In the program of the concert that had reached office, the English soprano boy's name affected in letters twice the size of those of the other performers. Perhaps that is only one of the funny ways they have at Toronto.

This paragraph probably refers to Frederick approach is not the concert. Perhaps that is only one of the funny ways they have at Toronto.

This paragraph probably refers to Frederick Williams, a youth of whom The World spoke in very plan torms at the time of his visit here, but whom the other morning papers described as a young person of divine voice. The remark of the writer in The News that Toronto is an ominous place and the other allusion that Toronto "owns a certain university" are specimens of that breed of English jokes that require a map to properly elucidate. The writer just seems fat-witted enough to misread the program, as the name on it was not Williamson. 12 KING-ST. WEST

The Heresy of Dr. Briggs.

The American newspapers are at present relying upon the clergy for that sensational news for which the reading public craves.

There is no lack of it, for the Presbyterians are scoring Dr. Briggs for hereasy, the Frie as at times disfigure its surface.

The Presbyterian General Assembly at Detroit has vetoed Dr. Briggs' appointment to the chair of Theology in the Union Seminary by a vote of 440 to 59. It is Druggists keep it.

Name of Director of D will show serious resentment to this course—
In fact there is a fear in some quarters that the institution will cut loose from Assembly control. But there are strong moral and material influences that will no doubt forbid thir. Freedom of thought is a most excellent thing but when a man in the exercise of that freedom reasons himself outside of the church whose doctrines he professes to expound ne is under a moral obligation to retire. Levalty to his own judgment should forbid him to enunciate the old principles which he believes to be erroneous, and justice to the church that nurtured and trusted him should prevent him from counterfeiting its signature to his newly-discovered faith. Presbyterians generally will support the Assembly in its veto. Laxity in doctrinal faith that might be overlooked in portions of the counterfeiting in the overlooked in portions of the counterfeiting and the later than the counterfeiting and the counterfeiting in the counterfeiting is signature to his newly-discovered faith.
