HAINFORD-DAVIS
A very pretty wedding was celebrated on Thursday evening when Miss Eva Davis and Mr. William Hainford were united in the bonds of holy matrimony by the Rev. Archdeacon Mackenzie. The bride, who looked charming in a dress of blue silk and wearing a necklace of Ambric beads with roses, was given away by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor.

HARDING-BOUDLER
A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. James Anglican Church Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, when Madred Angela, youngest daughter of Mr. E. P. Boudler, Grandview, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Herbert Lloyd Harding, of Mr. and Mrs. H. Harding, St. George Road.

The bride, who looked charming in a suit of blue silk poplin and white felt hat, entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Louise Gauden. Miss Annie Harding, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, while Mr. William Mail of Hamilton, supported the groom, Rev. Mr. Soiday officiating.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, where the guests sat down to a dainty repast, after which the happy couple left on the G. T. R. for Montreal and Quebec cities. Many beautiful gifts were received, showing the high esteem in which they were held. Mr. and Mrs. Harding will be home to their friends after October 1st.

ARMSTRONG-WILKES.

Logic Armstrong of Montreal. The ceremony took place in the historic St. Margaret's Church, adjoining Westminster Abbey, the parish church of the House of Lords and Commons. The non-com. of the War Office to which the groom is attached, formed a guard of honor for the bride party. The room was decorated by Captain Walter Craighton of Montreal, formerly of Brantford, who arrived in England just in time to act in the capacity of groomsman. The fair bride, crowned in white embroidered net over satin and wearing the conventional veil, carried a beautiful shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley, entered on the arm of her father, Lieut. Col. Wilkes, who gave her away. Miss Gwendolyn Wilkes, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, becomingly attired in shell pink with large black velvet pointed hat, with crown of pink and carried pink roses.

He has a fiance and for aught he knows he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley, instead of being the unrecognized son of his father. In the same hospital there is a Sister Ursula, the Grandfather, grandson, father and mother mutually recognize each other and all round happiness is served out, when the self-sacrificing Sister faces herself in the interests of and for the happiness of her son and former husband.
