London, Saturday, July 23. OF ALL Dickens' characters, Hon. Edward Blake says he likes "Pickwick" bost.

London Corporation and the Grand Trunk Railway are posing somewhat after the fashion of a pair of bashful lovers. Poor Mr. Carnegie! The Homestead troubles have damaged his property both at home and abroad. The British labor M.P.'s hasten to deny that he gave then money to aid in their election. THE United States will have an additional public holiday this year. Friday, Oct. 21, the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus, has been proclaimed a general holiday throughout the Republic by President Harrison. LADY JEUNE'S article on "London Society in the May number of the North American Review excited a discussion in England that has not yet subsided. In the July number of the Review W. H. Mallock made reply, and for August a closing article is announced by Lady France Balfour.

THE Grand Master of British states says he has sat in 25 Parliaments. What is of still greater interest at this stage is the fact that when he takes office next month he will be acting as Prime Minister of the Empire for the fourth term. No other Premier has ever enjoyed more than three

THE commission appointed by the Government to consider the question of dehorning cattle has completed its public labors by holding a session at Ingersoll. Mr. Henry Glendinning, a member of the commission, says that when he was appointed a commissioner he was cer-He had, however, never seen the operation performed at that time and knew nothing about it excepting that he was of the opinion that the animals would suffer great pain. Not one man who had practiced dehorning, and who had given evidence before the commission, had given it as his opinion that animals were in any way opinion that animals were in any way injured. Those who were opposed to dehorning, and who had given testimony, were in nearly every case persons who had never seen the operation performed and who advanced nothing but theories to back up their ideas. No one can tell what report the commission will make, but it is believed that it will recommend that, subject to certain conditions, dehorning may be

The anonymous donor of $200,000 to the Woman's College of Baltimore, concerning whose name many guesses have been made, is now said to be Mr. Alcaeus Hooper, or the firm of William E. Hooper & Sons, proprietors of the Woodberry Cotton Duck Mills. Mr. Hooper, who is 35 years of age, is a member of the board of school commissioners of Baltimore. The trustees are under promise not to disclose the name of the donor, and Mr. Hooper maintains silence. The gift, which increases the resources of the college to $800,000, is to be used in the erection of a memorial building and for the general needs of the institution.
