

We Have Now in Stock NEW FRUIT! FOR THE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS. JNO. MOULE GROCER.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. Cook Wanted—Address H. Free Press. Dog Lost—Dominion Line. For Rheumatism—Beeson's Plasters.

DRESS-MAKERS. To Dress and Mantle-Makers. French and English Styles. Dress and Mantle-Making.

HARDWARE. HOBB'S HARDWARE COMPANY. LONDON. POET WHITE LEAD. MINERAL PAINTS AND COLORS.

EDUCATIONAL. SHORTHAND AND TYPE-WRITING. SHORTHAND INSTITUTE. Wm. C. Cox, 109 Dundas street.

REVERE HOUSE, CORNER RICHMOND and King streets, London. B. Jennings, late of Hotel White, proprietor.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS OF THE DOMINION. Attached to the Dominion and British-American Hotels.

KINCADIE HOTEL, CORNER RICHMOND and Queen streets, London. J. A. Thomas, proprietor.

OFFICE RESTAURANT (LATE CAMPBELL'S RESTAURANT), 109 Dundas street, London. J. A. Thomas, proprietor.

MONEY TO LOAN. MONEY LENT ON REAL ESTATE AND other securities. First-class business property.

VETERINARY. JAMES H. WILSON & SON, VETERINARY Surgeons. Office 96 1/2 King street, London.

STOCK BROKERS. JOHN WRIGHT, STOCK BROKER. Federal Bank Buildings, London, Ontario.

LIVERY. ATTENTION, TRAVELLERS! When you visit a hotel, don't forget to get a good carriage.

MARRIAGE LICENSES. MARRIAGE LICENSES OBTAINABLE ON application to W. C. Sprague, Registrar.

INSURANCE. WESTERN INSURANCE COMPANY OF Canada. Capital, $1,000,000. Assets, $2,500,000.

MUSICAL. THE MOORE RETURNS TO LONDON ON Tuesday, Feb. 7th, and will receive applications at the Royal Academy, 25, Strand.

BUSINESS CARDS. ABBOTT'S CARriage FACTORY. Nos. 208 to 214 DUNDAS ST., LONDON, ONT.

DEWONSHIRE DAIRY—25% DUNDAS street. Pure country milk received daily. Decrepit cream, butter and home-made bread.

MOLLIERE BATHS. Molliere Baths with electric and sulphur springs will cure rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

DR. J. H. GARDNER, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

LOCAL AND DISTRICT. FATAL CROSSING ACCIDENT. Johnson Wilson, of London West, killed at G. T. B. Crossing.

Mr. Vicar-General Bruyere is very low. He became unconscious yesterday, and it is not expected the end will be long.

Three drunks were fined $5 each by the P. M. today and three discharged.

Messes, Leonard Wylie, of Liverpool, Eng., and Frank H. Walker, of Huddersfield, Eng., are at the Tecumseh House.

Mr. Norman Currie, youngest son of Mr. Donald Currie, of this city, who has been in the water department of the Wabash Railway for over a year, has been appointed chief clerk in his department.

"Bouquet" Benson, who is now in the City Hospital with an attack of chronic bronchitis, has deposed the trustee of the Ontario Trust, the better part of value, and has been appointed trustee.

Mr. Benjamin Wilson, of Wingham, agent of the Bank of Hamilton there, has accepted the position of manager of the Wingham branch of the Bank of Montreal.

An attempt was made early Saturday morning to obtain entrance to the grocery store of Mr. O'Higgins, Dundas street, but the effort was unsuccessful.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

Dr. J. H. Gardner, M.D., LONDON, Ont. Office and residence, No. 21 Dundas street, London, Ont.

THE SPORTSMAN'S COLUMN. Interesting Notes of Sports From the Turf, Kennel, Diamond, &c.

Minneapolis is trying to buy Kappel from Cincinnati. Jack Nelson will play third base for the Buffalo club next season.

Becher, of the Pittsburg, the great Eastern League slugger, is for sale. Mike Kelly will be the highest salaried player on the Boston club's payroll.

The Louisville club has given up all idea of securing Latham from the St. Louis Browns.

Andrew Laidlaw, the noted Woodstock dog fancier, had a valuable dog poisoned a few days ago.

