COAL SHORTAGE MAY CAUSE GREAT TRAIN REDUCTION

Toronto, Nov. 25.—Agents of the G. T. R. have been advised of a possible reduction in the passenger service to take effect on Sunday, November 30. The critical condition of the coal supply makes this action necessary.

The Canadian Railway Board, announces that while freight must be conveyed to its destination, even if there is a big shortage in amount of coal needed, the number of passenger trains will be reduced.

At Barrie it is reported that all way freight will be cut off, as well as some passenger trains and all "dead" freight. Passenger trains will have to take freight and do freight duties.

The G.T.R. has 15,000 tons of soft coal in stock at Palmerston, but this will not keep the locomotives moving for more than two weeks. It is stated that a serious reduction will be made at once in local train service unless an improvement in the situation takes place.

DRURY SPEAKS ON CHURCH MOVEMENT

Toronto, Nov. 25.—A convention of unusual interest was opened in Massey Hall on Monday, religious denominations, Anglicans, Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians and Congregationalists, began an ambitious plan for increased membership, increased zeal and increased financial resources.

These five denominations are acting in co-operation to set before the Canadian people the relation of religion to patriotism. Principal Gandler, of Knox College, presided. He declared at the outset that the movement was not one for church union.

Premier Drury was one of the chief speakers. He said, in part: "This movement is fraught with great possibilities. It is, in the first place, more or less an acknowledgment of failure to do our duty on the part of the churches. It is more or less an acknowledgment that we have not done everything that we might have done."

PROTEST MEETING HELD AT TORONTO

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—Pandemonium reigned for fully fifteen minutes at the mass meeting in Massey Hall on Sunday night under the auspices of the Trades and Labor Council, to protest against further Government by orders-in-Council, to demand amnesty for all political offenders in Canadian prisons and to ask for the repeal of the amendment to the Immigration Act, under which aliens inciting social disturbances may be deported.

The trouble started when about fifty men wearing overseas buttons rose en masse, shouting "Come on, let's put him out," and rushed from their seats with the intention of ejecting a foreigner who had interrupted one of the returned men when asking a question of the chairman.

Instantly the big audience of fifteen hundred people was on its feet, but the tenacity of the situation was relieved by a man of foreign birth, who wore a returned button, rushing to the platform and addressing the ex-soldiers.

"Comrades," he cried, "I am one of you. Don't forget that I volunteered and lined up with you. I fought at Ypres and Sanatory Woods. (Cheers). Comrades, mob rule will never get us anything. (Loud cheers). There are some foreigners who are in the wrong, but that is no reason for being down on all of us. You will find good and bad among all classes. (More cheers)."

The leaders of this movement wish to insure the disarmament of Germany and to give France greater military protection.

This agitation may or may not have its effect upon the Berlin Government, which has brought about a strained situation by its sudden withdrawal of the commission sent to Paris to sign the protocol to the peace treaty. This move promises to upset the allies' plan of putting the treaty into effect on December 1.

While numerous travellers and others are taking flight across the border to-night to avoid being vaccinated, the theatrical companies playing in local theatres will finish their week's engagements.

HYDRO BYLAW WAS CONSIDERED

ELMIRA TO HAMILTON LINE

Finance Committee Met Last Evening

The details of the hydro radial railway bylaw which is before the City Council were discussed last evening by the Finance Committee. The bylaw is concerned with the construction of an electric railway from Elmira to Hamilton, via this city and Galt, having in view the electrification and use of the Grand Trunk Galt-Elmira branch.

A bylaw is to be submitted to the ratepayers in the respective municipalities by the Hydro Commission acting on behalf of the municipalities, the last mentioned having asked for the proposed line between Elmira and Hamilton. It provides merely for the guarantee of the city's share of the bonds on the road, as in the case of the original hydro electric power undertaking.

The construction of a railway between Toronto and London, the city's respective share of the bonds on each having been guaranteed by the city. The city's share of the guarantee on the bonds covering the cost of the proposed Elmira Hamilton line is $1,000,000. And as in the instance of the other two bonds the city would not be called upon to pay any money, but merely to give a guarantee that its share of the bonds on the cost of the road will be paid back by the Government to the loaners of the money.

At the meeting last evening Mr. Hewson, an engineer of the Hydro Commission, was present, and explained the details in connection with the by-law and gladly answered all questions that were put by the aldermen all of whom except two were present. While no resolution was passed by the Committee, it is likely that when the matter comes up again in Council the bylaw will be given its second reading and will be submitted to the people. The first reading was given at the last meeting of the Council.

PRISONER SAID HE THOUGHT THAT SOROKATY WAS DEAD

When He Ran Away and Before He Helped to Pile Stones on Body. Sensational Statement By Prisoner on Galt's Chief of Police.

HEARING TO CLOSE THIS EVENING

The story by Stoyko Boyeff, on his part in connection with the death of Sorokaty in Galt, last May 25th, as related by himself on the witness stand this morning, when his evidence in his trial of the murder was heard, did not differ much from his previous accounts of the story.

