ANARCHIST FIREBUGS.

PREDETERMINED ARSON BY JOHANN MOST S FOLLOWERS.

Good Detective Work Finds Out a Terrible Series of Crimes-A Convict's Ciri camstantial Confession.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.-In November, 1885, a fire broke out at 404 East 64th street, and Maria Fralks and her two children were burned to death. The fire was of incendiary origin. The orime was traced at the time, as supposed, to Edward and Henry Kohont and they were arreated with Henry Kohont's wire and put on trial. Edward and Henry Kohont were convicted and sentanced to the State prison for Life. The evidence against Edward Kohont was very peculier, it being shown that while Henry left the house fully dressed Edward had very little clothing on, and it did not appear very probable that there had been any conspiracy between them. All the defendants were Bohemians, and it was brought out at the trial that they belonged to an Anerohist group and were followers of Johann Most. Inspector Byrnes, however, made it his object to probe the mystery, and has finally succeeded in proving the in nocence of one of the prisoners. The real promotor of the plot, another Anarchist named John Kylan, stands accused. The fact that all the men concerned in the affair were Anarchists, threw some light on it and brought the fire marshal into the case. During a fight in the Anarchist camp, some who were opposed to Johann Most charged his faction with burning tenements in New York for the insurance. The charge was made in the Boston Liberty, an Anarchist paper, and instances were specified, among them the Kohont case. The fact that both brothers were followers of Most and corroborative evidence accumulating just then caused the fire marshal to make an attempt to extort a confession from Edward Kohout. He went to Sing Sing and held out a promise of pardon to him if he would tell all he knew. Edward had nothing to tell except that he was innocent and wrongly convicted. The fire marshal went back no wiser than he came. About this time another mysterious fire occurred in Sixteenth street by which a Mrs. Bock and an unknown man lost their lives. The stranger was afterwards identified. Both he and an unknown man lost their lives. The durchase out-nith of a treast in the Dur-stranger was afterwards identified. Both he and Mr. Beck were Socialists of the extreme stripe. Much excitement prevailed on the East side at the time. Detectives made per-a vacation. Before starting, however, he East side at the time. Detectives made persistent but vain attempts to work up the case. While at work evidence was obtained against a small clique of Anarchists, but not enough to warrant arrests. Cigarmaker John Kylian the same time telling his wife to examine was suspected. He lived in East Sixteenth carefully the number of the ticket when it er street, near the Beck's, who formerly lived at No. 403 East Sixty-fourth street.

on the property by the latter fire. He relied on the smallness of the amount to escape investigation. Inspector Byrnes, determined to sift the matter out, learning that Kylian lived in the same house with the Kohonts, in his mind connected Kylian with the crime. Through his detective he learned that some men had been seen carrying bundles of clothing out of the rooms of the Kohonts the night before the fire broke out. One of them resembled Kylian, and he learned that Kylian had kept away from the Kohont family since the conviction of the Kohont brothers. Inspector Byrnes went up to Sing Sing and bluntly told Henry Kohont that Kylian was his accomplice. He appealed to the convict's sympathy for his wile and the child born since the trial. The convict broke down finally and cursing his tempter, Kylian, told how the latter had made a compact with him to care for his wife if he was convicted. having broken his agreement Cvlian. was ready to talk. He told how Kylian had tempted him by telling him how easily the insurance money could be gained by firing the house, and bingged about the fire in East Sixty-fourth street. Kohont objected at first, on the ground that in crowded tenements many lives would be lost, but finally, on being appealed to as an Anarchist, he gave way. The prisoner then gave a full account of the way in which the fire started and the events that occurred. Kylian brought in whiskey, and it n reed him up to the deed. Kylian also furnished him with a half-gallon demijohn of His wife and brosher were asleep, and knew nothing of it. Kylian went away with the clothes and the prisoner went to bed. About an hour later Kylian came back and took away some fancy articles in a pillow case. Kylian then prepared the fuse which was to set fire to the oil in the demijohn and welt cut, after telling the prisoner to wake up his wife and brother when he placed in a room up stairs. Kohont said when the explosion came he was soared and did not run up to put any oil on the fire as directed by Kylian. He weke his wife and brother, and they all escaped. Afterwards Kohont and his wife slept at Kylian's house. and both agreed to cars for each other's families in case of arrest. Inspector Byrnes then saw Edward Kohont, and was convinced that he was innocent. Returning to the city he called on Mrs. Kohont and questioned her closel.y She told him she had missed money and many articles after the fire, and had been puzzled to account for it. The inspector consulted Recorder Smyth as to the law for unsupported testimony of a convicted felon, and how it would go against Kylian. The Recorder told him if Kohent's story was true, and some of the latter's belongings were found in his possession, the case against him would be clear. The inspector procured a warrant for Kylian's ariest; detectives searched his rooms and found Kohont's property which Mrs. Kohont identified Kylion was arrested at work in a tin cornice shop. He was wearing a coat belonging to Henry Kohont. The arrest was made on Thursday. On Friday the Kohont brothers were brought down from Sing Sing on a writ issued by Judge Churchill. To-day they were confronted with Kylian at police headquarters. The two brothers repeated their stories. Kylian, who is an ill-looking fellow, sniffed contemptuously at it, but admitted that some of it was true but more untrue. When asked to point out the parts that were true, he flew in a rage and was taken back to his cell. The police hope to convict him on four or five other arson cases, in which he is said to have figured with other Anarchist individuals engaged in swindling insurance companies.

