

FARMERS PLOW UP COAL BUT WHY IS IT THERE?

Mystery in the Presence of a
"Bed" of Anthracite,
Near Pontypool.

For years some farmers in the vicinity of Pontypool, 70 miles east of Toronto, have been plowing up coal, of a good hard variety.

Believing that this indicated a valuable deposit, J. H. Duthie of this city was invited to go down and investigate.

The result has been to disprove the cherished illusion of a coal mine, but a mystery has taken its place. How did the coal get there?

The coal is spread over an area of more than two feet. Mr. Duthie's experienced eye judges that it has been regularly mined and passed through a coal breaker. The locality is on the height of land 15 miles from the lake and any theory of a shallow deposit is ruled out.

It is said that the coal has been known for at least 20 years and that residents have used it at times for fuel.

"But I am convinced that there are coal deposits in Eastern Ontario," says Mr. Duthie, who contends that the presence of iron, which is found in quantities, is a certain indication of coal to be found some day.

WILL FIGHT SUNDAY CARS.

Lord's Day Alliance Wait on Acting
Premier re Fonthill Cars.

The Lord's Day Alliance wish it to be distinctly understood that they are in no way responsible for the stopping of the street cars on the Niagara Central Line, between Fonthill and Welland, on Sunday.

A few local busybodies who object to Sunday cars interfered and afterwards asked the alliance to give them moral support to the movement to prevent the cars being again put into use on Sunday.

A petition signed by over 300 of the leading residents of Fonthill was presented to the Hon. J. J. Foy, attorney-general, at the parliament buildings on Monday by a delegation who asked the attorney-general to refuse to sanction proceedings against the company if they resumed the running of the cars.

Mr. Foy promised to give the matter his serious consideration.

Yesterday Rev. T. H. Moore of the Lord's Day Alliance and Dr. Shearer of the Presbyterian Moral Reform Department waited upon Mr. Foy to ask him to oppose the running of the cars and to strictly enforce the law. The Niagara Central Company claim their line comes under the jurisdiction of the Ontario Act and are not affected by the Lord's Day Act, which prohibits the running of cars on Sunday unless they had been running prior to 1897.

Mr. Foy has asked the Fonthill people to have a lawyer draw up a statement of the legal aspects of the case and submit it to him so that he may be able to arrive at a just and equitable decision.

WANT CANADIAN METHODS.

U. S. Education Boards Adopting Schemes From This Country.

Inspector Chapman of the education department who has been on vacation tour thru the States, returned to his duties yesterday. He reports that the educational commissioners of the United States are much interested in Canadian methods, as they are up against the same difficulties as Canada in such matters. He keeps men in the teaching profession. At Cornell University they are adopting a similar new faculty of education, and have appointed Professor Hill, a Canadian, as the responsible chief.

WHOLE SYSTEM SUFFERED FROM STAGNANT KIDNEYS

Experience of a Man Who Almost Died Through Neglecting His Kidneys.

Severe and numerous are the aches and pains that warn us of kidney trouble.

RHEUMATISM—Almost sure to come in damp or changeable weather.

HEADACHES—Blurring before the eyes, dizzy and faint sensations very common.

BACKACHES—Sharp, stinging pains when bending, throbbing dragging weakness over the spine, lameness in the morning.

ACUTE PAINS—Urinary and bladder disorders causing inconvenience day and night.

Such were the conditions through which Mr. McKee, of 24 Hurd-street, Halifax, had to live. Every day I suffered sharp pains across my loins, my back seemed strained and overworked. I was pale and looked haggard and sick. Such mental and physical discomfort was dreadful to endure. Nothing relieved till I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills and they put life into my kidneys. At once I grew stronger and felt better while using Dr. Hamilton's Pills and can recommend them as positive cure in advanced kidney trouble.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills always set the kidneys right, always remove the ache, stop the bladder complications and make you well.

For Kidney, Liver and Stomach troubles no prescription ever written gives more sure results than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Sold in 25c boxes by all dealers.

GEORGETOWN—PICTURESQUE, PROMISING

A Natural Industrial Centre, With Fine Transportation Facilities.

GEORGETOWN, Ont., August 27.—The first man who, with his family, made his way thru the wilderness to the present site of Georgetown and settled, was the late George Kennedy, great uncle of H. W. Kennedy, the present village clerk and treasurer.

The first, however, to come to the neighborhood was his eldest brother, Charles Kennedy, a surveyor, who located and was followed by his three brothers, Morris, Samuel and George. That was in the year 1850. They were British loyalists from the successfully rebellious colonies, and were wanting in admiration for Uncle Sam.

The reason they pitched upon this locality may be easily divined by one who notes its physical features to-day. There was a heavy growth of timber on rich level land, stretching away from the vale of Credit River and one of its branches running near it here; and the river was a highway at that time for logs, lumber and commodities.

