WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 4, 1884.

The Pumping Engine.

A good deal has been said in the city papers with reference to the pumping machinery that is about to be ordered for the water department. An attempt has been made to secure the contract for one of the bidders on the ground that the work of building the machinery will be done in Toronto by a Toronto firm.

The only question before them now is this: to get the best possible pumping engine at the best possible price; and the widest liberty must be given them in order to carry out this paramount object.

It is no use thinking the matter, we must look at it straight in the face, our numbers (Trinity) college and university do not increase as they should do.

The same day—Monday—both the Montreal Gazette and Toronto Mail threw cold water on the new prophecy rumors from Washington.

"Lacelle," writing in the Montreal Gazette, says: "It is a singular circumstance that building operations should be brought to a standstill in Montreal for the want of bricks."

The Chicago Tribune, appears to be in a pretty bad shape. For the last several weeks the course of prices has been uninterceptedly downward, the decline since the middle of April amounting to fully 4c. per pound.

Professional "operators" frequently enough go on the bear side, and try to make money by breaking down the price of this or the other stock in the market.

Losses are made by bears as well as bulls, but it is a pretty sure thing that the far greater proportion of losses made by the general public are made by speculating for the rise.

Mr. French to His Dear Friends. To the Editor of The World. Will you kindly give me space in your valuable columns to make a few remarks on the bylaw that is to be voted on June 5.

Are the Detectives of any Service? To the Editor of The World. Sir: It seems to me that the detective service in this city might be greatly improved. I have had articles stolen from me, and have had the confession of the thief, knowledge of the second-hand stores where the stolen property had been received.

tempted to meddle with any stock which appears to be falling. And there is still something more to be said on this subject. It may be said that the non-professional adventurer on the stock exchange finds himself in an open market, where everything is ticketed "in plain figures," at its latest quotations.

But the practical difference has its root in the different relations, in the two cases respectively, in which the insiders—those who to a certain extent control the market—stand to the whole crowd of outsiders.

When the insiders know that a rise is coming; it is, of course, their interest to keep the thing dark and say nothing. They have to be very cautious, too, about appearing themselves anxious to buy, because that might attract too much attention, and spoil their game.

The innocent outsider, therefore, is never permitted to buy the stock that is destined soon to rise, except if he may be by some other outsider as innocent as himself.

But when a fall is anticipated in inner circles the scene changes. Then they or their agents work like beavers to get the public to buy and frequently with great success.

from parliament, and a great deal more than they ought to have got. If my memory serves me, they got $100,000 for the Garrison cause, and do not think it would be necessary to spend more than $10,000 or $12,000 for the purpose for which it was got, and if so it would leave $88,000 of a balance on that account.

It also succeeded in getting $100,000 for the new engine for the water-works. I am informed they got a first-class engine, warranted, for $60,000 or $70,000, Canadian manufacture.

Now, Mr. Editor, it is wonderful how these gentlemen seem to be disposed to encourage home manufacture. It is because these gentlemen do not give any free rides through the country that their offer is refused or what is the reason? It is about time that we knew. I trust the rat-payers, one and all, will give their opinion on this, and respond in the same way that they did Mr. Turner's million and a half irredeemable notes.

the demands of these second-hand dealers in such cases, for if this were done, these dealers would be quite safe in buying any amount of stolen goods. They would have a double chance of sale. If the person robbed did not pay them they could sell the articles to the general public. If anything like this is going on, it is no wonder that there are so many second-hand stores.

The whole obstacle to my getting my goods is that I would not pay the receiver. No one should do this. The detective brought in 16 second-hand stores to me to see if I would remunerate him. I would not. Then the excuse is raised that I must swear to the goods. But, although repeatedly applying, I cannot find that they have ever been brought down to be sworn to.

WM. PARK. Toronto, May 31, 1884.

THE WORLD IN PARAGRAPHS. The duke of Rutland has taken so heavily to heart the removal of the duke of Wellington's statue from Hyde Park that he writes: "It is well possible I would resign my peerage."

In order to impart dignity to the town of Margate, 111. forty of the merchants have signed a pledge to wear high silk hats, instead of the wide-brimmed slouches that are worn in fashion there.

One Saturday night last month Edward Pummel of Castleford, England, returned home drunk, and it is alleged ill used his wife, who was found dead next morning in a newly born child cradling by her side.

On May 13 the German Reichstag passed by acclamation the bill granting the sum of $23,750,000 to the other members of the cholera commission as a reward for their valuable discoveries in Egypt and India.

Three Indian highwaymen, fearing that the boys whom they had robbed might reach a neighboring village and report the crime before they could get to a safe distance, shot each of his legs, in order to lame him.

In Russia the heir to the throne comes or goes by rail. Private jewelers in charge of some distinguished person especially in the confidence of the czar. It is thought that Count Adlerberg, who held a high position in the czar's household, will be selected now.

Five children went home from a circus in Dakota deeply impressed with the feat of descending an incline on a globe. Finding a smooth log at the top of a steep hill, they took their places on it in a row, and set it rolling. They were all thrown off and run over by the log.

Three tramps commanded a woman at Crestline, Ohio, to cook a breakfast for them. She said coolly that she would do it, and they were all arrested instead of food, and they fled for their lives. She had more bravery than strength, however, and has since been a raving maniac.

The Parisian industrial exhibition, which opens June 1, the French crown jewels and the diamonds of the French Cap of Good Hope company, valued at $2,000,000, will be on exhibition. The exhibit wares worth $4,000,000. Elaborate precautions for safe-guarding have been made.

In France lately a young conscript failed to answer to his name when the roll of revision was sitting. A person present said that the young man had hanged himself, preferring death to coming before the council. It was true. The young man's father was in the revision hall, and thought that his son was there with the other conscripts.

Three existing manuscripts of Gray's "Elegy" have recently been examined by the Rev. Dr. James Freeman Clarke, and he has concluded that the poem was "the first-class work of a third-class poet." The alterations in the manuscript were so numerous, so vastly improving and covered so many years of the poet's life, that he must be regarded as art without any inspiration.

Richardson no longer acknowledges the word lady. With them every member of the gentile sex is a woman, while the squire of the provinces are offended if she is called a lady. It would be a sound strange to say the "women of the ball" or "the women of the corps diplomatique"; but it would sound equally strange to say "a 'written lady' or 'pretty lady'." The French academy is called on to draw the line and lay down rules for the correct use of the disputed terms.

M. Jundt, a very eminent French painter, who was in the front rank of his profession, financially prosperous, and a great favorite of the court, committed suicide. He was unmarried, suffered from gout, and had nobody to take care of him. He was a man of great talents, and his suicide is a mystery. He was a man of great talents, and his suicide is a mystery.
