THE LEAGUE MAY GO TO THE WALL

Hockey Tactics in Upper Canadian Games Are Declared Childish

LATE NEWS OF SPORT

Time of McGill Swimmer in New York Was Beaten Only Once—McFarland Has an Easy Time With Jack Ward, English Lightweight

(Canadian Press) Montreal, Jan. 25.—The children's tactics of the Ottawas and Wanderers last night may lead to the disruption of the National Hockey Association, is the opinion generally expressed today.

While the Wanderers protested the playing of Fred Taylor, whose brilliant but erratic work almost demoralized the Ottawa team in that portion of the game in which he was allowed to play, the Senators were not idle and also lodged a protest. This was against the playing of Gordon Roberts by the Wanderers. Just before the match, the Ottawa executive notified the Wanderers not to play the Ottawa player, whom they lent to the locals last season, as they determined to cancel his release. The Wanderers however, contended that the release when given stated explicitly that it would be as long as Roberts was a resident in Montreal, and they refused to drop the defence man. Consequently the tie for the dispute has been submitted to President Quinn for adjudication. If there is no compromise, disruption of the N. H. A. seems inevitable.

Ottawa's easy win from the Wanderers and the Canadiens unexpected eight and a half seconds, have the Senators and Speed Boys led for premier position in the association. The standing is: Ottawa 4 3 Wanderers 3 4 Canadiens 3 3 Quebec 2 5

New York, Jan. 25.—While the McGill University swimmers here by thirty-five minutes in the 100 yard race, they were the City Athletic Club aquatic experts at night, George Hodgson, of McGill, carried off the individual honours in the 100 yard race. In defeating M. R. Ritter, the New York crack, he covered the 220 yards course in two minutes, twenty-eight and one-fifth seconds, his time having been surpassed but once in this country, and that by the champion, Charles M. Daniels, whose record is three seconds less. The Canadians made very rare exceedingly interesting and no race was sure until the last couple of strokes.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 25.—Jack Ward, a English lightweight, was completely outboxed by Paddy McFarland in a six round bout last night. The Englishman was apparently bewildered by the Chicago speed and in the second and third rounds he scarcely laid a glove on McFarland.

New York, Jan. 25.—Locomotive engineers on all railroads in the eastern territory have made demands for a general increase in wages ranging from twenty to twenty-five per cent. The demands involve all roads east and north of the line of the Norfolk & Western Railway and of the Ohio River.

Letters from brotherhood officials to the president of these railroads demand increased wages in varying scales, the object being to standardize the wage scale on all lines in this territory, which was done by the General Managers' Association last year.
