"'i'ne Laborer" is portrayed by Neuhuys with a truth and dignity that recalls the very spirit of the subject-Neunuys' work seems to come very near to Israel's, a point which is noticed especially in the beautiful treat-ment of the widew and background of an interior where the "Little Mother" peeling vegetables while the smaller child plays on the floor. De Bock's work is painted with splendid technique and spontanuelty,

His two pieces, "Canal at Venice" and "Dordrecht" are illustrative of this peculiar style in which he seems to have attained perfection Papendrecht, known as the French Messonier, is represented by his famous military paintings, "Soldiers at Rest." Altho the guns are stacked, and the men relaxed and the spirit of rest prevails, yet the whole picture abounds with intense but inactive life. Especially noteworthy are "Meadow With Cows" and, "River and Mill Near Gonda." "In Evening" by Charles Gruppe, an American resident in the Hague has achieved a fine effect of atnosphere and extent, fraught with eventide emotion when stillness pervades the air; and Westerbeck's most striking characteristic is exemplified especially in "The Beeches" where he has painted with a peculiarly fine ci-fect that beautiful sunlight flickering thru beech trees. Westerbeck has also three other very attractive large pleces. Three notable examples of the dra-matic work of F. Wasley of England, "The Windmill Evening," "Brig Mak-ing into Whitby Harbour," and "The Lighthouse" are clearly representative of his painting. There are also six fine canvasses of Campbell Noble of Edinburgh, who is so well and favorably known here.

What a Great Difference the Mason & Risch Player-Piano Would Make in Your Home

¶ How much brighter and more attractive home would be with plenty of good music always at your command. Think of the delight of producing your favorite music yourself. No more "wondering what to do" these long winter evenings. No more longing for "something" to entertain your friends.

The Mason & Risch Player-Piano is all that you have wished your piano would be-a source of unlimited pleasure and satisfaction. Music that has hitherto been confined to the skill of only the most brilliant pianists can be rendered on this wonderful instrument by anyone, without previous musical training.

TRemember, too, that the Mason & Risch Player-Piano takes the place of any piano in the house. It can be played by hand the same as any other piano, or used for practice. In tone, in action, in appearance, it is the same as the Mason & Risch Plano itself.

If you could experience for just one evening the pleasure of possessing a Player-Piano we believe you would want to own one right away. Better come in and see it—hear it—play it yourself. You will be under no obligation to purchase. If inter-ested, terms can be arranged that will make it easy for you to get one at once.
