SMALL ATTENDANCE ON LOCAL MARKET

Hay Sold From $11 to $13-Vegetable Offerings Were Light.

Owing to the fact that there was not a brisk demand for the offerings on the local market on Tuesday there was a small attendance today. Some fifteen to eighteen loads of bay

Bank of Commerce sold at prices ranging from $11 to $13 per ton, and the majority of the sales were made at $12.50 per ton. A couple of loads of straw were sold at $7.50 per ton, Oats were firm at $1.06 per cwt. Few vegetables were offered today, Molsons Bank .... Bank of Nova Scotia Bank of Ottawa .... Royal Bank ....

as the weather was too severe to bring greenhouse produce to the market. A few loads of potatoes were sold at $1.05 per bag. Cabbages, turnips and carrots were the other varieties of vegetables sold this morning.

Butter and eggs were scarce, but there were no changes in the prices. It is not thought that the price of eggs will advance much more, as there is a large quantity of eggs in storage at the present time, and this will assist greatly at keeping the prices about the same as are prevailing at present.

The official from Toronto delivered a two-hour address in which he explained the regulations. It had been considered after much study that the method proposed would be the one best suited to the exigencies of the situation and with this in view it has been proposed to try it for the present school year. It had been pointed out that bilingual schools under the old method were not efficient, and the new system, while not involving any extraordinarily radical changes, proposed to remedy this by giving the pupil a good working knowledge of the English languae, which he was required to study, after the preliminary use of his native tongue.

If the board refuses to carry out the regulations and persisted in so doing, it would lose the Government grant, and not only this, but the present model and training schools for teachers in this city would be removed.