Several branches of the League were not represented, out of the fact that they had failed to send their contributions to the National Funds, through Rev. Dr. O'Reilly, the General Treasurer o' the League in America. He hoped that in the future all moneys would be forwarded through the National League Executive, as it would give Ca-nadian branches a status in the great national org inization and would increase its influence and usefulness. STRUCK BY A STREAK OF LUCK. THE TREASURER OF THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE

GETS FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS ON A ONE-DOLLAR INVESTMENT IN THE LOUISIANA STATE

LOTTERY.

One of the happiest little families in New York is that of John H. Bones, the weilknown and popular treasurer of the Grand Opera House. He resides with his wife and two pretty baby daughters on the second floor of the neat flat house 340 West 45th st. For the last four months Mr. Bones and three of his friends of the Grand Opera House have been chipping in 25 cents weekly to durchase one-fifth of a ticket in The Louiwrote to a friend in New Orleans inclosing $1, and asking him to purchase one-fifth of a ticket in the next drawing of the lottery, at rived at his house, and to buy the Daily News on Wednesday, July 14, so that she could compare the number of the ticket with the numbers of the capital prizes in the News. When Mrs. Bones saw that ticket No. 77,227 had drawn the second capital prize of $25,050 she could scarcely believe her eyes, for that was the number of the fifth ticket which she had received, and consequently her husband was entitled to $5,000. She immediately cut out the dispatch in the News and forwarded it in a note to her husband. The latter, upon verifying his good luck, lost no time in returning to this city. He went at once to: Adams Express Company, where he exchanged his ticket for a receipt of $5,000. On Tuesday last the express company delivered to him a canvas bag containing 250 twenty dollar gold pieces. Yesterday Mr. Bones deposited $2,000 in bank in his own name, $1,000 in that of his wife and $1,000 in each of his child:en's. Most of the money was deposited in the Bleecker Street Savings Bank. Mr. Bones said last night: "I think I was very fortunate in drawing this large THE HOME RUDE FIND.

THE COMING REGISTRAR OF THE COUNTY OF CARLETON-A SAT-ISFACIORY SOLUTION OF THE DIFFICULTY.

To the Editor of THE POST :

SIR,-About eight months have elapsed by the demise of the istemuch-regretted Mr. Walter. There are many applicants for the position, much energy and wire-pulling being don Marican do, $5.50 to $6.00; do Ontario displayed for the coveted post ; but the Mowat Government, in its wise and judicious administration, has taken time and trouble to make all due and necessary enquiries as to who would prove to be not only the most entitied to the position but also as to who would prove the most capable tot filling it with justice and honor to himself as well as to the Government and people. It would appear, according to our informa-tion, that several of the apprants are equally entitled to the good will of the Governmen for their fealty and services rendered, but their qualifications and suitabilities varied in a material degree. The position, being one of much responsibility and trust, requires a man of thorough steady habits, good sound judgment, with a practical education and accustomed to dealing with the people in a sociable and gentlemanly manner to fill it with credit to bimself and to the Government. If we are correctly informed, the Mowat Government has found from amongst the many applicants the right man, gifted with all the aforesaid qualities, in the person of Mr. P. E. Ryan, merchant, of Ottawa. In politics, as in all things else, Mr. Ryan is known to be consistent, a thorough practical reformer, every ready to cast his vote and influence whenever and wherever required. and in this was ably supported by his late partner, Mr. Kearns, who was also a well-known, life-long re-former. It seems that since the death of that gentleman Mr. Ryan has been anxious to retire from business, the settlement of the estate of his late partner almost necessitating his following that course, hence, his application for courty registrar, and, from all we know of him as a former resident of this city, and as a merchant of Ottawa for twenty (20) years, we would most cordially congratulate the Government on its selecting him from the numerous applicants. A TANPAVER OF THE COUNTY.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

BRIEF SKETCH OF THE GREAT TEMPLE OF GOD ON DOMINION SQUARE.

