INJURED SHOULDER...

I have a horse that hurt himself few days ago by drawing a load on slippery trail (without shoes on). The injury is in and around the joint of right shoulder below where the collar would come. Did not know he was hurt till two days after it was done, when he went a bit lame and now it is swoller considerable and he is inclined to dray the leg if he attempts to walk. An bathing with hot water and using line ment 3 times a day. What do you ad vise? and do you think it will be long before he is fit for work again, as want to use him in the spring? He irising five and a valuable horse. HOMESTEADER Sask.

Ans.—Your treatment along with rest in comfortable, well-bedded box stall is quite proper until the active in flammation is allayed, which will be indicated by the disappearance of the swelling; but before the lameness i removed it may be necessary to apply the following blister:—powdered can tharides and biniodide of mercury, each I dram; lard, 11 ounce; mix Apply to the parts with smart friction with the hand for ten minutes. Would advise you to prepare the horse for physic in the usual manner and ad minister the following dose: - Barbadoe aloes,7 drams; calomel, 1 dram; ground ginger, 2 drams; soap, sufficient to form a ball. The length of time required to accomplish a cure will depend chiefly upon the extent of the injury. A lone rest will be very necessary.
