"REG'LAR FELLERS"

"The Rebel."

"MURDER AT ITS WORSE."

BELFAST, Dec. 1.
Sean O'Carroll, school teacher, and Patrick Tierney, son of an Ardes farmer, were taken from their beds and shot to death yesterday, by men allegedly wearing uniforms.

"It's a hundred years since my grand-sire bid Farewell to an Irish lane. To a homestead wrecked by a law that sought

His rebel head in vain—
And Sean O'Carroll crossed the seas,
Till to this land he came.

But one of a hundred thousand fang
To the ends of the earth was he:
Whose head appeals to the world to-day

For Ireland's liberty.
For ever amongst the list of dead
Our kintocks names we see.

Yes Sean O'Carroll is slain to-day
By the base assassin's hand:
For the same old sin as his sires of old

The love of his native land—
Thus is the bridge of a hundred years
By a deathless spirit spanned.

"I have my soul," said Belgium's King
To the jeer of the taunting Hun—
"Thou canst not quench its immortal light
By terror of tank or gun."
And the soul of Erin shall not fall
Where Belgium's soul has won.

Middle Classes Form Unions.

Middle class trade-unionism in England has suddenly startled the public by the boldest and the most daring ultimatum to employers that has ever been pronounced by clerical labor. A veritable army of men and women who claim to be the most oppressed and the hardest-driven and under-paid class of workers have come out openly in favor of supporting the Insurance Clerks' Trade Union, now engaged in a strike to test their right to join unions. All other brain-workers' unions, known in London as "The Black-coated and Pen-pushers' Guilds," have declared war on their employers for recent dismissals of those adhering to unionism, and they will call a general strike, if necessary, to vindicate the right of brain workers to combine for mutual protection. Besides exchange and bank clerks, shipping clerks, accountants and lawyers' clerks and secretaries and railway clerks, there is also a legion of State employees. In fact, the entire civil service is a part of the "Black-coated" movement. Not only are the employers and State officials surprised at the outburst from this army usually labeled "The faithful," but organized labor itself is gaping in wonderment at such a display of independence among a class of workers which they had always considered in the words of one of their leaders, a gang of renegade slaves. Professional workers, who are in the process of achieving great results in their efforts, are watching the black-coats—their next-of-kin—in their present demonstration with intense interest and a good deal of solicitude.

Investigation Held.

Yesterday evening, Mr. T. A. Hall, Government Engineer, went to Bell Island and held an investigation into the death of blaster S. Penney, who lost his life in the Nova Scotia slope No. 3, a few days ago. The result of the enquiry has not yet been made known. For the prevention of fatal accidents it is evident that there is need for a mining inspector, under Government control.

Imprisoned in Coffins.

The most terrible prison in the world is Urga, Mongolia. It consists of a triple stockade enclosing a number of underground dungeons which are pitch dark and almost devoid of ventilation. But this is not all. The wretched prisoners condemned to inhabit them are shut up separately in heavy, iron-clamped chests, in shape resembling coffins. There is a small hole in the side of each, just big enough for the poor wretch inside to thrust out his head or his manacled hands. They see daylight for but a few minutes daily, when their food is thrust into their box-prisons through the hole. They can not lie down flat, they can not sit, for they are not only manacled but chained to the coffins. The majority are in for life sentences, and no prisoner is ever allowed out of his box under any circumstances, except when he is to be executed or, as happens very rarely, to be set free.

City hills and inclines are in a slippery and dangerous condition frequently at this time of the year. We would recommend a good strong stick with a spear in the end of it to prevent broken limbs. BISHOP, SONS & CO., LTD., Men's Furnishing Dept. has a very large collection of Sticks at reasonable prices, with and without spears. For persons who will call now there are some good Sticks at low priced as one dollar each.

Where Cocaine Comes From.

The cocoa plant from which the anesthetic cocaine is derived comes from Bolivia, where the native Indians chew it. The drug enables them to go without food for long stretches of time, but of course its use is injurious to the nervous system. Bolivia itself manufactures no cocaine, exporting the leaves to other countries where the drug is extracted.

BEGIN TO BUY XMAS GIFTS NOW

SAYS CHERY JOE.

Of course you all want "him" to prance down Xmas morning, his face a big sun of happiness, beaming to say, "How on earth did you know that this was just what I wanted?"

Many Xmas gifts for "him" don't just plan out that way.

Because—

People will wait until fifty-nine minutes to ten Xmas Eve to burst in on an overwhelmed, busy clerk to purchase that important gift that should have a week's careful consideration 'way back in November.

And when gifts are bought that way I'll stake a whole sledful of joy they do disappoint. If that "him" is a person of any consequence at all, he deserves to have more than one minute of your time devoted to the purchase of something he has to wear for at least a day. And if real thought and time is given to the purchase, he WILL wear it until next Xmas comes 'round.

Advice: BUY NOW, and Buy Men's Wear, for this is an Economy Xmas, and little articles to wear never disappoint.

Yours for the Right Gift at the Right Time,

CHERY JOE.

Best Time to Work.

Early hours prevailed up to the eighteenth century because the main occupation was agriculture. The lark then was not only the ploughman's clock. The factory system introduced night-work for a great mass of people and eliminated the individual craftsman who could choose his own hours of labor. As to the best hours, later evidence on industrial fatigue suggests that the hours of early morning and of late evening—over-time—are less fruitful of output than the central period of the day. Man's tide of energy seems to spring afresh at sunrise and to ebb towards the night. The middle hours, therefore, may be regarded as the human dome of endeavor, since they include that portion of energy's ascending and declining curve which centres at the apex of noon.—London Daily Mail

Prehistoric Man.

A prehistoric cavern, containing the fossil remains of mammoth humans, who are believed to have lived unnumbered years ago, has recently been discovered in France following a lead of red stones in the hills near Reton (Haute Loire) some workers happened upon what they believed a stalactite twenty feet long from the ceilings, and a tiny stick trickled along the floor. At the extremity were found a few bones and teeth, some of the being nearly twelve inches long. French geologists who visited the are inclined to believe that in days when the volcanoes of the poured out frequent eruptions of the entrance to the cave was covered and the inmates imprisoned.
