Peat Fuel.

One of the most interesting exhib-One of the most interesting exhibits at the recent Toronto industrial fair was that of the Canadian Feat Fuel company, of Toronto. It is well known that very large areas of peat bogs exist in many parts of Ontario, as well as in many other countries, but the companyon to the page of them has but the commercial value of them has never been demonstrated until a process invented by Mr. Dickson, of To-ronto, was brought into use. The product of this process is the transforma-tion of peat into blocks of fuel, each of which may be described as a novel article of manufacture, in the form of a hard, dense block, containing all of the fibrons, carbonaceous, volatile and other materials and elements which are originally embodied in the raw neat, and an amount of moisture only correspondingly approximately with that in the surrounding atmosphere. The new process solves the problem of furnishing a cheap, clean, uniform and reliable fuel for domestic purposes, as it is equally terviceable for grates, stoves, cooking ranges and furnaces, giving a long, bright flame and intense heat almost from the moment of acuition, and its durability compares favorably with that of coal in consumption, as the Censity and hardness of the blocks ensure the retention of their original form until the last atom of the inherent carbon and gas has been consumed. The combustion is so thorough that no volume of free carbon or deleterious vapor is allowed to escape, hence its hygienic and economic advantage over either hard or soft coal. It will not absorb any undue moisture or deteriorate while in storage, and it is odorless and cleanly to handle.

The above from the Canadian Manufacturer, of Toronto, may prove of interest here. There are large peat bogs in northern districts of Manitoba which might be turned to account for fuel. If the process described is all that is claimed for it.

A New Point of Law.

On Friday at the court beuse the referce delivered judgment on a new point raised here in a suit of Brand vs. Green. Plaintiffs were a firm doing business in Boston under the name of the Poston Fe.t Co. Defedants were u Ner York corporation doing business at Dolgeville and were the manufacturers of Dolge felt boots. Defendants being in financial difficulties the supreme court of New York made an order for the winding up of the company and the appointment of a temporary receiver on 14th of April last, and on 5th May made a further order dissolving the company and making the appointment of a receiver permanent. Between the dates of these two orders the plaintiffs sued the defendants and attached moneys in the hands of Arthur Congdon, de-fendants' representative in this country.

The liquidator or receiver applied to the court here to set aside the suit and attachment proceedings on the ground that the cause of action did not arise in Manitoba. That the defeadant corporation had been dissolved, that he is in liquidation; that Manitoba courts on the principle of international courts. international comity, recognize the proceedings of the foreign court; that there was really no debt due from Congdon to the defendant com-pany and that there could be no service on the defendant company as it was now practically dead.

Plaintiffs, among other grounds, con-tended that the court had jurisdiction reason of the existence of assets in Manitoba that is the debt duo and that the defendant company was not dissolved until after the Issue of the statement of claim and garnishee order.

The referee in chambers set aside the garnishee order as against the foreign receiver and stayed the proceedings in the sult. Mr. Haggart, Q. C., for the defendants, and the receiver. Mr. Perdue for the plaintiffs.
