When was it discovered that John M.
Johnson, Peter Mitchell, Richard Sutton and William Kelly were Tories' But aside from this characteristic bit of "toryism" on the part of the Sun, we venture to assure it that Northumberland does not require its sympathy. We are not so grasping a people as to desire a monopoly of the good things of political life and believe in the "live and let live" policy. We have two members in the Legislative Council—one of whom, by the way, the Sun and its friends tried to deprive us of—and four in the Assembly, and do not forget that we have but 25,000.population, while Gloucester has but one member in the Legislative Council and two in the Assembly, with its population of nearly $2,000. Then, there is Westmorland, which has only the same number of members in each House that we have have selfered from the stagnation policy, in everything except expenditure, while its population is nearly 38,000.
That "noble County" is without a member in the new Government and it is hardly fair that the Sun ahould refrain from dropping a few tears over "poor Westmorland." What about "honors are easy." We fancy that with our six members in the Legislature we shall have no small voice in the direction of provincial affairs generally. If the Sun and its party thought that with our six members in the Legislature we shall have no small voice in the direction of provincial affairs generally.
