

I expect I must send my letter to St. John's, by way of Jersey.

Copy of Letters addressed to me in reference to presents and offerings, sent for the use of the Mission of Forteau, &c.

No. I.

"Fantaisie, Isle of Jersey,
10th April, 1850.

"Mrs. Charles Pipon, and Mr. and Mrs. James Hammond, present their best compliments to Mr. Gifford. They have heard with much pleasure of his appointment as Missionary on the long-neglected coast of Labrador. They beg he will accept of the accompanying articles for the use of the Mission, and which they hope may be found useful.

"He will perhaps kindly give them some account of his Mission, and at the same time mention what would be most needed, should they be spared to send another box next year. They beg he will accept of their best wishes for his success, and earnest prayers that the blessing of God will crown his endeavours, and that he may be the happy instrument of bringing many souls to our Lord Jesus Christ."

No. II.

"SIR,—On board the 'Swift,' Captain Filleul, in the employ of the Messrs. De Quetteville, is a box
