Engrossing.
C. C. Collins, pen artist, Guelph, is receiving many orders from branches of the different fraternal societies of Canada for engrossing "Resolutions," and in all cases they are prenounced works of art. Branches requiring such work at a small cost and beautifully engrossed would be well repaid by giving him their orders.

giving him their orders.

At the last regular meeting of Branch No. 60, Duolin, Ont., on Wednesday evening, April 3rd, 1895, took place the initiation of Rev. Father Kealy as a member of the C. M. B. A. A most cordial and hearty welcome was extended to Father Kealy by the members of the branch, to which the Rev. Father responded by delivering a short address expressing his pleasure in being with them as a brother member. He also pointed out the necessity of a good Catholic society, and the benefits to be derived from it, that the C. M. B. A is one of the societies most approved of and recommended by the Church, and expressing a hope that is membership would continue to increase, in order to perpetuate the good work for which the order was organized.

Resolutions of Condolence.

At a regular meeting of Branch No. 44,
Arnprior, held on 1st April, 1855, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:
Resolved that while bowing in humble submission to the will of Him who does all things well, we cannot shelp but deplore the loss of Mrs. Olivier, who departed this life on the 22nd March, the beloved wife of our esteemed and worthy Brother, Prosper Olivier. We trust that Almighty God will grant Brother Olivier grace to be reconciled to His holy will, in this his bereavement—the sad loss of a devoted wife and loving and kind mother.
Resolved that we also extend to the mourning children and relatives our heartfelt sympathy. And be it further Resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to Brother Olivier and published in our official organ and local papers.

THE SCROOL QUESTION.

1. Frank Annual versus for the substitute of the support of the substitute (a) That me elects of such interference may be suffered by others besides the people of Manitoba.

(e) That such interference would be an infringement of Provincial rights.

A pure question of right and wrong, involving a clear issue between justice and injustice, so much has it been clouded by the introduction of matters entirely foreign to it, so effective have been the efforts of certain political agricators to arouse popular passion concerning it, that it would be surprising indeed if a correspondent, venturing to discuss this much debated yet generally illuderstood Manitoba school question, should succeed in carrying conviction to even one reader. The favorable reception, however, accorded to the very able letzer, convincing in its argument and sound in its conclusion as it was dispassionate in its tone, recently, contributed to your columns by "Canada," is very encouraging, and indicates that a calm discussion of the objections to Federal interference which you raise may not be altogether futile.

Deprecating sincerely that occasion should have arisen for such interference, wishing hearily that the Manitoba Government would itself redress the wrong it has done, thereby rendering such interference unnecessary, a vast number of Canadians, many of them Liberals, will not be prepared to accept your conclusion, that, however gross the violation of the rights of the Provincial minority, however diagrant the abuse of its power by the Provincial majority in mateers pertaining to education (because these are entirely exceptional, and alone are dealt with), however persistent the refusal of the Provincial authorities to remedy real grievances, in no case should the Federal Government intervene to protect such wronged minority in the assertion of rights guaranteed it by the constitution, by the very compact of federation, but that it should relegate such wronged minority to the tender mercies of the wrong doer himself for redress. For convenience, it will be better to reserve your first objection to be dealt with la to question.

In conclusion, permit me to say, sir, that I have not fallen into the error of nodding either the Liberal party or its leader responsible for the view which you express. When speaking in Toronto Mr. Laurier stated that he had no wish to make political capital out of this question, declaring that he did not desire to attain office upon this issue. He has repeatedly refused to announce his policy until the Government had spoken and, up to the present time, very fairly so, being unwilling to take a stand which might be regarded as intended to enhances the greatest as intended to enhances for any failure on their part to do full and complete justice. We must, therefore, patiently await the announcement of his views, which cannot now be long delayed trusting that he will not be misied into the fatal mistake of taking the course which you have adopted. Such a mistake, if made, will cost him the support of many of his best friends and most ardent admirers. Protestant and Catholic, in this Province as well as elsewhere. A vast number of your own readers, true Liberals, convinced that your attitude upon this question is prejudical to the best interests of their party, yet not daring to hope that the Globe will itself see the error of its ways trust that their esteemed leader will at an early date relieve himself and his party from others, who fear that it may have already wrought irreparable mischlef, your ill advised to the present the proposition of approving your views. MR. PETER MAHON, ABERFOYLE.

