

SHE DRANK BUT LITTLE

Mrs. Gould Moderation Itself

OPPOSITE TESTIMONY

Defense Rests Its Case—Howard Gould Not to Testify

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 21.—Sensational-seekers and the curious who have waited daily on the sidewalk...

When he recovered from his astonishment, Mr. Shearn led off the rebuttal with testimony designed to show, he explained, "the falsity of the charge that Mrs. Gould was continually and habitually intoxicated from 1892 to the present date."

"Do you regard such evidence as necessary?" asked the court. "Necessary or not," answered the plaintiff's attorney, "it is necessary to show that Mrs. Gould never drank to excess and was always affable, reserved and modest in her language, testimony directly opposed to that which the defendant's witnesses have given."

It was on account of the unexpected attitude taken by the defense that Mr. Shearn was obliged to introduce the depositions. He promised, however, to have a string of about fifty ready when court opens tomorrow morning. They testify in rebuttal to disprove, if possible, the husband's charges, including Mrs. Gould's alleged associations with Dustin Farnham, the actor.

DUSKY WIFE OF CELESTIAL HERE

Hum Poon is a happy man. Hum Poon took into himself a charming young Cape girl for wife or, was, and the knot was definitely tied in Cape Town, South Africa, some nine years ago. Hum Poon is a Celestial and earns his daily bread with an occasional spread of butter and a few delicacies thrown in, by laundering. He resides in the North End and is a well-to-do man. His wife is a Celestial and speaks English. The lady fluently besides English. She has received considerable surprise when she was addressed in Dutch and Afrikaans. Mrs. Hum Poon speaks very highly of her married life and the kindness and courtesy with which her indulgent husband treats her.

IT'S THE TALK OF THE COUNTRY SIDE

How Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mrs. Samuel Thompson's Dropsy

FRED'S WAS A TERRIBLE CASE AND THE DOCTORS' WERE POWERLESS TO CHECK IT, BUT THE GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY CURED IT.

HOLT, Ont., June 18 (Special).—All the country side about here is talking of the wonderful cure of Mrs. Samuel Thompson, of this place. She was taken sick with jaundice, and though the doctors were sternly against it, she steadily worse. Her stomach was so bad she could not keep anything on it. Dropsy set in and she bloated to a terrible size. The doctor came three times to tap her, but her husband would not allow him to do it, saying that if she could not get better they might as well let her die in peace. Finally she dropped the pills and tried other medicines, but they did her no good. Her leg burst and the water streamed from it. Then someone told her about Dodd's Kidney Pills and she asked her husband to get her a box.

After taking them a while she took a bed turn. Something would come up in her throat and she would vomit. The water would just fly from her mouth. But from that time she commenced to get better and today she is a well woman. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Dropsy by the kidneys in condition to take the purifying waters of the blood. They always cure it.

PROVINCIAL PARAGRAPHS

TOO MANY BARS IN ONE PARISH

This is the Contention of the Temperance Party at Richibucto

INQUIRY HELD

REXTON, N. B., June 20.—At Mohus River, on the afternoon of Wednesday June 16th, the marriage took place of Miss Laura Stevenson and Alden Worman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Worman. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Miller at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevenson.

The wedding took place at Pine Ridge, on Wednesday evening, June 9th, of Miss Deborah May, daughter of Mrs. John Morton, and George Lawson of Smith's Corner. The event took place at the home of the bride's mother, in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives of the contracting parties, the marital knot being tied by Rev. J. B. Miller.

The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of white silk organza and carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations. She was attended by Miss Susan Atkinson and Edgar Morrison, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The rooms were very prettily decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. The happy couple will reside at Smith's Corner.

The marriage is announced of Miss Bessie May McDonald, daughter of Mrs. Frederick McDonald, and Gus Charles Atkinson, of Bass River. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's mother on Wednesday afternoon, June 23rd. Rev. J. B. Miller will officiate.

