SAFETY FIRST

Grips like the sole of an athlete's shoe

The cross bars on a football player's shoes give him a firm footing—he is able to run, jump, make sharp, quick turns with more assurance and safety. The specially toughened Safety Bars on Goodrich Tyres cut through the film and obtain a firm grip on the road surface—thus preventing the skid from starting. And there's another reason why you should equip with Goodrich Safety Treads—the extra thickness at the point of contact insures extra wear.

Meeting of Aeroplane Committee.

A largely attended meeting of the Aeroplane Committee was held at the Board of Trade Rooms last night. Mr. W. G. Gosling, the Chairman, presided, and present were His Excellency the Governor and some forty members of the committee. Before the regular business of the meeting was taken up, His Excellency announced that two field officers, to whom a reference is made elsewhere in this issue, had been attached to the 1st Nfld. Regiment. He also announced that the Messrs. Reid, besides having facilities for the collection of contributions amongst their employees, had generously offered to supply an aeroplane, the only stipulation being that the name Reid be added to that of Newfoundland. The offer was very much appreciated and a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Messrs. Reid by acclamation. The reports of the Secretary, Mr. C. R. Stear, and the Treasurer, Mr. J. A. Giff, K.C., were then read and adopted. The magistrates of the outposts have been asked to organize their collections for the fund so that the amount will be in hand by August 4th. Pass books have been issued for circulation amongst the employees of many firms in the city. After the passing of votes of thanks to His Excellency for attending the meeting, to Mr. Reuben Horwood for providing the dial at the Board of Trade Building, and to the Press for their notices, the meeting adjourned.

B. I. S. Honors its New Patron

HIS GRACE ARCHBISHOP ROCHE. The rooms of the Benevolent Irish Society were the scene of a pleasing function last evening when the Society's new Patron, His Grace Archbishop Roche, was presented with an address and chalice in honor of his recent elevation to the Archiepiscopacy. The occasion was marked by an unusually large attendance of the members. At 8.30 His Grace, accompanied by Rev. Fr. McDermott, Adm. and Mr. J. C. Pippy, 1st Asst. Vice-President of the B.I.S., arrived while the Pope's March was sounded. In a happy speech the President, Hon. J. D. Ryan, welcomed the Archbishop and presented the gift after reading the following ADDRESS.

To Most Rev. Edward Patrick Roche, D.D., Archbishop of Dublin, From the Benevolent Irish Society. May it please Your Grace:

The Benevolent Irish Society whose existence dates back to the year 1806, hasten to approach Your Grace, and beg of you to accept the sincere and hearty congratulations of the members, on your elevation to the Archiepiscopal See of St. John's. Your appointment is an event of moment to the community, and the members of the Society hail it as happy and auspicious, because they recognize in you a rarely gifted Ecclesiastic, and one who is endowed with the highest qualities of Priest, statesman, and fully cognizant of the ideals and traditions of your exalted office.

You are joined to us by a very close tie, since we delight to recall that once you were a pupil of St. Patrick's Hall Schools, established and maintained by the Society; hence it is that the members view, with pride and pleasure, the distinguished honor bestowed upon you.

As an evidence of the esteem and affection of the members, and their joy on the occasion of your elevation to the Episcopal Throne—in the past occupied by so many brilliant and revered Ecclesiastics—they pray you will accept the accompanying Chalice—a copy of the famous De Burelio Chalice made in Ireland in the year 1494.

The members respectfully express the hope that you will honor them, as your predecessors have done, by becoming the Society's Patron, and wish you a long, useful, and happy life, and assure you they will never be wanting in loyalty towards, and reverence and affection for you; and that in the years to come, when you have further distinguished yourself in your Pastoral Office, it will be recorded, you were "First among the greatest and highest among the best."

Signed on behalf of the Society,

T. P. HALLEY, Secretary.

St. Patrick's Hall, St. John's, Nfld., July 19th, 1915.

In his customary comprehensive style, His Grace made an eloquent response thanking the Society for their magnificent gift and particularly for the sentiments contained in the address. Continuing, he reviewed the history of the Society and pointed out the usefulness and many accomplishments of the venerable institution during all the time of its existence. He emphasized the great pleasure it afforded him to become the Patron of the B.I.S. Archdiocesan speeches were also made by Rev. Fr. McDermott and Rev. Bros. Kennedy, Ryan and Egan. The gift is a pattern of the celebrated De Burelio Chalice made in Ireland in 1494 and is a splendid work of art. The meeting closed amid rousing cheers for the Archbishop.

Casuals Win From Saints.

The Casuals defeated the St. Andrews by three goals to nothing in their evening's football match. The players were:

SAINTS — Goal, Ewing; backs, Strang, Barnes; halves, Johnson, Foster, Elton; forwards, Crawford, Ewing, Kerr, Bastow, Spry.

CASUALS — Goal, Peters; backs, Hartley, Thistle; halves, Reid, Gould; forwards, Marshall, Smith, Pearce, Squires, Chancey.

During the early part of the game the Saints played all round their opponents and erratic shooting was accountable for their non-success in scoring. The Saints won the toss and choose the western territory leaving the Casuals at a disadvantage with a strong breeze blowing against them. After twenty minutes of play the Casuals made a desperate rush and Chancey scored. In the next period the Casuals had matters practically all their own way and notched up two more goals through Chancey.

OIL WELLS.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Sluash." An oil well is a hole in the ground about a quarter of a mile deep, into which a man may put a small fortune or out of which he may take a big one. And he never knows until the hole is finished.

Nothing is as non-committal as an oil well that isn't finished. An sphinx is garrulous beside it. But when it is finished, it either goes on being quieter than ever, or it begins spouting automobiles, trips to Europe and large knobby mansions in New York.

It takes a couple of thousand dollars, several months, and a couple of non-committal men in mud-plastered overalls to dig an oil well. They begin by going up about sixty feet.

When they have finished their derrick they hang a drill in it. This drill weighs half a ton and is as large as the one which the dentist uses on a red-hot wisdom tooth. Then the men hitch the drill to an engine and punch a forty-two centimetre hole in the earth's crust. Sometimes after they have been punching away for several weeks, the hole blows the derrick into the sky, utterly ruining it. Then the owner shrieks with glee and employs 500 men to catch the spouting oil in barrels. But sometimes the derrick is as good as new when the hole is finished. Then the owner curses and takes the derrick away to some other place which smells oily.

An oil well with its fancy-work on top clutters up the landscape a good deal, but nobody seems to mind. In Cleveland, Ohio, some of the finest residences in the city are defaced by well-derricks in their back yards, but the owner of the house does not tear his hair and mourn, because his cucumber vines are getting trampled on. He merely sings a low sweet song on the first of each month and goes down to the safe deposit vault to cut coupons. We would enjoy being a rich man and having an oil well invade our back yard. We would even consent to be a very poor man if an oil well would come and deface our asparagus bed and fill our cellar full of petroleum and our sock full of new $20 gold pieces.

An industrious oil well is one of the pleasantest companions on earth even if it does gum up the surroundings a little. It is one of the few things on earth which finds a warm welcome anywhere.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

Cork linoleum is kept in good condition if wiped off daily with a cloth wrung out of tepid water and wiped once a week with skimmed milk. If bread has been forgotten and becomes too light, do not put it into the oven, but knead it down again and allow it to stand until it is just right.

A plain hard varnish finish should be given to the kitchen linoleum once a year; apply the varnish very thinly. When dry, wipe over with milk and water.

Left-over pieces of Boston brown bread may be made into a palatable dessert pouring over them a sauce made of maple syrup and chopped dates and nuts.