The large circle of friends of Mr. Peter Mahon of Aberfoyle and the entire community deeply deplored his premature death, which occurred at his residence on the morning of Saturday, Feb. 23, last. He was thrown off a load of hay which upset near his house on the Monday previous, and his spine was fractured. Three medical gentlemen were soon in attendance, but could not hold out any earthly hope of recovery. The Rev. Jas. O'Loane, S. J., of Guelph, was called immediately after the sad accident, and administered all the last holy sacraments of the Church, which the deceased received with the most edifying dispositions. Mr. Mahon was son of the late Patrick Mahon, one of fithe pioneers of the township Puslinch and a member of an ancient and patriotic family in the west of Ireland. The son was born in Puslinch, and inherited the old homestead, which he helped to manage until the death of his father. He was highly esteemed by the agricultural community for the great and intelligent interest be took in very movement pertaining to their welfare, being one of the founders of the Puslinch Farmers' Club and afterwards of the South Wellington Farmers' Institute. He was township councillor in Puslinch for some years. A few weeks before his death he was a member of the Farmers' Institute delegation in the eastern counties of this province. The President of the Provincial Farmers' Institute paid a high tribute to the deceased for the excellent manner in which he discharged the duties of that position, and expressed the conviction that if he were spared he would have done more effective work in that line in the future. His colleagues in that delegation expressed a very high opinion of his ability, and unstinted admiration of his manly qualities and Christian virtues. He commanded the respect of all classes of the community, who deeply mourn the loss of so useful a citizen. While he fullilled his duties as a citizen of Canada he was not unmindful of the land of his fathers. The patriotic sentiments MR. PETER MAHON, ABERFOYLE.

for its benefit. He cherished in his heart of hearts the grand and noble traditions of the Gael, and was a devoted child of the Holy Catholic Church. At the holy seasons of Christmas and Easter his house was the station where the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass was celebrated for the feeble and infirm of the neighborhood who could not come to the parish church at Guelph. His zeal in bringing the lukewarm to a sense of their duty as Catholics, and in instructing the children of Aoerfoyle at his own house on Sundays, where he taught them the catechism, was known only to his pastors in Guelph, and deeply do they deplore the great loss sustained in his death.

He has left a widow and four sons and four daughters, who are all at home except the clest, Jennie-Sister Philippa—who was received the day before his death into the community of Loreito at the Abbey in Toronto. He leaves one surviving brother in the States and two sisters—Mrs. Jun. Foster of Aberfoyle, and Miss Mahon at home.

His faneral took place on Monday following his death, and, notwithstanding the almost impassible state of the roads, was one of the largest that ever left Puslinch. At the outskirts of the city it was met by the members of Branch 31. C. M. B. A., to which he belonged, who marched in procession before the hearse to the Church of our Lady. Guelph. Before the funeral cortege reached the church. a large concourse of people of every class and denomination, from the city and surrounding country, had assembled on the Catholic hill, to show their respect for his memory and their sympathy with his bereaved family. The following gentlemen were pall bearers: M. P. Doyle, Jas. Hanlon, John Eustac, Joseph Smith, Wu. McKeelmis and Christopher McBeath, who bore the coffin into the church. A solemn Requiem Mass was offered for the repose of his soul, by the Rev. F. Dumortier, S. J. Every pew in the spaceious cdiffee was filled. Rev. Father O'Loane, S. J., and Rev. John Fleming, O. S. A., of Boston, U. S., brother in law of deceased, assisted at the Mass. T we extend our sympathy, coupled with the earnest prayer that perpetual light may shine upon the departed soul.

April langhed and threw a kiss;
Then, afraid it seemed amiss,
Quick she dropped a shining tear,
And it straightway blossomed here;
Seeing this, she then threw more,
Crying harder than before—
A tear for every kiss she threw;
From ever tear a blossom grew,
Till she, laughing, ran away,
And lett her flowers all to May.