The death occurred at West Branch, on Thursday morning of Thomas B. Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Morton, after a lingering illness of twenty-two years, who was in the twentieth year of his age. He was survived by his parents and two brothers. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon, June 26th, at 10 o'clock, at the Presbyterian cemetery.

T. G. A. Parkes, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, who obtained leave of absence to go to see his mother in England, has been detained on account of illness, but has recovered and left on his journey on Wednesday, June 23rd, late of the St. John River. He is accompanied by his wife, Miss Martha Jardine, many friends are sorry to hear that she is suffering from a severe attack of gastritis, but glad to hear she is recovering.

Miss Stella Burns of South Branch, Misses Thilo Brown and Kate Brown, of South Branch, and Misses Rogers and Ella M. Falley of Bass River have returned to their respective homes from the Normal School.

Mrs. W. M. Messervy of Greenville, Me., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson of Main Street, St. John. Mrs. Jane Ward of Mohus River is on a visit to relatives in Shediac.

On the morning of Sunday, June 20th, a fire broke out in the barn belonging to William Agnew of Mohus River. The barn was burned to the ground with all its contents. The origin of the fire is unknown.

His Lordship Bishop Barry will administer the sacrament of confirmation to a large class at St. Aloysius Church on the morning of Sunday, June 20th. He will confirm at Big Cove on the following day.

Mrs. John Ferguson of Earlton, N. S., who has been in town for some months, staying with her son, H. M. Ferguson, has returned to her home. She was accompanied by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. H. M. Ferguson, who will make a brief visit to friends in Nova Scotia.

Joseph Marvin and wife of St. John were in town this week. They are making a driving tour through the county.

The members of Court Favorite, I. O. F., will hold their annual parade through the public hall to St. Andrew's Church on Sunday morning, June 20th.

In The Public Eye.

FRANCIS J. HENEY.

Despite the able efforts of Francis J. Heney to convict Patrick J. Cahoun, San Francisco, traction magnate, of bribery and corruption the jury reported Saturday night that they were unable to reach a verdict.

court house, Hon. D. V. Landry, Minister of Agriculture, presided as a commissioner over an investigation into the services and interference with the liquor license Act in the parish of Richibucto. The investigation was ordered by the provincial government on account of representations made to them on behalf of the temperance party in this county, who complained that the Board of License Commissioners for this county had exceeded their authority in granting seven licenses in the parish of Richibucto, when under the statute the population of the parish at the last census did not justify the issue of more than four.

Edward McInerney, was present on behalf of the commissioners, and the temperance party was represented by G. W. Clark and Rev. A. D. Archibald of Rexton; J. D. McInerney, Rev. H. H. Davis and F. Curran of Richibucto, and Rev. H. Staver of Fredericton. Hon. Dr. Landry, after hearing expressions of their views, stated that he would submit the report to the government at its next meeting in July, when it will receive immediate attention.

The schr. Loyla, Capt. Allison Hutchinson, arrived from Boston a few days ago. The Swedish bark Wangsa, Capt. Rev. Wm. A. Allen, travelling evangelist, of Port Eglis, is the guest of his brother, A. C. Allen, next Sunday. Rev. Mr. Allen preaches on the Whiteville circuit.

Rev. Henry A. Brown, who resigned the United Baptist pulpit here on May 31st, has been accepted as a minister of the N. B. and P. E. M. M. M. conference and stationed at Gaspe, P. Q.

CHATHAM CHATHAM, N. B., June 21.—The death of Mrs. Annie E. Lounsbury, widow of G. A. Lounsbury, formerly a prominent merchant of Newcastle, while undergoing surgical treatment at Boston, was announced today.

