

mouth. I became like a delicate and complicated machine that has been put in thorough running order, and have continued so to this day.

I should not omit to say that millions of people need some medicine simply to act upon the bowels. To them I commend Mother Seigel's Syrup in the strongest possible terms. It is the gentlest, pleasantest, safest and purest purgative in this world. The most delicate women and children may take it, whom a drastic purge would half kill. It produces no pain—a vital consideration for the weak and feeble.

In a word, I know Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup to be a great and successful medicine, destined to benefit people whom nothing else has ever reached, and you are more than welcome to my name and influence to increase the number. Since the publication of my former letter I have had many letters from sufferers, some of them living in remote and obscure parts of the country. I have invariably answered giving direction and encouragement.

One More Point and I am Done.

I have all the more confidence in your medicine because it is prepared by that unselfish and honorable class of people—the Shakers. I may modestly claim to be a religious man myself, and I admire the Shakers for their religious zeal, consistency, industry and unimpeachable business character. I am sure what they make and commend is good, and my experience verifies it.

Trusting that what I herein say may be the means of showing many how to get rid of pain and sickness,

I beg to remain,

Very truly Yours,

What is this Disease-Coming Upon Us?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. The patients have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint, all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish-colored expectoration. The patient feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising. Then suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the marine is scanty and high colored, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a Liver Complaint, some for Dyspepsia, others for Kidney Disease, etc., etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success. It is found, however, that Seigel's Curative Syrup, or Shaker Extract of Roots, will effect a perfect cure in every case. Care should be taken to secure the genuine article—sold by A. J. WHITE, LIMITED, 67 St. James Street, Montreal, and by all Druggists.

No other Pills operate so gently—yet thoroughly—as the Mother Seigel's Operating Pills.
