A WARNING

Advice to Our Young Men and Women. A wise writer says: "The excesses of our youth are drafts upon our old age, payable with interest about 30 years after date." The young men and women of our time are too unmindful of health. They imagine that toe unmindful of health. They imagine that the strength and robustness of youth are inexhaustible, and therefore they feel themselves able to dive deeply into every round of pleasure and excitement. Late hours, insufficient sleep, bad ventilation, sudden transitions from heat to cold, over-indulg ences and excesses, the bustle of fashion and rush after social position and wealth are heavy drafts upon their health, which will certainly drag them down to ruin and are heavy drafts upon their health, which will certainly drag them down to ruin and decay before they attain middle age.

Any ordinary physician can easily point out on the street, market place, or in the church, such subjects as we now refer to. The pallid cheek, the sunken eyes, the emassiated body, the unsteady and trembling hand, the nervous disposition, the weak and irresolute step—all are sad, painful indications of youthful follies and ful indications of youthful follies and excesses. God forbid that such men and women will ever become the fathers and mothers of the next generation. God help our dear Canada if such be the case. We take it for granted that our young men and women are too proud of the history of their fathers and grandfathers, and love their country too well, ever to allow such a contingency to arise. They have heard of what science has accomplished for them, they have they have the too the second of them.