RICHIBUCTO RICHIBUCTO, June 21.—The annual school meeting for Richibucto was held in the Temperance Hall Saturday morning. Rev. F. W. M. Bacon was elected to the chair. Compared with recent years there was a very large attendance, evincing the special interest that is being taken in educational matters. The secretary, R. W. Dyer, in the report of the trustees, showing an expenditure of $1,600 and $135 on hand. An assessment of $1,600 was voted for the next year. It was unanimously decided not to adopt compulsory attendance. Allan Haines, retiring trustee, was re-elected. The trustees were instructed to lease bonds for $500 at 5 per cent, and to call for tenders for same.

W. F. Lutes, the contractor for the new school building, is now at work at the foundation, and in about three weeks will begin active work on the building which is to be completed by Sept. 1st.

WOLFVILLE WOLFVILLE, June 20.—Avery DeWitt, who has passed successfully his final examinations in medicine and surgery at McGill, returned for a short visit to his home last Friday. He will go to Europe the latter part of June for a post graduate course.

Mrs. Bates and her daughter Marjorie leave Saturday for Sackville, where they intend spending the summer.

Mrs. J. G. Colter White and family left last Wednesday for Summerland, where they will join Mr. White, who went out early in the spring. A. R. H. Starr left Friday for C. R. to England.

MR. AND MRS. OSMAN ENTERTAINED FRIDAY

Function in Honor of Miss Osman, of England, and Miss Tompkins, N. Y.

HILLSBORO, June 21.—Mrs. Isadah Milton, an esteemed resident of Hillsboro, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Nelson, on Saturday morning. Deceased went to visit her daughter a few days ago and was suddenly stricken with paralysis, to which she succumbed after a short illness. Her maiden name was Aida Steeds; she was seventy-four years old. A sorrowing husband and four children survive. The sons are George and Elijah Milton of Demolville; the daughters Mrs. Fred Welsh and Mrs. Frank Steves. She also leaves a brother, Abram Steves of Hillsboro, and two sisters, Mrs. Henry Fillmore and Mrs. Ezra Steves of Hillsboro. Funeral was held on Sunday and was largely attended. Rev. Milton Anderson conducted the service and interment took place at Curryville cemetery.

A delightful social function was given by Hon. C. J. and Mrs. Osman on Friday evening. Miss Osman of England and Miss Tompkins of New York were the guests of honor. Among the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. C. Peck, Mrs. Wm. A. Allen, travelling evangelist, of Port Eglis, is the guest of his brother, A. C. Allen, next Sunday. Rev. Mr. Allen preaches on the Whiteville circuit.

Thursday Captain Moore leaves for Charlottetown and Capt. Anderson for Fredericton, there to await further orders. The two young ladies, Miss Willoughby and Miss Newcomb, were successful in the Newcastle corps yesterday.

Rev. J. A. Cahill of Jacksonville occupied the Baptist pulpit here yesterday. Rev. Mr. Allen and the Salvation Army officers held evangelistic services in the jail yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Wm. A. Allen, travelling evangelist, of Port Eglis, is the guest of his brother, A. C. Allen, next Sunday. Rev. Mr. Allen preaches on the Whiteville circuit.

Rev. Henry A. Brown, who resigned the United Baptist pulpit here on May 31st, has been accepted as a minister of the N. B. and P. E. M. M. M. conference and stationed at Gaspe, P. Q.

CHATHAM CHATHAM, N. B., June 21.—The death of Mrs. Annie E. Lounsbury, widow of G. A. Lounsbury, formerly a prominent merchant of Newcastle, while undergoing surgical treatment at Boston, was announced today.

RICHIBUCTO RICHIBUCTO, June 21.—The annual school meeting for Richibucto was held in the Temperance Hall Saturday morning. Rev. F. W. M. Bacon was elected to the chair. Compared with recent years there was a very large attendance, evincing the special interest that is being taken in educational matters. The secretary, R. W. Dyer, in the report of the trustees, showing an expenditure of $1,600 and $135 on hand. An assessment of $1,600 was voted for the next year. It was unanimously decided not to adopt compulsory attendance. Allan Haines, retiring trustee, was re-elected. The trustees were instructed to lease bonds for $500 at 5 per cent, and to call for tenders for same.

