SIGNIFICAN SPRING.

A Dissertation upon'its advent, and its effect upon mankind.

"The green leaf of the new come Spring." "The green leaf of the new come Spring,"—Shak.

Everybody recognizes spring, when it is once upon us, but many persons are not familiar with the exact date of it appearance. Webster, the world-renowed exacographer, gives us a definition, which may not by mappropriate here. "Spring," says the tis the season of the year when plants begin to vegetate and rise; the vernal season, comprehending the months of March. April and March.

tate and rise; the vernal season, comprehending the months of March, April and May, in the middle latitudes north of the equator."

Thomson, in his "Seasons," and Shakespeare, in many of his works, have, perhaps, no peers in describing it, and yet "esternal spring" is freighted with malarity what insidious foe, furking unseen in the perhaps, we breathe." It spreads over the particle with malarity what insidious four land; brings death and discuss to thousands; cuts off scores upon so the perhaps where are asking, "What is it?" "Where does it come from?" "What will cure it?"

Kinney-Wort As A Spring Medicine.

KIDNEY-WORT AS A SPRING MEDICINE.

Kidney-Wort as a Spring Medicine.

When you begin to lose appetite—have a headache, a pain in your side, back, and shoulders; to toss about at night in resiless areams, wake in the morning with a four mouth and furred tongue; feel disinclined to go about your work, heavy in body and oppressed in mind; have a fit of the blues; when your urine gets scanty or high coloured; to suffer with constipation, diarnhea, or indigestion; have a pasty, sallow face, dull eyes, and a blotched skin;—one or all of these common complaints will certainly be evidences that your liver is disordered, torpid, or perhaps diseased. A bottle of Kidney-Wort is, under such circumstances, a priceless bonn to such a person.

Bare assertions of proprietors have come to possess less force than they frequently merit.

possess less force than they frequently merit.
The cause of this condition of popular skepticism is, in the main, to be found in the fact that charlatanism covers our broad land. Meritorious articles are too frequently found in bad company.

The proprietors of Kidney-Wort always prove all their assertions, touching the merits of their preparations. When we affirm, therefore, that Ridney-Wort is a specific for just such diporfers as have been mentioned in this article, the proof, too, belongs to and shall, follow-this statement.

A Physician's Experience.

APHYSICIAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Dr. R. K. Clark, a regular physician of extensive practice in Grand Isle County, and a worthy deacon of the Congregational Church, at South Hero, Vt., has used Kidney-Wort for several years in his practice, and before the present proprietors purchased an interest in it, he had given his unbiased opinion in its favour. This opinion has not changed. "It has done better than any other remay I have ever used," says the Doctor, and, further on he writes: "I do not recollect an instance where the patient to whom I have given it has failed to receive benefit from its use, and in some severe cases most decidedly so." These are strong words. They are from a representative, conscientious, ever-approachable public citizen; however, and better still—they are true.

Kidney-Wort will bear all the enconnums lavished upon it by its friends—and their name is legion. "I will swear by Kidney-Wort all the time," writes Mr. J. R. Kauffman, of Lancaster, Pa. We will supplement this be asserting, as a matter of fact, and one capable 3d demonstration, that all honest patrons of this remedy are its friends and advocate.
