but not least is the fact that due attention and supervision is not exercised, and the money and not the work is the object to be attained. Let us have the proper care given us now as soon as the fitting season for work of this kind comes, and let us no longer be subjected to the misery and expense, etc., entailed during the past year.

Yours truly,

(REV.) J. J. COADY.

Lecture by Rev. Canon White.

Rev. Canon White, of the Church of England Cathedral, lectured on "Sparks from an Old Anvil," at the Star of the Sea Hall last night for that Society and their friends.

There was a large attendance. The rev. gentleman was introduced by President E. M. Jackman, and spoke for an hour and a half. He told several very humorous anecdotes connected with his missionary experiences while labouring at Fogo and other places. The incidents were genuine sparks from the Anvil of Wit and Humor and were told in such a way that the audience could not possibly fail to see the point every time and to accord applause and laughter. Good humor prevailed amongst the audience till the close of the lecture, not only on account of the humorous anecdotes that were so prodigally interspersed but by reason of the manner in which they were told. The grave, the gay and the pathetic of the outport fisherman's life were in turn despatched upon.

At the conclusion a vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. W. J. Higgins, and seconded by Mr. S. G. Congdon. Short speeches were also delivered eulogistic of the lecture and its social results by President Jackman and Rev. Fr. O'Callaghan.
