

all they can and leave the result with the Head of the Church;—they should plant and water, and leave God to give the increase, when and as he will. The increase he will give.