M. Griffin, the old favorite of the Uticas, has refused to sign with Baltimore for the salary offered him.

Second baseman Burdock, of the Boston club, has kept very quiet and secluded since his recent escape.

Pittsburg would like to secure O'Brien of the Washingtons, and is willing to pay $3,000 for his release.

Manager Harry Wright, of the Philadelphia club, is arranging to take his team to Florida in March for practice.

It is virtually settled that Billy Collier will play with the Albany club of the International League next season.

Ticomb, who played with Philadelphia, Jersey City and New York, has season says that in spite of his changes he cleared $2,700.

Pat Killen has posted a forfeit of $200 for a match for $1,200 a side against McLaughlin, the man who recently defeated Regan.

The Athletic club of Philadelphia, who have eight pitchers and the same number of catchers in the combination when the season opens.

Arthur Chambers has offered to match Jimmy Mitchell against Wm. Meyers, of Stratford, Ill., in a night to a finish for $1,000 a side.

Jack Fogarty, who was whipped by Jack Dempsey in 27 rounds on Feb. 6, 1886, offered to fight him again for $2,500 or $5,000 a side.

All the broken down pitchers in the country have resigned the use of their arms, and are frantically wiring this information to managers.

The Detroit club has been ordered to report in New Orleans for play April 1. The team will not be worked as hard as last season in the preliminary games.

Doc Mansell, who played with the Lockport and Rutland, Vt., teams last season, is negotiating with the management of the Auburn club to play first base.

League players say that the game could be improved all around if the clubs would pay some attention to their grounds and keep them in a fit condition to play on.

Dave Howe, who is to manage the Kansas City association team, has started for the East to make terms with the Metropolitan and Brooklyn players assigned to Kansas City.

Roseman, the old Metropolitan pitcher, has little to say these cold winter days, but his stentorian voice will again be heard when the birds begin to warble in the spring.

"Heady" Gallagher, of Cleveland, who fights Sam Bittle at Cleveland to-day, offers to fight any 145-pound man in America.

Jack Fogarty proposes to fight the winner of the Gallagher-Bittle contest, but before the injured man signs will be in a position to give evidence.

Longfellow's Better. To the Editor of the Free Press. Sm.—I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

CITY MILK SUPPLY. THE BOARD OF HEALTH AND THE DUTY OF INSPECTION. A Local Standard and Its Enforcement.

To the Editor of the Free Press. Having received several samples of city milk for analysis, also numerous inquiries as to the best methods of preventing adulterations, I ask the privilege of a small space in your columns on a subject which so materially concerns every milk consumer in this city.

Passing over the illiberalness of some specimens which I have examined, and saying nothing about the propriety of milk which make it a ready vehicle for the transmission of contagious diseases, I pass on to the question of standards required for the successful detection of the ordinary methods of adulteration.

I am pleased to see that the Board of Health are taking the matter in hand, and I hope they will release me of the thankless occupation of performing duties for the citizens at my own expense, when officials are paid for looking on. There can be no further excuse for adulterated milk, for the Board have now the necessary instruments for making reliable tests, and they should spare no pains in causing the guilty parties to suffer justice.

Even if there were milk standards for the Province or for the Dominion, I would not advise their adoption, as the city can easily establish standards of its own. Every milk producer licensed to sell his product in the city should, when registering his name and address, bring with him a sample of the milk from his entire herd for analysis, and should make an affirmation or affidavit that the milk is pure and of good quality.

The effect that such a fair specimen of the milk which he intends to deliver. The book containing the entries of herds, analysis of the milk, etc., should be open for inspection to the citizens, so that they could find out the quality of the milk they are purchasing, and could make their terms with the dealer accordingly. This restriction should not interfere with the duties of the milk inspector or health officer, to visit the dairies as often as convenient for purposes of inspection and for taking samples of milk for further analysis; fact, it should be incumbent upon the health officer to issue a check on the producer by seeing that samples are also procured directly from the producer, and that such a fair specimen of the milk which he intends to deliver.

