

We Spent Royally for Defense.

Let Us Now Spend Wisely for Construction

We need more roads. MAKE THEM.

We need more buildings—home, public and industrial. CONSTRUCT THEM.

We need wide gauge railways and equipment. PRODUCE THEM.

We need homesteads for many of our returned soldiers. Drain the swamp and irrigate the arid lands, and they will "blossom like the rose."

Possibly 500,000—certainly not less than 300,000—horse-power is literally running to waste in our streams. We need industrial power. Harness the streams. Build the dams. Construct the power plants.

The IMMEDIATE carrying out of only a fraction of our needs in these lines of production will put to work every idle man and every idle dollar in our country.

The PURCHASING POWER of the labor and capital thus profitably employed, plus normal demand, plus foreign demand, will keep every wheel turning, every factor of commerce busy at top speed.

Every DOLLAR wisely expended on productive lands, buildings, railways, good roads, power plants, and on the development of our MINING RESOURCES, particularly our COAL MINES and similar undertakings, is an addition to the permanent wealth and industrial progress of our country.

The development of our COAL FIELDS will accomplish all these great things. We have possibly THREE HUNDRED MILLION TONS of high grade COAL on our areas, with FIFTY THOUSAND TONS IN SIGHT.

SHARES ONLY $1.00 EACH.

NOTES ON THE GAME.

Last year's champs—the Cubs—received another rude shock when the B.I.S. submarined them amidst by a score of 7 to 5, and sent them floundering to the bottom of the pennant path. A good brand of ball was handed out but three palpable errors in the Cubs' infield let in as many unearned runs, as an Irishman occupied the third sack in each instance when the blunder was made. The star of the series was Kid O'Donnell a youth of 17 summers, who played third base for the B.I.S. His fielding and throwing were quite professional, while his base-stealing thrilled the fans who turned out in great numbers to witness the clash. O'Leary pitched well and shows great improvement on each appearance. Hall—the old reliable—did good work but at times was unsupported by his battery mate.

Previous to the League game the Junior League presented a five innings game, the contestants being the Junior Wanderers and St. Patrick's Hall, which was won by the latter with a score of 11 to 5. The youngsters played well, and some of the play was quite clever.

NEXT GAME.

The last game of the first round will be played to-morrow night when the Wanderers and Red Lions will meet in battle array. The outcome will be quite important as it will place the winners on a par with the B.I.S. The game will start promptly at 6.30, and players are asked to bear in mind this change in the starting time.

The Majestic.

Patrons who attended the Majestic Theatre on Monday night are loud in their praise of the enterprise and modern ideas of the proprietors. The rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner" and "Rule Britannia" by Mrs. King, the prima donna of Newfoundland, was a revelation to the vast audience, who did not think that such sentiment and patriotism could be infused into a mere song. The quintette of French sailors from the destroyer Somme who sang the Marseillaise with such verve and abandon was a surprise to the audience, who while expecting something novel was not prepared for the innovation which the management had created. The response was spontaneous, the whole audience rising to their feet as the now familiar strains of the great battle song of France issued from the lips of the vocalists and resounded through the auditorium. Patriotic fervor was at its height and every one remembered the gallant deeds of Newfoundland's heroic sons on the great day in which they had braved and beaten the pride of the enemy. The applause was loud and long and Mrs. King and the sailors of La belle France received the approbation of the audience without stint. It is due to such efforts as these that the Majestic is without peer in entertainment and future patrons will not regret changing their allegiance for kindred shows.

McMurdo's Store News.

WEDNESDAY, July 2, '19. It is again our privilege to welcome home a company of battle-scarred heroes, from the lands where they have taken their part in saving civilization from the Hun. Newfoundland will never forget what they have done—yesterday's celebration, which will become an annual and, we hope, permanent feature in our national life, will assure that. And Newfoundland will not forget the boys themselves, but give them every assistance possible in helping them back to take their place in our social, political, industrial life. We are poorer—how much poorer we shall never know—for those who will never come back to us; but their examples will be a constant inspiration, their names a sacred possession. But to those who have survived and who have now come back, we tender a hearty welcome to-day.