W. F. Lutes, the contractor for the new school building, is now at work at the foundation, and in about three weeks will begin active work on the building which is to be completed by Sept. 1st.

WOLFVILLE WOLFVILLE, June 20.—Avery DeWitt, who has passed successfully his final examinations in medicine and surgery at McGill, returned for a short visit to his home last Friday. He will go to Europe the latter part of June for a post graduate course.

Mrs. Bates and her daughter Marjorie leave Saturday for Sackville, where they intend spending the summer.

Mrs. J. G. Colter White and family left last Wednesday for Summerland, where they will join Mr. White, who went out early in the spring. A. R. H. Starr left Friday for C. R. to England.

NEWCASTLE NEWCASTLE, June 21.—Captains Moore and Anderson, who have had charge of the Salvation Army camp here for nearly a year, preached their farewell sermons last night. On —Beautiful weather and large crowds marked the second day's graduation exercises. All the visitors of last night were here, also Judge and Miss Lane, dry, Hector Landry and wife. Father Gourdin presided. One master of arts, four bachelors, letters and eight commercial diplomas were awarded. Hector Landry addressed the audience and spoke highly of the place the graduates of the university hold in the great west. He was listened to with rapt interest and warmly applauded. At the close an address to the graduates of the University. A mass of flags on all side, college colored of the graduating classes, pretty tablets of the ladies made a charming scene.

COLLEGE BRIDGE N. B. June 17

The exercises concluded at 11.30. All went to the university chapel, where solemn benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, followed by the chanting of the Te Deum, was given. The visitors and parents were guests of the faculty at dinner.

Students are leaving for their homes by every train. The following is the list of those receiving degrees, premiums and diplomas:

Master of Arts—Hector L. Landry, B. A. Barrister, Edmonton, Alberta. Bachelor of Arts—Léon-Louis J. LeBlanc, Dorchester, N. B.; Louis M. McDonald, St. John, N. B.; William H. Ryan, St. John, N. B.

Bachelor of Letters—Camille E. Gaudet, St. John, N. B.

Commercial Diplomas—Walter J. Redmond, New York, N. Y.; Thomas P. Flood, St. John, N. B.; George Langlois, Matane, P. Q.; L. Andrew St. Kitts, B. W. I.; Joseph N. cis A. Haggerty, New York, N. Y.; Irene L. Gaudet, St. Joseph, N. B.

Philosophy Premium—Ten dollars in gold presented by The Right Reverend T. Casey for excellence in philosophy 2nd year, awarded to William M. Ryan, St. John, N. B.

Honorable Mention—LeBaron J. LeBlanc.

Relly Premium—Ten dollars in gold presented by E. A. Relly, B. A., Barrister, Moncton, N. B., awarded to LeBaron J. LeBlanc, Dorchester, N. B., for excellence in English composition.

Honorable Mention—William M. Ryan.

Apologetics Premium—Set of books presented by the Very Reverend G. A. Dion, C. S. C. Provincial for excellence in the class of Apologetics, awarded to William M. Ryan.

Honorable Mention—LeBaron J. LeBlanc.

Business Class Premium—Five dollars in gold presented by the Very Reverend Canon Lepelletier, Montreal, P. Q., for excellence in business class, awarded to Walter J. Redmond, New York, N. Y.

Honorable Mention—Thomas C. Pickard, George M. Flood.

American Penman Awards—Presented by the N. B. Penmen's Co., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for proficiency in rapid muscular movement penmanship, merited by: George M. Flood, St. John, N. B.; Francis A. Haggerty, New York, N. Y.; Richard S. Ramirez, Havana, Cuba; Francis H. Bourgeois, Edmundston, N. B.; Walter J. Redmond, New York, N. Y.

The valedictory was delivered by LeBaron John LeBlanc of Dorchester, N. B.