In 1857 only two families were added to that of Kennedy, upon the present site of the town, those of Marquis Godwin and Sylvester Garrison. These attracted others and settlement followed so rapidly that in three years afterwards, 1860, John Sumpton opened a general store for the community. A barter of commodities began, for silver and gold among these early settlers there was practically none.

In 1864 James Young opened a second store, and the Wesleyan Methodists gathered a congregation. Three years later the Congregationalists were able to do the same.

The most notable landmark of this region is a deep gorge cut by a tributary of the Credit River, and named by the pioneers Hungry Hollow, and it was the name accepted by the community for the present town. In 1864, it became an incorporated village and was named Georgetown. In honor of the first settler, George Kennedy, they appear to have been an enterprising people from the first, as is evidenced by the fact that up to as late as 1877 they held cattle and horse fairs every month.

But its facilities—adequate for a time that so far antedated colossal industrial enterprises—consisting of water power and river transportation, attracted attention and marked it as a prospective industrial centre.

At Cooksville, on the Credit, the late Hon. James Crooks erected the first Canadian paper mill and received from the government the sum of $800 for the first sheet of paper produced. This must have been as early as 1823. In the mills built by Crooks worked the Barber brothers, William, Robert, Jas. and Joseph, for some 13 years, when they had saved a capital sufficient to start a custom one-set carding mill, utilizing the waters of the Credit.

This was in 1837, and from thenceforth they became the financial fathers of the village. It was later consolidated with a mill at Streetsville and a paper mill took its place in 1840. Now that the power derived from the pent-up little, even away back in 1854, to answer the needs of expanding trade and increasing production. In the Barber brothers had accepted as true that beautiful metaphor of the American poet—was it Bryant or Longfellow?—the refrain to one of his finest poems: "For the mill will never grind with the waters that are past"—had they regarded it as a mechanical truism, expansion of their production would have ceased when the weight of water from the flume could no longer turn the wheels. Later, when the water and discovery came to their aid.

Lower down the Credit they built another dam to catch that same water and raise a dynamo, whose wires carry back the power to the mill. And so they grind the pulp with the waters that are past.

Another large concern, one of the only two in Canada, is the Canada

Coating Co. Its product of sized paper is large.

The first man who, with his family, made his way thru the wilderness to the present site of Georgetown and settled, was the late George Kennedy, great uncle of H. W. Kennedy, the present village clerk and treasurer.

The other manufacturers are the H.T. Arnold & Sons, glove factory; Creedman & Bros. Knitting machine factory; Harley-Kay Knitting Machine manufacturers, Lawson & Bros. Cash and door manufacturers; J. N. O'Neil, carriage works, and the Joseph Clyrk (grain) chipping mill.

The town has a $40,000 spring water system, conveyed by gravitation, and electric light furnished by the Georgetown Electric Light Co.

The Georgetown Floral Co. is the aesthetic show of the town, and its cut flowers go to all neighboring cities. The town is justly proud of its high school building and grounds, as well as of its six fine church structures.

Two banks, the Hamilton and Merchants, facilitate its business. It has about twenty varied stores with large stocks, outside the smaller business places and excellent hotels.

A junction centre, the Grand Trunk gives it commercial outlet to all points of the compass, and its live men expect a rapid industrial development. There are the signs of improvement in the construction of new business blocks, as well as in the endeavor to secure cheap power. Dayfoot & Co., backed by the Canada Foundry Co. of Toronto, are installing a new power plant, which appears elsewhere to have proved an economical as well as a successful and successful success. It is the one thing needed, and once installed and furnishing power, there is little doubt, since it has everything to do the same.

POET SAINE UNOPPOSED.

Col. Arthur Shows Cowardice and Fails to Defend His Criticisms.

Sharp at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the poet Sabine strode up to the clerk's desk at the King Edward Hotel prepared to sign articles with "Colonel G. C. Arthur's" for a duel to the death in debate as to the true poetic character and value of the collected writings of Mr. Sabine. While for years the citizens of Toronto have been convulsed by the apt witticisms contained in his poetic works, it seems that Colonel Arthur's (Interpretation from the poet—"Who is this man, I'd like to know?")—in a letter to the press assumed the role of a capricious critic, declaring that the metre of the lines of a recent publication, "The Blunders and Betrayals of Men," was out of order.

For 30 minutes did the challenger pace the hotel corridors in ill-concealed anxiety.

"Are you THEE poet?" queried the new reporter.

"I'm glad you know it," was the quick and appropriate response, thus proving as well as asserting his identity.

"And where's your man?" "He is not here. I greatly fear he's thrown me down. If he's afraid I'm not dismayed. I claim the crown," declared the challenger with determination.

"But," he continued, "it is a crime to waste my time.

"Who is this colonel that he should dare to come and rouse me from my lair by base insinuation? His nut is cracked, the kernel's mine, my metre's right in every line. I'll prove it to the nation.

"My poems show prophetic gaze and what I've surmised several ways has proven true. I'm champion now, come on who may. I challenge all for any day. Good day to you."

And with a courtly bow the poet started for home, wearing, with pardonable pride, the laurels of his wordless victory.