Boyeff, who was examined and cross-examined by Mr. M. Secord, K.C., his counsel, and Mr. J. C. Makins, the crown counsel, from 9:20 o'clock until 1:15 o'clock went into details in connection with his association with Ivan Petroff in the past few years and with their visit to Galt last May 24th. The story as repeated by him to-day is that he thought Sorokaty was dead after he had been struck by a stone and thrown away, being scared. Blood was running from his nose and mouth, and this he had understood was a sign that a man is dead.

The Crown prosecutor dealt at length in his cross examination with the fact that Boyeff had not rendered any assistance to Sorokaty, nor had he called for a doctor, but had helped to pile stones on the body. Boyeff, however, stuck to his story that he was excited and that this was the reason why he had acted as he had.

The evidence given yesterday afternoon included the submitting of Boyeff's signed statement about the accident made last May 28th in the office of Crown Attorney, D. S. Bowby, there being present Mr. Bowby, Chief Gorman of Galt and the office stenographer. The Crown Attorney testified that the prisoner at that time was given to understand that any statement he might make might be used against him when his own trial came off. Chief Gorman came into the office with the prisoner and said he wanted to make a statement. After being warned about using his statement as understood, the stenographer took down his words in shorthand and he went a long. Then after the whole statement had been transcribed into long hand, Mr. Bowby had read it over to Boyeff who had declared it correct and signed it.

In this statement which consists of several pages of typewritten matter, the prisoner said he had not known whether Sorokaty was alive or dead when he helped to pile stones on to the body.

In his examination and cross examination to-day said above Boyeff claimed this statement was not correct. He, further, contradicted the claim that he fully understood the importance of any statement he might make. He had not known the meaning of the word confession that was used at the time.

Statement About Chief Gorman.
The prisoner, at the close of the evidence this noon when asked by his counsel whether he had anything more to say following the end of the cross-examination by the Crown, hesitated a moment, pondered, and said "Yes." Asked to proceed he said that a few days after the accident when Chief Gorman took him from the cell he said: "Gorman told me if I would not give him one hundred dollars I'd be hanged. He said I should get a good lawyer for me."

Examined further he said: "No, I did not give him any money. I told him I would not spend my money that way because I am not guilty."

Chief Given Opportunity To Reply.
Justice Logie, it might be said, the Crown would be given an opportunity this afternoon to cross-examine the prisoner on this statement, and also Chief Gorman would be given a chance to reply.

The Money Question.
A considerable part of the evidence also was concerned with the money carried by Boyeff. His story is that he received $500 from Christo Petroff of Niagara Falls, a partner in the business and that the remainder was his own. A new claim was made by him when he is the later stages of the evidence said he had secured some $400 from the sale of a house in Galt in 1917.

In connection with the financial situation, Mrs. Lewis of Stratford with whom Boyeff boarded, last evening said that Boyeff last spring had said he was a poor man. He had put money in a store in St. Catharines which he had bought but which was burned. Boyeff in reply to this said that he had said this because "they" were teasing him about getting married and he wished to get the idea off their minds by making them believe he had no money so that he could get married.

Last evening the evidence included testimony on the matter taken out by the prisoner through Mr. Bartholomew of Galt, whom he paid $100, three years ago, to advance.

This case will probably be concluded to-night.

The Jurymen are:
George Bartholomew, farmer, Waterloo Township; Alex. Behl, garage, Waterloo; Arthur Weiler, Preston, machinist; Eph. B. Eby, Kitchener, gentleman; Edmund Shantz, glove cutter, Waterloo; Wm. Carey, carpenter, Centreville; Lorne Sage, N. Dumfries, farmer; John Y. Reid, North Dumfries, farmer; Walter Johnston, Hespeler, mason; Joseph Bowman, New Hamburg, mechanic; Alex. Slater, North Dumfries, farmer; Wm. Logan, painter, Hespeler.

SHRAPNEL

Some people always wonder why the plate don't upset when they drop their mite into it.

One of our manufacturers is advertising for "heavy bootmakers." He doesn't say how heavy but we suppose they should be heavy enough to keep the slippers from slipping.

Ever notice the chap who butts into a real conversation every little while, to make himself believe that he is a real man? Of course nobody pays any attention to him, but it makes the little fellow feel good.

A Georgia editor says that when he sees a gentleman coming towards him in a motor car he gives him half the road; when he sees a fool coming he gives him all of it and when he sees a darn fool coming he takes to the woods or climbs a telephone pole. Every man in this country who drives a car knows he has to look out for two cars—his own and the other fellow's.

The Chesley Enterprise says: In Newfoundland the elections were run on creed lines and the Protestant party won. We thought the war had killed this creed business in politics. The boys of all creeds fought side by side, died side by side, were buried in a common grave, by the same reurrection, and yet in Newfoundland they contest elections on religious beliefs."
