If you are rundown, heart not just right, nerves a little shaky, take a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and fortify your system against de terrible plague.

BREED UTILITY BIRDS

Resolution Passed at Meeting of Poultry Club Friday Night.

Breeding of utility birds will play a bigger part in the program of the London Poultry and Pet Stock Association than in the past, according to a resolution made at a meeting of the association held in the Duffield Block last night. Efforts are to be made to secure a large membership among the people who keep chickens in their back yards, and for that reason the utility bird will receive as much attention as the show bird in the future.

It is thought by the members that the move will go a long way toward improving the methods of raising chickens among the methods of raising on methods of hatching, rearing and feeding of all classes of birds.

AN EXPLANATION. To the Editor of The Advertiser:

In a Toronto paper of 17th inst. there was an article stating that the limit had been reached as regards wages. Allow us to correct this. The master painters sent to the men in February an offer of 55 cents per hour maximum. This was refused. They also wanted a deputation of six to meet them on February 26. The secretary of the local received a verbal message from the master painters' secretary, stating they would not meet the men. So it was sanctioned from headquarters to strike March 1. We may say that the master painters had been informed of the wage scale since December 1, 1919, to take effect April 1, 1920, but the local wanted to know by March 1. This not having been done there was nothing To the Editor of The Advertiser: wanted to know by March 1. This not having been done there was nothing left but to strike.
