

RADIO OWNERS MAY FACE COURT

Officials, Seeking Interferences, Find Some Fans Lacking Licenses

Sets Confiscated in Halifax After Company There—License Fee is $1

Radio enthusiasts in Saint John have been complaining of interruptions in the reception of programs due to alleged lack of license fees. Officials, seeking interferences, find some fans lacking licenses.

In view of the complaints from the district of the government sent A. C. Caton, interference inspector, here to assist Inspector F. Horan, who looks after radio equipment on ships calling here, in an effort to locate the sources of trouble and have as many eliminated as possible. They have been busy during the last few days checking up for leaking transformers, generators, etc., near the street sheds in Wentworth street, in the Rockland road district near the hydro substation, around the N. B. Power Co. power station in Union street, around the Western Union at Market Square, and also in Douglas avenue, Carmarthen street and streets in the vicinity of the places mentioned.

The efforts, so far, it was said today, have revealed several sources of trouble and employees of the Power Co., Hydro and Western Union have all been co-operating with the inspectors in clearing up the conditions wherever found.

While carrying out this work the inspectors incidentally checked up several persons who had registered protests regarding the reception trouble and in some instances found that some persistent complainers were owners of radio sets who had not secured their license.

COURT NEXT WEEK.
This discovery precipitated a campaign in which the inspectors were said to have the assistance of an officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The list of persons having sets without a license for their sets has been growing rapidly it was said, as it was found that more than 50 per cent. of those visited had failed to comply with the law. It was said the inspectors are expected to be dealt with in the police court next week.

The inspector came here from Halifax where a campaign was conducted against violation of the radio license law, along with the other work. It was reported that in the city some radio sets were confiscated for failure to comply with the act. Fines were also imposed. The same thing occurred recently in Montreal.

Tying Apples On Lilac Trees

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 27.—In the House of Commons last night, J. H. Harris, Conservative, Toronto-Scarborough, read the following parody on the King government:

PERSPICACITY.
Willie King and Robert Forke, After four years of stormy weather,
Said Willie King to Robert Forke, "Let's go to the people together";
And Forke drew back in great surprise,
"You're a stranger, sir," said he,
"And I will give you our support
When apples grow on a lilac tree."
After that there was an election,
And Willie felt very sad at heart,
The Forke were the only one,
And Robert felt quite remorseful
At the terrible wrong he had done.
So bright and early after election morn,
Robert was quite surprised to see
Willie King's wrecked cabinet
Tying apples on a lilac tree.

LESS BREAD EATEN BY LONDON PEOPLE

Two of Largest Flour Mills in British Capital Forced to Close Down

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Two of the largest flour mills in London have been closed for short periods recently. The main cause of this closing down is that less bread is being eaten. Less bread was eaten in England last year than in any year since the war. Wheat imports in 1925 amounted to 5,871,000 tons; in 1926 they were 4,887,000. Flour imports also decreased by over 100,000 tons.

These figures, says this week's issue of the "Miller," mean that bakers sold 736 million fewer loaves in 1926 than in the previous year, and that individual consumption was about sixteen quarter loaves less.

As the Animal Rescue League had withdrawn from affiliation because of what it considered discourteous treatment, it was hoped that the society would recant that decision.

The appointment of an advisory committee of the officers, vice-presidents and honorary vice-presidents, to confer with the president was agreed upon.
