Five cattle were killed on the C. P. R. near Cork station, by the Montreal ex-Engineer Thomas McKenna, whose re cord in the road is an exceedingly good one, says that the train, which was traveling fast, had just rounded a bend when the cattle, half a doezn yearlings, were dis-covered grouped on the track but a short distance ahead.

When the atmosphere cleared it was ascertained that all the cattle had perished, save one. The train was delayed a short time, for the under mechanism of the loco-motive was clogged with what remained of the yearlings. In the vicinity of the acci-dent, several fence poles were noticed to be out of place, and it is surmised that this accounts for the cattle's presence on

MIAH JOSELYN'S DEATH. NOVA SCOTIA

The Jury Find That There Was No Culpable Negligence, But Make an Important Recommendation.

Friday night the inquest into the cause of the death of Miah Joselyn was resumed before Coroner Berryman at 7.30 o'clock in Berryman's hall. The first witness called was James Estey, who said he owned a place about a mile and a half out the Westmorland road. He lived in the city, and often drove in and out. He generally tried, however, to get home before dark, so as to avoid possible danger from teams. During all the time he had been driving over the road he had never met with an accident. On the night of the 19th Sept when he was coming towards the city when he met a double team with colored seople on the way out. They were not briving furiously, or making any noise. In reply to a question from the coroner, he aid the electric light was embarrassing to of danger it was much easier for an out-ward bound team to avoid a collision; and the gave it as his opinion that some change in the manner of lighting Westmorland road is desirable in the interests of public safety.

To Mr. Mullim he said he did not se the accident, and did not hear about it til afterwards. The team with the colored people did not interfere with him in any Mary Fowler was then called. Since that on the night of the 19th of Septem she left the city in a double team dri

E. B. Elderkin, Here, Says Maritime Stock Breeders' Association is Going in to Encourage Raising of Apples in Every County of the Maritime Provinces.

It looks like money making for the Nova Scotia fruit growers this year. E. B. Elder-kin, of Amherst, who is closely in touch with conditions, told a Telegraph reporter quality ever been better than this year.
Mr. Elderkin is here to attend the horse show, but will leave Wednesday for Bridgetown (N. S.), to attend the fruit show of Kings and Annapolis counties.
Mr. Elderkin thinks there's not a county in any of the maritime provinces but can raise apples. Not all can raise them of the quality for export, but at least a nice apple for home use could be grown and, as Mr. Elderkin is president of the Maritime Stock Breeders' Association, and that body, an addition to its regular work, it

FELL FORTY FEET

Playing with some other children on a bridge over the Msipee stream, Friday afternoon about 1 o'clock, a child two and a half years old, son of James Patterson, of Mispec, leaned against the railing on the side of the bridge. The rail gave way, and the child, that had been laughing in glee with his companions, was a moment later lying on the sharp stones in the dry bed of the stream, forty feet below.

The horrified companions gave the alarm and the child was quickly picked up and Dr. Baxter, of this city, was summoned. He went out and found the little fellow very seriously injured, and suffering from concussion of the brain. There is, however, a chance for recovery.

The bridge from which he fell is within 100 yards of the pulp mill at Mispec.

At a meeting of the Provincial Syned of Rupert's Land (Anglican) in Winnipeg Thurscay, Right Rev. Dr. Newman, Lord Bishop of Moosonee, was translated to the Wanglican diocese of Saska hewan, and Very Rev. Dean Mattherson of Winnipeg, prolocutor of the general syned of the Church of England in Canada, was elected coadjutor bishop to Archbishop Maccipal Henderson, of the Diocesan College in Montreal.

The new diocese of Saskatchewan was formerly identified with that of Calgary. Last year it was sent apart as a separate diocese, and the Bishop of Calgary and Saskatchewan dropped the latter title. The diocese lies east of Alberta and north of Manitoba and Assinibola, and is about 600 miles long and 200 miles wide.

Dean Matheson, now bishop-coadjutor-elect of Rupert's Land, is of Scotch descent and a mative of Manitoba.

"A place to store and handle logs was never more needed than this year as exemplified by the situation in which the logs in the St. John river are today. Our St. John friends from purely selfish reasons opposed the passage of the Winding Ledges Dam, which if built would go a long way towards overcoming the present disastrous state of affairs. No same man would deny that a dam built on a river, providing it is the right kind of a dam. would deny that a dam built on a river, providing it is the right kind of a dam, will assist the driving of logs, and it is now only a question of time when nature will have to be assisted, by artificial means, on St. John river if the manufacture of lumber is to continue in St. John. Our St. John friends might well expend their surplus energy in fighting those in connection with the dam on Allegach, which is without doubt responsible to a great extent for the present situation.
