

In case of Manitoba At time it was admitted into Union that the act which that all religious ^{denominational} schools which were there by law & practice should be continued after she entered. - There were no schools recognized by law but by practice there were denominational schools. in 1871 acted as before in 1891 act repealed. - Case came up. Supreme Court reversed decision - Judicial Committee held that what was protected was any schools which existed by law or practice and these were voluntary schools & held that those who had these schools could have them still & ~~effect~~ public schools by tax did not interfere with other schools.

1st clause - relates only to schools of Ont. & Quebec. It cannot be extended to other provinces but by legislative sub-section - not limited.

This whole Sec. 93 applies to every province in the Union but Manitoba. When Manitoba was admitted Sec. 22 B
