POTATO SPIRIT

To Supersede Gasoline in Course of Years.

When the oil wells are exhausted, hat will the poor motorist do for led to run his car? The question may men to be much on the line of "what all we do when the sun has burned itself out?" It is recorded that pec-ple have actually gone insane think-ing of the eternal darkness in which the world will be plunged when the sun is extinguished. There are no cases on record as yet of motorists going insane over the prospect of losing their gas supply.

Yet the extinction of oll and the by-products thereof is far more likely to happen than the extinction of the sun. The limit to the supply of oil has actually been figured out to the year, and it would seem that fifty years from now some new source of supply for gas must be looked for. A prominent chemist to-day, discussing the future gas engine fuel, predicted that the new fuel for motors will be potato spirit. Much as can sugar will be the growth of the potato spirit industry. The chemist stated there have been very successful experiments with the potato spirit fuel, and though the process has not been perfected to the extent to make the project a commercial possibility, it will take but a few years to produce it from the humble spud in quantities to enable competition with gasoline. There is one thing certain, potatoes will have to reach a lower commercial level than at the present time to make the production of the spirit a paying proposition.

If the fruit grower, vegetable grower, or flower grower does not spray nowadays, he is almost certain to have inferior products in his orchard, small fruit plentation and garden. There are so many injurious insects and diseases which affect a la_e proportion of the pir tr he grows that if they are uncontrolled there will either be no crop left or else the value of the crop will be very much reduced.

There are few of hese insects and diseases which canont be well controlled there will either be no crop left or else the value of the crop will be very much reduced.

There are few of these insects and diseases which cannot be well controlled there will either be no crop left or else the value of the crop will be very much reduced.

There are few of these insects and diseases which cannot be well controlled by using some of the remedies which have been discovered during the past twenty-five or thirty years and which have been well tested by many experiments.

Spraying must, however, be thoroughly done if good results are to be obtained. Materials are expensive, and the cost of labor is high and money will be wasted if the wor is improfruit plentation and garden. There perly done or not done as a rule time.

The early sprayings are, as a rule the most important and those who contemplate spraying as all should who have orchards or gardens, chould get everything in readiness, to begin at the right time as delay may mean much loss. Spray Calendars are issued by the Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture, in which several sprayings are recommended to sued by the Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture, in which several sprayings are recommended to be applied a. certain stages in the development of the leaves, flowers and fruit. In the case of fruit trees the spray should be applied so that every leaf, bud, and fruit will, if possible, receive some of the material, not only on one part of it but as nearly all over as possible. Every leaf, flower and bud, or young fruit missed means a possible, starting point for disease or insect? In the case of vegetables prout bees in the application of a good spray is just as important as with fruits. One does not need to be convinced of the value of promptness in using poison in controlling the Colorado potato beetle as the resuits of the spray are immediately apparent in the death of the "bugs," but more faith is required when dealing with diseases and invects which are not so readifynseen but which do much harm and usually the grower is well rewarded for such faith.

The formulae for the mixtures and solutions recommended should be followed as closely as possible. If a man knows the chemical composition of the material, he uses, and has made a study of spraying, he may after them slightly to meet certain circumstances, but if he knows little about them he should follow closely the instructions given on the Spray Calendar. He should, also, spray as nearly as possible: the time suggested. A delay of a few cays may mean practically the loss of the mixture or solution to either the Dominion or Provincial Departments of Agriculture for a Spray Calendar.—W. T. THE AERIAL AGE.

British Scientist Paints a Rosy

A distinguished British scientist has painted a fascinating, imaginative picture of the "ossibilities of air traffic in the near future. He predicts a time when the traveler from London will save three days in the journey to New York, 11 days in the journey to India and 23 days in the journey to Australia; when airplanes will cover a regular average of 1,200 miles a day and when raffic will be regula-ted in series of air levels of 2,000 ted in series of air levels of 2,000 feet each; private planes up to 2,000 feet; commercial mackines in the next level; "ordinary flying," together with the fast commercial machines, in the next; then the official planes next level; "ordinary flying," together with the fast commercial machines, in the next; then the official planes of each nation (from 6,000 to 10,000 feet), including those of the air police, who will drop down on offenders in the lower depths; and finally the levels above 10,000 feet which will be used for international travel.

This scientic believes that there will be such a tremendous increase of air travel that it is already time to consider how routes shall be defined
