poration of the River Bridge Company, and empowers its stockholders to con-struct and maintain a bridge for rail-road 'purposes' on the right bank of the Niagara River at some point between the Falls of Niagara and the mountain ridge above Lewiston, to some point in Canada on the left bank of said river. The bridge must be commenced before July 1, 1894, and completed in four years. The bill names James Adams, Henry D. Kirkover, George W., Bell, William B. Sirrett and Joseph E. Ewall of Buffalo, commissioners to salect a site for the bridge. It is alleged Governor Green told The World yester. day that Roland Gideon Israel Barnett had recovered from his recent illness and was in recovered from his recent times and was in sound bodily health. He is very much out of sorts, however, over his prolonged confinement, especially after the remarks of the judge in his case, allegung that they are keeping him in jal as a set off for the heavy expenditure they incurred in bringing him over from Eugland.

Joseph E. Ewall of Junaio, commission of to select a site for the bridge. It is alleged that the new structure is intended for the mae of the system of railways with which the proposed South Ontario Pacific line will be connected.

At Topeka, Kan., Wednesday night J. J. Shedlove and Gustave Werner quarrelled. Hearing shots persons entered the room to find Werner dead and Shedlove dying. The latter gasped that he had been shot by Werner and that Werner then shot himself. Circumstan-tial evidence, however, indicates that Shedlove did the shooting.