Glasgow's Appreciation.

Shortly before the S. S. Cassandra left Glasgow on the afternoon of June 24th, the Mayor and Councillors visited the ship and were received by Major Emerson and officers of the Nfld. and Canadian regiments. On behalf of the citizens of Glasgow the Mayor addressed the troops and paid high encomiums to the splendid service performed by the Colonials in the Great War. He wished them all God-speed and a safe return to their homes and loved ones. Three rousing cheers were then given by the troops for the Mayor and citizens of Glasgow for their kind wishes and for their liberal donation of 50,000 cigarettes. After the singing of "An Old Lang Syne", and while the Scottish bands played "Britannia Rules the Waves," the S. S. Cassandra moved out of dock into the Clyde on her way to sea with the last draft of the Royal Nfld. Regiment.

R. Q. M. S. Barrett, of the Nfld. Forestry company, who had been in Scotland for over two years, returned yesterday by the S. S. Cassandra. He is as hale and hearty as ever, and speaks in glowing terms of the land of Old Scotia.

MARRIED.

At Manuels, on June 5th, by Rev. Fr. Kelly, Miss Hannah O'Dwyer to Mr. James Nugent, both of Kelligrews.

DIED.

Last evening, after a long illness, Dora Stevenson, beloved wife of James Thompson, leaving 4 sons, 2 daughters and 1 sister to mourn her. Funeral Thursday, at 2.30 p.m. from her late residence, 16 Pennywell Rd.—R.I.P.

Passed peacefully away on July 1st, after a short illness, Mrs. Sarah Targett, widow of the late Peter Targett, of Holyrood, and mother of Lance Corporal Frederick J. Targett, who died of wounds, October 15, 1916, in France, leaving to mourn her one daughter and a large circle of friends. Funeral on Thursday at 2.30 p.m. from her son-in-law's residence, Mr. Thomas Scott, 24 Clifford Street.—R.I.P.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Sgt. Wm. B. Knight, who was killed in Action on July 1st, 1916, aged 23 years. "Now he peacefully sleeps in a Soldier's grave Somewhere in France."

IN LOVING MEMORY of Pte. John Barton, who was killed at Beaumont Hamel, July 1st, 1916. "He died that we might live."

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear nephew, Pte. Wm. Chaytor, who passed away a few months ago. Somewhere in France. Laid in a Soldier's grave. In a far-off distant land, Missed by those he left behind, Gone to a better land.

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear nephew, Pte. Wm. Butler, killed in Action in France, July 1st, 1916. He answered the call of his country For the sake of those he loved; We miss him now amongst us, For God called him above.

IN LOVING MEMORY of John J. French, of A. Co., Royal Nfld. Regiment, killed in action at the battle of Beaumont Hamel, July 1st, 1916. May his soul rest in peace. In sunny France there's softly sleeping, Where the flowers gently wave, Lies the one we loved so dearly, In his lonely, silent grave.

IN SAD, BUT LOVING MEMORY of Pte. George Lukins, No. 544, who was killed in Action at Beaumont Hamel, July 1st, 1916. We often sit and talk of him, And think of how he died; To think he could say good-bye Before he closed his eyes: When days are dark, and friends are few, 'Tis then dear son, we long for you; Could we but kneel beside his grave And shed a silent tear, But oh! he sleeps in far-off France The boy we loved so dear; His cheerful smile, his loving face, No one on earth can fill his place.—Mother.

IN LOVING MEMORY of 2nd Lieut. John R. Ferguson, and Sgt. Stewart Small Ferguson, killed at Beaumont Hamel, France, July 1st, 1916.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Pte. J. T. Morrissey, No. 1074, son of the late Lawrence Morrissey, painter, who was missing on the 1st of July, 1916 in the battle of Beaumont Hamel, now believed to be killed and buried in some unknown grave. "This noble, brave young hero just in the prime of life when his King and Country called him responded for to go to fight for King and Country and for the German foe. Oh yes, we sorely miss him, his comrades one and all, and God he choose his own wise end. He took him from us all." Rest in peace—J.E.M.