Each deliverer should have his name and number marked distinctly upon his vehicle, so that the Inspector will have no difficulty in identifying the parties and ascertaining if any unwholesome milk is being delivered. These observations, Mr. Editor, are but a mere outline of the scheme, there are many details connected with it, notably the rules for obtaining samples on the street or other places, but I shall not occupy any more of your valuable space for the present. From my experience in handling all qualities of milk, I am convinced that your Board of Health could do immensely good service to the citizens without incurring any additional expense. Hoping you, Mr. Editor, will also take up the matter, I am, yours, etc., W. A. MACROSSAN.

London, Feb. 6th, 1888.

"Bub," said the agent, as a little boy opened the door, "I shall be very glad to see you in the kitchen trying to fix the stove; it won't bake. Who your I say wants to see her?" "Tell her it's the new minister who will call again."

LOCAL NOTICES. Dr. Woodruff has gone to New York for a few weeks to attend the hospitals. Drs. Laugh and Wishart will look after his patients.

Take your pictures to John E. Chester, 243 Dundas street, to be framed or registered. Orders promptly executed by practical workmen. Latest designs in American moulding always on hand.

"TALLYHO" LIVERY AND LODGING HOUSE, REPERTORY.—This stable is equipped with a first-class livery stock and well turned out. My covered bays give satisfaction to whomever they are used. I will see my stock and stables. Telephone 687.—J. F. FUCHS, Proprietor.

WEDDING AND FUNERAL DESIGNS. Hanging Baskets, Plants of all kinds, at W. & M. GIBSON'S, opposite school house, London West. 11514.

WEST FLOREST, NO. 209 DUNDAS ST. E. Houses, furnished and unfurnished, with and without beds. Telephone. 14373.

FIRST-CLASS CUT FLOWERS. Floral designs and plants for decoration. Orders left at City Hall Fruit Store promptly attended to. Telephone No. 26. A. R. HAY, Florist, London West.

HANGING BASKETS, VASES, ETC. Made to order. Large quantities, wholesale and retail. JAMES GARDNER & SONS, Oxford street east. (25)

DENTISTRY. C. E. KNIGHT—SURGEON DENTIST. Dental Surgeon, Ontario, Toronto and Niagara. 92 Dundas street.

DENTAL SURGEON. DENTIST. FITZGERALD, DENTIST. 34 DUNDAS ST. W. DENTIST. 201 BAY ST. W. DENTIST. Dr. Purcell's new process for amalgam teeth.

DENTIST. H. B. NELLES, D.D.S., DENTIST. FITZGERALD, DENTIST. 34 DUNDAS ST. W. DENTIST. 201 BAY ST. W. DENTIST. Dr. Purcell's new process for amalgam teeth.

DENTIST. H. B. NELLES, D.D.S., DENTIST. FITZGERALD, DENTIST. 34 DUNDAS ST. W. DENTIST. 201 BAY ST. W. DENTIST. Dr. Purcell's new process for amalgam teeth.

DENTIST. H. B. NELLES, D.D.S., DENTIST. FITZGERALD, DENTIST. 34 DUNDAS ST. W. DENTIST. 201 BAY ST. W. DENTIST. Dr. Purcell's new process for amalgam teeth.

DENTIST. H. B. NELLES, D.D.S., DENTIST. FITZGERALD, DENTIST. 34 DUNDAS ST. W. DENTIST. 201 BAY ST. W. DENTIST. Dr. Purcell's new process for amalgam teeth.

DENTIST. H. B. NELLES, D.D.S., DENTIST. FITZGERALD, DENTIST. 34 DUNDAS ST. W. DENTIST. 201 BAY ST. W. DENTIST. Dr. Purcell's new process for amalgam teeth.

DENTIST. H. B. NELLES, D.D.S., DENTIST. FITZGERALD, DENTIST. 34 DUNDAS ST. W. DENTIST. 201 BAY ST. W. DENTIST. Dr. Purcell's new process for amalgam teeth.

FREE PRESS CORRESPONDENCE. Longfellow's Better. To the Editor of the Free Press. Sm.—I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.

Longfellow wrote nothing like that. His beautiful soul appreciated what in the world is pure and beautiful, and much of his poetry is the flowering of the heart. It is not that he was a Unitarian, but that he was a man of high faith—that his heart manifested itself in his poetry, and that his poetry was the flowering of the heart.

There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half-belief. I am sure. I have seen several letters in your paper lately discussing the religious belief of the poet Longfellow. It is said that he was a Unitarian, and that he was a Unitarian.