A SECOND REX BIRCHALL.

But This Swindler Stopped Short of Murder.

AN INTERESTING AUTOBIOGRAPHY.

Sidney Lascelles Turns Author in a Georgia Convict Camp.

The Gay Englishman who studied the various forms of crime in the Georgia convict camps, and who has written a most interesting autobiography, "A Second Rex Birchall," is now in the hands of the public.

"Lord Beresford," alias Sidney Lascelles, whose eloquence in February, 1891, from the dock, has been immortalized in the "Idealist," a rich young Jew, and whose subsequent swindling operations in this city while heading at the Arlington and St. Thomas streets, has been the subject of a most interesting and sensational book, "A Second Rex Birchall," by the author, Sidney Lascelles, who has written a most interesting autobiography, "A Second Rex Birchall," which has been published by the Toronto News Company.

When he was 19 years of age, he says, his father, who had advanced him a liberal allowance, was able to take him into one of the large London banking houses. Here, after six months, he was entrusted with the carrying of the bank's orders, and as the bank was the agent of several large American firms, he obtained advance knowledge of immense deals in progress, and soon made use of it in small speculations on his own account. Then he took into confidential partnership a London broker and went at it on a large scale, he furnishing copies of these American cables from day to day and the broker furnishing the capital and handling the deals on their joint account. He cleared $150,000 in the first three months and launched into all sorts of extravagance.

Then came his first downfall. One of the partners in the bank had a habit of making a heavy bet on a horse race. Shortly afterwards he was given an order to carry to the bank a large sum of money. He gave a copy to his brother partner, who forthwith made a great profit. When the exchange closed that day Eric had fallen nine points. He and his brother partner had lost $112,500. The bank had trapped him with a bogus order, previously arranged to be read "sell" instead of "buy," and broke his contract and his partnership.

Chummed with Lord Beresford. Then he got an appointment in the Indian civil service, and upon coming of age and into $25,000 "in the funds," he left his fortune in bank and sailed to India. There he immediately began a favorite with the Duke of Athol, he was invited to the Scottish estate of that nobleman and spent the next six weeks in the society of "dukes and duchesses, card parties, and general supervision of everything in the district.

Next Monday the Duke of Athol, who was a heavy gambler, was invited to the Scottish estate of that nobleman and spent the next six weeks in the society of "dukes and duchesses, card parties, and general supervision of everything in the district.

When he reached England he found his father was dead, and his mother died a few months afterwards. On the strength of a steamer acquaintance with the nephew of the Duke of Athol, he was invited to the Scottish estate of that nobleman and spent the next six weeks in the society of "dukes and duchesses, card parties, and general supervision of everything in the district.

MANY WRECKS ON THE LEHIGH.

NON-UNION MEN DEBATE THEIR TRAINS.

Wrecked engines, smashed cars, disabled cabooses strewn all along the track—these are the scenes of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, which has been the scene of a series of accidents during the past few days.

At Fairport, on top of the mountain, 12 miles from here, a freight engine, No. 402, going at the rate of 50 miles an hour, crashed into the rear of a caboose this afternoon, in which were seated two brakemen, Frank Wilson and another unknown, who were instantly killed. A few moments later the caboose caught fire and was soon destroyed. The mangled bodies of the brakemen were taken out, one having his arm burned to a crisp. The engineer of the 402 escaped injury. The coroner will hold an inquest to-morrow. It is reported that a brakeman, who was in the wreck at the round house near here this morning, died this afternoon.

A Green Switchman's Fatal Error. ROCKVILLE, N.J., Dec. 1.—A freight wreck near Bloomsbury Station on the Lehigh Valley Railroad to-day, killed a switchman, and wrecked both engines. Both tracks are blocked by coal cars. Johnson, in opening the switch at the round house, was struck by the engine, which was drawing oil. The train which was drawing oil.

Freight Train Derailment. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 1.—Six freight trains from Oxnard to Fairport were stalled on the cut-off late last night and deserted. They were left on the mountain.

FRUIT MESS DINE. Their Seventeenth Annual Banquet Held Last Evening. "All the labor of man is for his mouth." This quotation, which headed the menu card of the 17th annual banquet of Trinity Medical College, held at the Rostin House last night, was aptly exemplified in the dining room, where the students and guests attacked the good things provided for them by the dinner committee.

WARRING KENNEDY ACCEPTS

BERNARD SAUNDERS WILL BEHIND FROM THE CONTEST.

Unconfirmed Rumor That Robert J. Fleming Will Also Step Aside and Allow Mr. Kennedy to Be Elected by Acclamation.—The Mayor Still Declines to Show His Hand, However.

Mr. Warring Kennedy told The World last night that he would today enter the field as a candidate for the mayoralty for 1894.

It is reported that Mr. Bernard Saunders last night informed The World that he would retire in Mr. Kennedy's favor.

It was reported at the City Hall that Mayor Fleming had likewise decided to step aside and allow Mr. Kennedy to be elected by acclamation. His Worship neither denied nor confirmed the correctness of this rumor.

Ald. John Hallam stated yesterday that he was in the field for 1895, but would not be a candidate for Mayor at the approaching municipal elections.

At 11 o'clock this morning requisitions signed by 8000 citizens will be presented to Mr. Kennedy asking him to accept the nomination, which will acquire in the wishes of the petitioners.

A BOY HERO. At the Risk of His Life He Rescues Many From a Burning Building.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Fire broke out at 9 o'clock this morning in the Haymarket Theatre building, West Madison street. It proved one of the worst fires which the fire department has had to contend with for many years. The young man's name is James, which caused delay in getting water.

The front of building which is occupied by stores, saloons and the offices of doctors, dentists, photographers, real estate agents and jewelers, was completely gutted. The fire which spread from the theatre property from the front of the building saved it from destruction. The only damage done to the theatre was caused by water to the amount of $5000. The loss on the building will amount to $60,000.

The elevator boy, at the risk of his life, carried his car several times from the second floor to the top of the building and rescued a number of women from the flames, which were eating their way to the roof.

It is not any longer "well" to wear a big chrysanthemum in your button hole. The hat is the most fashionable in the street towards the setting sun, and is therefore repudiated by the really up-to-date Torontoites. There is one class of adornment to which Torontoites always tenaciously cling, although worn largely everywhere, and that is a quilted fur coat.
