

Was Confined To Bed FOR FOUR MONTHS

RHEUMATISM THE CAUSE
DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HIM

Mr. W. H. Riley, Ruddell, Sask., writes:—"It is with the greatest of pleasure that I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all suffering with rheumatism. I was so bad with this terrible disease, I was unable to get up from my bed for four months, and nothing seemed to relieve me until a friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. I had my doubts about them, but was so desperate I would try anything suggested to me. After taking half a box I was able to get up, and after taking two boxes could get around quite well. After taking six boxes I was completely cured, and able to work for the first time in five months, and have not had a touch of rheumatism since. Anyone who saw me then would not know me now, as I am so strong and active since taking your valuable medicine."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

In ordering direct, specify "Doan's."

Southdown Sheep

The market today demands quality. It pays to breed what the market wants. Can you do this more cheaply or quickly than by heading your flock with a right good ram of this most perfect of mutton breeds? Orders taken for a few sturdy young rams for fall delivery.

ROBT. McEWEEN, Alloway Lodge Stock Farm
Byron, Ontario

A teacher asked his pupil if there were eleven sheep in a field and six jumped through the gap in the hedge how many would be left. "There would be none," was the reply. The teacher reasoned with his pupil as to his backwardness in subtraction—"Well, I'm blowed," was the retort, "you may know arithmetic, but you know nothing about sheep."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

SPLINT LAMENESS.

Have a three-year-old road colt that has been lame for about a month. I have found a small splint which I think causes lameness. Please advise how to treat it. Should she be used when treating?
P. M.

Ans.—Splint lameness is quite common, and sometimes quite alarming in young horses, and occasionally in horses of all ages. Lameness is usually present only during the inflammatory stage. When the exudate becomes ossified (converted into bone), the inflammatory action ceases and lameness disappears, unless the enlargement be of sufficient size and so situated that it causes irritation to the suspensor ligament or involves the knee joint. Splint lameness sometimes disappears very suddenly. A horse may be driven a journey and go perfectly sound, and after a rest, when taken out to drive home, may go very lame when asked to go faster than a walk. Treatment should be directed to allay the inflammation. Of course, the horse must be given rest. The seat of the splint should be showered with cold water several times daily for two or three days. This is often all that is necessary, and he will go sound, and after a while the enlargement will be noticed. In other cases lameness is more persistent, and it becomes necessary to apply a blister. A second or third blister is sometimes necessary, and in some cases it is necessary to have the animal fired by a veterinarian. In rare cases the lameness is persistent, and a long rest is necessary, and, as stated, lameness may be permanent. When lameness does not exist, it is seldom considered necessary to treat. Friction, or blistering, has a tendency to hasten absorption of the enlargement, but in most cases nature effects this without extraneous assistance. As a simple matter of fact, there are few horses that have done considerable road work that are free from splints, although they may never have gone lame and there is no visible enlargement. Unless a splint is very large, double, or very close to the joint, it is not considered an unsoundness.

RECURRENT COLIC.

Kindly tell me, through your valuable paper, what ails my horse, and if there is any cure for him? He will paw with his fore foot, then crouch, twist the tail, and finally lie down and roll, when get up again and take a mouthful or two of hay, then another spasm will come on. He acts like this for an hour or two; passes manure in large quantities, also gas, both having an offensive smell. These attacks come on about every two or four weeks. He had one about a week ago. When he is very bad, he sweats till he is dripping wet. He was in good condition last summer, and up till fall, when he had a very bad attack, being sick about three hours. We gave him three ounces of spirits of sweet nitre, at intervals of half an hour, before he got relief. Since, he has been failing. We have been giving him a colic cure lately, which relieves him, but does not give a complete cure. We have given him four bottles. The last two attacks we gave him a tablespoonful of mustard, which relieved him for a time. These spasms have been on him for nearly two years. We feed timothy hay, 12 quarts oats, and a little bran a day. Lately he has had a little grass at night. The same horse has a habit similar to wind-sucking. He will move his mouth as if eating something, draw the head inward, and move the mouth as if taking a mouthful of food, throwing the head downward. Sometimes he will seize the manger. Would this cause his sickness? He has been doing this for about a year.
J. L. M.

Ans.—This is due to a weakness of the digestive glands. Give tonic daily, one dram each of ginger, gentian, and nuxvomica, and feed carefully a food of first-class quality. As the trouble has continued so long, it is somewhat doubtful whether treatment will be entirely successful, and one of the attacks may prove fatal.