The decorations in the interior of the Ca theoral for the bazar, which opens on Thursday next, are progressing rapidly under the supervision of Abbe Huot. The scaffolding in the interior of the dome will not all he taken away, but an open space in the centre will allow a view of the full height. A fullsized portrait of Archbishop Fabre has been placed at the southeast end of the vast edifice where the sanctuary will be when the church is completed. A grand stand for bands of music has been crected right under the dome, and columns are being placed to support the large baldach in, which will be an exact copy of that in St. Peter's at Rome, although of course smaller. Streamers of all colors have been suspended from the ceiling, and are attached to the pillare, in most harmonious design. Portraits of Bishops Lartigue and Bourget are burg, fast, 150 to 160; Morrisburg, fair to placed at the entrance. A large number of good, 133 to 142c; Brockville, finest, 155 to trees ornamented with flowers, are placed along the walls. A press gallery has been erected near the western pillar of the dome for the exclusive use of journalists. Father Lacombe is to send an Indian chief from the North-West, who will sell Indian curiosities manufactured by his tribe. Mr. Beullac has commenced the decoration for the secof St. James's parish. tion The portico in the new cathedral, which will be of composite style, will be 210 feet long, 30 feet deep, and will, from its delicate cerving-being surmounted by two huge clocks and a group of statues of the Apostles -present a magnificent appearance. From the portfoo five large entrances will communicate with the vestibule, -an apartment 200 feet long, from which entrance to the body of the church will be obtained through numerous archways. The gigantic dome, which is the handsomeat part of the cathedral, is erected over the transept, and is supported on four pillars of almost triangular form, and 30 feet in greatest thickness. The dome is 70 feet in diameter at its commencement, and its' summit is 210 feet from the spectators on the floor of the church. It is an exact copy, on a smaller scale, of the mighty dome of St. Peter's, and is 250 feet in height (to the top of the cross)-46 feet higher than the towers of Notre Dame. On the outside, the foot of the dome is strengthened by 16 pairs of Coripthian pillars. twenty-five feet in height, and surmounted by pilasters of metal. Above there, the domecurves gracefully up to it apex, from which a grand "lantern" arises, --surrounded on a smaller scale by ornamental pillars. Above this is a huge gift ball, on which is placed a glittering cross 18 feet high and twelve long. Four smaller domes, equi-distant from the major one, will surround it, and will each be fully as large as that surmounting the Hotel Dieu. The walls are made in the form of a cross, three hundred feet in length, from the grand entrance to the back of the chancel. while its breadth is two hundred and twentytwo feet. When completed, the church will be one of the grandest in Canada,

BOURGET COLLEGE, RIGAUD, P.Q.

To the Editor of THE POST and TRUE WITNESS :

DEAR SIR-A certain person who signed Amicus" wrote a very fictitious correspondence in the Catholic Record of August 28th, kerosene and benzine. The prisoner then concerning Bourget College, Rigaud, P.Q. tied all his clothes and his brother's together. Poor "Amicus" pretends to know the Poor "Amicus" pretends to know the ohanges made in Bourget College, and does not perceive that he is in error. How can any one residing far away in a town situated on the Bay of Quints know anything about the staff of Bourget College ? In his absurd nomination he appoints Rev. Father J. E. Laporte President of Rigaud Academy. This academy only exists in the disordered imagination heard the explosion. The demijohn was, of "Amicus," who failed to obtain a diploma some time ago. . He names Rov. Fr. F. R. Coutu, P.S.V., Professor of Theology ; it will be Rev. Fr. J. Derrosiers. Rev. Fr. Coutu will retain his same offices : President of the College and Prefect of Studies. Rev. Fr. L. Preville will teach Intellectual and Moral Philosophy as he did last year, and not sciences, as our amiable "Amicus" stated. I'he Rev. C. E. Derochie, C.S.V., Prefect of of the Commercial Courses, who had last year as assistants Rev. Patrick Corcoran, C.S.V. Rev. Fr. Thomas Kelly and Rev. Fr. John Quinn (the two latter are priests of the diocese of Kingston), will have this year to help him the following reverend gentlemen :-J. Barry, P. W. Browne, T. McTieman, J. H. Cuching and W. McLaughlin. The number of the Irish students attending Bourget College is increasing rapidly ; in consequence the Superior has been obliged to have a few more Irish professors than last year. All these professors, both last year's and this year's, are of Irish origin, language and manners, and they do not appear disposed to abdicate that nationality to please "Amicus." The editor of the Catholic Record should have waited for a better authenticity than that of "Amicus" before publishing such a mean letter ugainst a college staff that is desirous to educate the Irish youth in their own language by imparting to them a solid religious, English, commercial education. Thanking you for your generous hospitality in the columns of your excellent Catholic newspaper,

I remain, dear and kind sir, Yours respectfully, 1. R. Coutu, P.S.V.
