Crown Could Not Expect to Secure Convictions After Failing in the First.

The Obernesser Assault Case Commenced at December Sessions of the Peace.

In the county court this morning the grand jury brought in a true bill against Francis Chantler on the charge of stealing lambs. With regard to the other two charges of receiving stolen cattle, Mr. McKillop said that he was not prepared to proceed, having failed to secure a conviction in the first case. He had no hope of securing convictions on these two charges. Mr. Ed Meredith, counsel for defense said that it was unfair to let these charges hang fire. Defendant's business had been ruined by the action taken against him, and he was anxious o sell out and go to the Northwest as soon as possible. It was finally agreed that the above charges should be dropped. The charge of theft was laid over until the next session of the court.

The case of the Crown vs. Obernesser was then taken up. It will be remembered that Mr. E. A. Best, traveler for Brener Bros., brought a civil recover damages for an assault alleged to have been committed on Sept Out of this case has arisen the ase of the Crown vs Obernesser. Mr. Best was the first witness. He described the trouble that took place in the bar, and the alleged steps taken by Mr. Obernesser. He said in part: "Mr. Obernesser said, 'You're the that caused the trouble.' He then with my hands. Someone was striking me on my back. A policeman then came in by the front door and asked what was the matter. He was told that I had been assaulted. He asked me if I was going to lay an information. I replied 'yes,' and went to the police station with him. Later on, I returned to Obernesser's for a box of cigars which had been knocked from my hand. I did not get it. Mr. Oberesser then asked me if I wanted to wash my face, and I did so."