"For the class of 1909 this day has a strange, sad significance. Now we must leave the scenes of school life; now must we tear ourselves all the ties that hitherto have bound us as one, and solemn; at air of pensive loneliness sat upon her and satisfied his soul. Drop by drop he would never leave her side, if she would have it so. And far up the avenue Alice Macey vanished in the crowd.

"Miss Bancroft blushed. "Something nice, Bobby?" she asked.

"But, thank goodness, there is yet time," resumed Gordon. "I want to say, Betty, that you are the only one."

"Go on, Bobby," pleaded Miss Langham, all lovingly, cuddling earnestly. "What creature is that?" asked Gordon breathlessly, starting into the next year.

Miss Langham frowned. "Oh, that's my cousin, Miss Harper, from Vancouver. She's a very nice girl."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

FREDERICK ROBINSON HIS LIFE AT WEST

RESULT OF Y

The pretty suburb of Westlock and the surrounding district were thrown into gloom yesterday by a sad drowning accident in which Fred L. Robinson, a promising young man of this city lost his life. The disaster was a peculiar one. Mr. Robinson being knocked from the boat into the river as the result of a collision. Despite the heroic efforts of a companion, L. G. Sinclair, to rescue him, Robinson went down for good.

Frederick Robinson is employed on the gun counter in the W. H. Thorne & Co.'s establishment. In company with Mr. Sinclair and two others he secured a boat and anchored above Westfield wharf for the night. The boat, owned by Charles Elwell and sailed by James I. Hooten and Harold Stone anchored near the other boat. The boat then had gotten under way early yesterday morning when she collided with the smaller boat. It is stated she struck the boat on two occasions. Robinson went to endeavor

"The world knows nothing of its greatest men." Contemporary history has hardly given a more remarkable illustration of a famous person than is suggested by the death of Herr von Holstein.

For a long generation he had been the familiar figure of the German Foreign Office, and to some extent regarded as the weaker sort of underlings by notoriety.

For the findings that minister to ordinary vanity this to a man of his caliber not a jot. Enough for him that the patterns upon the Gobelins tapestry should be so much admired for themselves that the world should feel that ask what weaving fingers were hidden behind the stuff. He sought for the substance of effective life, as he understood it. He despised the show. In an age of sensationalism he had until recently the distinction of being less known in proportion to his importance than any other individual playing a potent role in the world's affairs.

That distinction was supreme of its kind. Herr von Holstein was in his own way a master. This industry exerted more than any other immense knowledge, his personal will and initiative, was mighty and omnipotent. He had a sense of history, which other statesmen of his time had not. He might count on the fingers of one hand the number of his contemporaries who were not inferior to him.

Even before Bismarck's fall his ability and force of character were such that he counted for a good deal in the Wilhelmstrasse. After that event, when he was in the position of being the only person who knew the whole secret of the iron chancellor's mind and tradition, it might have been said of him that he was not so much part of it. The entirety of his whole institution seemed to be incorporated in him.

"Conscientious, indefatigable, impatient, jealous, rivalry and impatient of opposition, and a man whose mind in every sphere was so continuous and so active as his own, he went his way; he had his way; and when he came to it no longer he quitted the scene. Circumstance and his own bitterness induced him at last when he had reached the position of being the only man in the world who knew the secret of the iron chancellor's mind and tradition, it might have been said of him that he was not so much part of it. The entirety of his whole institution seemed to be incorporated in him.

To this day remains something enigmatical, almost uncanny, in the extraordinary contrast between the magnificent and force of this man's political work and the modesty and obscurity of his personal life. The inner circles of every capital were acquainted with his name, and he was a name to mention with respect for an eternity!"

"Betty," began Gordon, his voice trembling. "I have mistaken on the verge of making a fatal mistake—one that would have affected my whole life, and yours."

"But, thank goodness, there is yet time," resumed Gordon. "I want to say, Betty, that you are the only one."

