Cheques, etc.
Bill Book.

Contains everything required.

Your book contains in itself everything required in order to enable third-class candidates to comply with the recent regulations of the educational department in respect to the commercial course. The special points in which your book excels are: (1) its size, which is very convenient; (2) its having ruled pages for a commercial sales book; (3) ruled amount columns; and (4) ruled spaces for trial balance, balance sheets, etc.—J. A. WISMER, M.A., Commercial Master, Jameson Ave. C.I., Toronto.

Shall recommend it.

I have no hesitation in saying that it is superior to any book of the kind now published. I shall recommend it to my classes and to others. The book itself will be its best recommendation.—W. E. EVANS, M.A., Science and Com. Master, Port Hope H. S.

Better than any I have seen.

I consider it better adapted for the purpose intended than any of the other blank books I have seen.—C. S. FALCONER, M.A., Commercial Master, Alexandria H.S.

Superior to any.

Am very much pleased with it. It is much superior to any that I have seen. Have recommended my students to get it in preference to all others.—A. R. INNES, M.A., Commercial Master Richmond Hill High School.

An improvement.

Have examined Blanks and found them an improvement on former ones. Shall use them.—J. D. BRUELS, M.A., Head Master Deseronto High School.

The finest production.

I have great pleasure in describing it as the finest production of the kind yet published in this country. It cannot fail to meet the approval of commercial masters throughout the province.—L. KINNEAR, M.A., Head Master Cayuga High School.

Pleased.

Am much pleased with it.—J. S. COPLAND, M.A., Science and Com. Master, Brockville C.I.

In every way excellent.
