exceptional butter conductors. This failure of the crops of that great wheat growing country was directly the cause of the market value of Mani-topa wheat being so high, aided also to a large extent by the failure of the Ontario crops of last year. The adop-tion of the drawback rule, bringing Canadian wheat to a higher level than would have been the case if the Eng-lish market had been the only outlet, also gave a stimulus to the selling price of flour. The consolation to be derived from a period of high prices is that there will be for the next few years can extra production in all the lines that were held at famine prices during the winter that is closing. In this respect there is, unfortunately, so much desire on the part of the pro-ducer to be in a position to supply all demands that the inevitable glut of supply will send prices down to the minimum, when the business will be come less profitable to the farmer, but more satisfactory to the consumer." ave been received at this station aring the past few days.
