THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., NOV. 27, 1896.

Local and Provincial.

Rev. T. Trotter, of this town, and Rev. A. A. Shaw, of Windsor, will exchange pulpits on Sunday next.

Advertisers who will require additional space for the Christmas season will do well to speak for same as soon as possible, as our columns will soon be crowded.

A recital by the pupils of Acadia Seminary will be given in Alumnae Hall, Friday evening, Oct. next week. An excellent programme will no doubt be given.

Rev. Dr. Gordon, of St. John, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church on Sunday evening last. His sermon was a very able one, and was greatly enjoyed by those present.

Your choice of fifty Hats at Caldwell's for $1.00; marked down from $2.75.

There has been quite a stir in shipping at this port during the past week. A number of vessels have been loading and unloading at the wharves, which have presented a business-like appearance.

The plant of the defunct Wolfville Steam Laundry was sold at auction on Monday last. It was purchased by a Mr. Wilson, of Halifax, who moved it away to that city. Wolfville has thus lost an important institution.

Thanksgiving was celebrated in Wolfville with the usual solemnity. The stores were closed, and services were held in most of the churches, giving the residents an opportunity of getting clear of their expensiveness thankfulness.

Belle's Boots are the best, and can be had at Caldwell's.

An error occurred in the adv. of F. B. Newcombe, of Kentville, in last issue by which the price of the special lot of Ladies' Jackets advertised was made to read $16.00 in place of $6.00. We regret the mistake, and hasten to correct it.

Gasperson Division paid a visit to Wolfville Division on Monday evening. There was a goodly attendance of the members of both societies present, and an enjoyable evening was spent. The two Divisions united in presenting an excellent programme of music, readings, dialogues, speeches, etc.

Leading styles Men's and Women's Rubbers at Caldwell's.

The first jingle of sleigh bells was heard on our streets on Sunday morning. Two or three inches of snow having fallen the night previous upon a frozen surface, and the weather continuing cold over Monday, many vehicles on runways were in use. On Monday night however, rain set in and the snow soon vanished.

Something new in the Flannellette line—"Swanikin Flannel." We have it, Pink, Blue, Cream, Grey, and Red. It is warm and very pretty; only 13c. Regular line in Flannellette only 4c, 5c, 10c, 12c. Usual prices of these goods 5c, 10c, 12c and 15c. We also have the prettiest things in Eastern, Royal Denims, Mottled Cloths, and Gilt Crapes, for sofa pillows, draperies, curtains and fancy work. Prices 12c, 20c, 25c, 30c and 35c. These goods were ordered especially for the Xmas trade. One dozen Fur Capes to arrive this week. Each value never before known. Look out for prices. Secure a stylish jacket for $6.00, before they are all gone.
