"What are your views regarding the pro-posed conference to amend the Confederation Act?" The World asked Mayor Howland

"I have very decided views as to the neces aity for such a conference," responded His Worship. "In its present shape I suppose all thinking men will agree that Confedera-tion is doomed. The time is ripe for a recast ion is doomed. The time is ripe for a recast of the whole basis upon which the Canadian provinces were joined together. The principle of holding provinces together by subsidies from the general Government is proven a fail-ure. "What are the principal difficulties in the way of a fresh understanding" "The race question is undoubtedly the most serious of all. The great problem will be how to accord to every section of the Dominion its rights and no more in a remodeled Confedera-tion Act. At present the Dominion as a whole is at the mercy of whichever applicant for bounty is the most importunate. The growing demands of Mr. Miercier in guebec are only possible under a defective provinces and the grumblings from the North-west are mercily results of the same imperfect onstitution. But the greatest obtails to a harmonious readjustment of the standing of the different provinces lies in Quebec." with the present generation of politicians." "But the question being urgent, the practical lead must be taken by somebody?" "I suggest the independent press as the proper leader of public opinion on this question. If the newspapers without party affiliations take up the subject in earnest the difficulties will disappear. The people will find some way of giving expression to their leanings outside the usual party methods. And the politicians will quickly follow the drift of public opinion, when to burk it would be use-less. When Canadian clizens as a whole are thoroughly roused up to believe that the time has come when Confederation, to live at all, must undergo a change in structure, the inde-pendent press will have accomplished a patriotic work. When the convention is finally called, by a direct vote of the people, the delegates will be selected because they have red hot opinions on the subject, and in this way the voice of the whole people of Canada will be obtained. Then we will see where in the different provinces are at variance in their views, and a great step will be taken towards substituting permanent harmonious relations for constant bickerings

The recent strike of fifteen varnishers in the plano manufactory of Heintzman & Co., in King street west, has developed into a larger affair. At 3.30 yesterday afternoon 70 of the 125 employes of the firm went out on strike. The machine men and some casemen are still at work, and the firm express themselves as being able to go on with their business, having nearly enough men to take the place of the strikers. To put the situation in a few words, it may be said that the trouble is not one of wages but of principle. The strikers claim that the foreman of a section of the varnishers, who was dis-charged a few days age because there was no tion to Secure the Amalgamation

Yesterday a dep-ulation of the men asked the firm to leave the matter to a board of ar-bitration consisting of a man chosen by each side and a third chosen by these two. The firm considering the strike an unjust one refused. The strikers, so the firm claim, demand the dis-

the firm, and is spoken of as a inst-thas me-chanic. Messrs. Heintzman say: "We prefer to man-age our own business and we consider this a most unjust strike. We do not care whether a man is a union or a non-union man, so long as he is a good workman. We employ either if it suits us. We are not in any way antagonistic to the Knights of Labor or any other union." They further stated that they will not be inconvenienced by the strike, and that they will have sufficient men to carry on the work. A committee was appointed to consider the establishment of a school of medicine that would occupy a closer relation to the university than those already affiliated with it. The idea is to secure the amalgamation of the present schools of medicine, and the establishment of the thoroughly equipped institution. Dr. Oldright's motion respecting matricula-tion at the second year's examination was re-ferred to a committee. The matter of printing the curricy han annually was also referred to a committee.

White Star Line-New Armed Cruisers. From the London Daily Telegraph. The Government, represented by the Admir-aliy, has made a special arrangement with the White Star Company, by which the service of their fleet is secured to the nation at peace prices in the event of transports being required, and the same agreement provides for the con-struction of new vessels by that Company of a type to meet naval-requirements asarmed cruis-struction of new vessels of that company of a type to meet naval-requirements asarmed cruis-ers. For these vessels—which are to be the largest and fastest vessels afloat—an annual subvention is to be haid, in consideration of the owners building them to meet the Admir-alty designs. against a government with great and painful swiftness. Steam transports and ortileers if hired from their owners, cost them an im-mense price, sometimes as much as sixty or eighty, thousand pounds a month. It is hotter on all accounts to make arrangements in time of peace, and to have purchased the right of fair treatment from the companies by assisting them beforehand to ren-der their ships serviceable. Concurrently with the mail contracts the Admiralty has signed and seeled a treaty with the White Star Com-pany, whereby the terms are settled upon which the nation can obtain in times of war the services of this splendid fleet. The same document providesfor the construction of a new type of White Star steamers. designed to meet all neval requirements as armed cruisers. It is not easy to imagine vessels more splendid than those which already, like the Adriatic and the Britannic, run under the White Star flag. For use in war there are, nevertheless, certain changes which must be made. The engines must be seated as low as possible, and protect-ed by the coal-bunkers and other means; the ship must be divided into many water-tight compartments, so as to lessen the chance of her foundering when penetrated by a shot; and the decks must be strengthemed in order to support the traversing of cannon. Speed however is the very essen-tial point for these armed cruisers, and as they prover, there is no fear that an enormy will out-strip them aslong as they carry any coalin their bunkers. An annual subvention is to be paid to the woners for compliance in thus building their mail ships in the form recommended by those who may have to employ them for war-like built at Belfast, and we hope they may bring "peace with prosperity" to that much agitated city.

Quick Passage of a White Star Steamer. From the Liverpool Courter. The White Star steamer Britannic, which left Sandy Hook, N.Y., on Friday, Jan. 28, arrived at Queenstown at midnight on Friday, Feb. 4, having accomplished the passage in seven days, ten hours and a halt, the fastest she has ever made, although it is thirteen years since she started on her maiden yoyage and she has now made her 117th round voyage to New York and back-her 23th across the Atlantic. The own-ers of the Britannic pride themselves on main-taining their fielt in the highest possible state of their ressels. Sit Edward Harland, remarked not long ago when on board the Adriatic, that when she was delivered from his yard fourteen years before. The present performance of the Britannic proves that her machinery must have been exceedingly well cared for through all these years for such apeed to be obtainable, and loth builders and owners are to be congratu-lated upon the gratifring results of their fore-sight and care, which have been obtained, not alone with the Britannic, but with the whole of the spindid White Star fleet.

change of natural products, the Industrial League might induce the people to accept such a compromise, but there is not the slightest likelihood of the Americans consenting to any such arrangement. They are as fully convinced as Canadians are that it is better to sell either cheap or dear than to buy cheap, and they want markets for their manufactures. The Butter-worth Bill, simply providing that the removal of a Canadian duty on an article of American production shall void the American duty on the same article of Canadian production, could be made, by the passage of a precisely similar measure by the Canadian production, the basis of a perfectly simple and satisfactory reciprocity treaty.
