handed down an important de-cision last week affecting Brant-ford railways. The decision vir-tually gives the Lake Erie & Northern railway pribrity of rights over the Brantford street rights over the Brantiord street railway at the crossing in the Holmedale, despite the fact that the street railway was the first occupant of the ground. The Dominion commissioners held that the street railway enjoyed that the street railway was the first occupant of the ground. no further rights than an ordin ary pedestrian. The represen-tatives of the street railway contended that they had the right from the municipality to run through trains and freight on that line from Brantford to Paris, but the commissioners could not see that this helped their case any. Accordingly, the Holmedale street cars must stop when there is an approach of a L. E. & N. train unless the Dawson. Public Funeral Not Possible Owing to Nature of Bodies.

DAWSON, N. M., Oct. 27— B roon to-day 132 of the victims of th Stag Canon Mine No. 2 disaster had been buried. The major portion of the bodies now being recovered are n such condition that they cannot be shipped or laid out in the morgue for public funerals as was the case with the first two score. Health officers are using vigilance to see that the sanitation of the town is not paired. Rescue men who bring th odies from the mine are subjected to disinfectants after each trip. Bodies are taken to the cemetery directly from the temporary morgue at the mine and if identification is possible members of the dead miners' families are not permitted to view them. The Park Board consider it essential that the necessity of a new City Hall be made a means of beautifying Brantford. Having for so many years suffered the reproach of a disreputable building and accessories, the people are now entitled to have a settlement of the present question on such lines as will add beauty and dignity to the city. This can only be done by bringing to the consideration of the question an open mind and a readiness to do what is best, and then unite to do it. and then unite to do it.

The meeting will likely be held about the middle of November, of which further notice will be given.