"Go on, Bobby," pleaded Miss Langham, all lovingly, cuddling earnestly. "What creature is that?" asked Gordon breathlessly, starting into the next year.

Miss Langham frowned. "Oh, that's my cousin, Miss Harper, from Vancouver. She's a very nice girl."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

HEER VON HOLSTEIN MAN BEHIND

RESULT OF Y

The pretty suburb of Westlock and the surrounding district were thrown into gloom yesterday by a sad drowning accident in which Fred L. Robinson, a promising young man of this city lost his life. The disaster was a peculiar one. Mr. Robinson being knocked from the boat into the river as the result of a collision. Despite the heroic efforts of a companion, L. G. Sinclair, to rescue him, Robinson went down for good.

Frederick Robinson is employed on the gun counter in the W. H. Thorne & Co.'s establishment. In company with Mr. Sinclair and two others he secured a boat and anchored above Westfield wharf for the night. The boat, owned by Charles Elwell and sailed by James I. Hooten and Harold Stone anchored near the other boat. The boat then had gotten under way early yesterday morning when she collided with the smaller boat. It is stated she struck the boat on two occasions. Robinson went to endeavor

"The world knows nothing of its greatest men." Contemporary history has hardly given a more remarkable illustration of a famous person than is suggested by the death of Herr von Holstein.

For a long generation he had been the familiar figure of the German Foreign Office, and to some extent regarded as the weaker sort of underlings by notoriety.

For the findings that minister to ordinary vanity this to a man of his caliber not a jot. Enough for him that the patterns upon the Gobelins tapestry should be so much admired for themselves that the world should feel that ask what weaving fingers were hidden behind the stuff. He sought for the substance of effective life, as he understood it. He despised the show. In an age of sensationalism he had until recently the distinction of being less known in proportion to his importance than any other individual playing a potent role in the world's affairs.

That distinction was supreme of its kind. Herr von Holstein was in his own way a master. This industry exerted more than any other immense knowledge, his personal will and initiative, was mighty and omnipotent. He had a sense of history, which other statesmen of his time had not. He might count on the fingers of one hand the number of his contemporaries who were not inferior to him.

Even before Bismarck's fall his ability and force of character were such that he counted for a good deal in the Wilhelmstrasse. After that event, when he was in the position of being the only person who knew the whole secret of the iron chancellor's mind and tradition, it might have been said of him that he was not so much part of it. The entirety of his whole institution seemed to be incorporated in him.

"Conscientious, indefatigable, impatient, jealous, rivalry and impatient of opposition, and a man whose mind in every sphere was so continuous and so active as his own, he went his way; he had his way; and when he came to it no longer he quitted the scene. Circumstance and his own bitterness induced him at last when he had reached the position of being the only man in the world who knew the secret of the iron chancellor's mind and tradition, it might have been said of him that he was not so much part of it. The entirety of his whole institution seemed to be incorporated in him.

To this day remains something enigmatical, almost uncanny, in the extraordinary contrast between the magnificent and force of this man's political work and the modesty and obscurity of his personal life. The inner circles of every capital were acquainted with his name, and he was a name to mention with respect for an eternity!"

"Betty," began Gordon, his voice trembling. "I have mistaken on the verge of making a fatal mistake—one that would have affected my whole life, and yours."

"But, thank goodness, there is yet time," resumed Gordon. "I want to say, Betty, that you are the only one."

"Go on, Bobby," pleaded Miss Langham, all lovingly, cuddling earnestly. "What creature is that?" asked Gordon breathlessly, starting into the next year.

Miss Langham frowned. "Oh, that's my cousin, Miss Harper, from Vancouver. She's a very nice girl."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

"Excuse me for one moment, please," asked Gordon.

Later in the evening the lovely Miss Harper from Vancouver listened to the declaration of an acquaintance of an hour, who compared his affection to the stars of heaven. "But go on, Bobby—you were saying."

CASTORIA. The Kind You're Always After. Sold by all druggists.